SOVIET REGIME LOOMS FOR CHILE AS REVOLT BY NAVY BRINGS CHAOS

ARTILLERY REFUSES TO FIRE UPON CRAFT

Settlement With Sailors, "In Principle," Is Claimed by Government.

Buenos Aires, Sept. 3 (U.P.).—A telephone message from Santiago tonight said the threat of Communism in Chile was increasing at such a pace that the establishment of a Soviet republic in that country had become a strong possibility.

This followed press dispatches direct from the Chilean capital which indicated that Communist groups were continuing the uprising despite the government's announced settlement with one section of the mutinous navy at Coquimbo.

Santiago, Chile, Sept. 3 (U.P.).—The government declared a state of siege in Santiago Province tonight a few hours after announcing settlement of a naval mutiny which began at Coquimbo and spread to other branches of the fighting forces.

Government Position Dangerous.

Threats of general strikes, Communist agitation among laborers and street clashes in the capital and other important cities made the government's position dangerous despite the willingness of the naval mutiny leaders at Coquimbo to return to normal duties.

The efforts of communist leaders to take advantage of the Government's position appeared to be the most serious threat to the cabinet, although it was pointed out that a settlement with the Military and Naval Forces, which control the most modern war fleet in South America, would guarantee suppression of disorders.

Communists recently have been strengthened by the financial collapse inherited from the deposed regime of Gen. Carlos Ibanez and the sailors' mutiny against proposed pay reductions spurred agitation among the workers, many of whom supported the revolt.

Censorship Established.

Garrison commanders were authorized tonight to accept volunteers with or without military training. The volunteers will receive essential instruction, but will not wear uniforms. They will be chosen with care and requested to take an oath of fidelity to the Army and to pledge maintenance of public order.

Indalecio Tellez was appointed commander in chief of the combined carabineers, military forces and air forces in the province and a government decree prohibited the gathering of crowds on the street after 9 p. m. No one may leave Santiago, except by train, without a special permit. Newspapers and news messages were placed under censorship throughout the nation.

The capital was tense, but there was no disorder following a few clashes early this evening. Valparaiso also was reported calm. Some business houses had closed their doors as a precaution against disturbances.

Settled "In Principle."

Unofficial sources said the settlement with the Coquimbo mutineers, achieved by Rear Admiral Eduardo von Schroeder, was "in principle" and that various details remained to be cleared up. Some of these con-

U. S. Business Men In Chile Discuss Crisis

Santiago, Sept. 3 (U.P.).—United States Ambassador Culbertson tonight called a meeting of American business men in Santiago to discuss the present Chilean crisis. The ambassador denied reports that the United States was planning to send warships to Chilean waters.

The manager of the Electric Bond and Share Co., branch of General Electric, received a warning tonight that the light plant might be blown up. He moved his office to a hotel.

Lindberghs Will Leave Island Empire for China

Tokyo (Friday), Sept. 4 (U.P.).—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh plan to continue their vacation tour about September 10, and will go direct to China, it was revealed here today.

Aviation authorities announced they were permitting the Lindberghs to fly from Tokyo to Kagoshima by way of Osaka. The couple will go from Kagoshima to China across the Eastern Sea. It was understood they have definitely decided to visit Nanking, the capital.

Graf Zeppelin Leaves Brazil on Flight Home

Pernambuco, Brazil, Friday, Sept. 4 (A.P.).—The Graf Zeppelin took off for Friedrichshafen, Germany, at 2:40 a. m. (12:40 a. m., E. S. T.) today on her homeward voyage across the Atlantic.

Baker Favored in '32 By Democratic Editors

Magazine's Poll Shows Most See Roosevelt Victor, However.

New York, Sept. 3 (U.P.).—A majority of Democratic newspaper editors favor Newton D. Baker as the party's presidential nominee, but believe Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York will win the nomination, a survey by the Outlook and Independent revealed today.

The magazine said no editor included in the poll favored the nomination of "an out-and-out dry." In the survey were 142 Democratic and independent newspapers, with at least two from each of 34 States.

On a preference basis 1) delegates to the Democratic national convention would be distributed as follows:

Baker—325.
Roosevelt—210.
Owen D. Young—117.
Alfred E. Smith—54.
Melvin A. Traylor—46.
James A. Reed—30.
Albert C. Ritchie—22.

Actually, however, the editors believe Roosevelt will go to the convention with 688 delegates, 46 short of the two-thirds required for nomination. Editors in all the crucial States—New York, Ohio, Illinois, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri and Maryland—believe Roosevelt will win.

YOUNG MACDONALD STANDS BY FATHER

He and Son of Lloyd George Given Posts in New British Regime.

London, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—The cabinet today put the finishing touches to its economy and new taxation program and filled the remaining ministerial posts, awarding an undersecretaryship to Malcolm MacDonald, son of the prime minister.

The selection of young MacDonald, who got the post of dominions undersecretary, was the cause of widespread satisfaction on personal grounds.

The story of how his father almost begged him to disregard family ties and line up with the bulk of the Labor party against the national government has touched public imagination.

Maj. Gwilym Lloyd George, son of the Liberal leader, who is little known to the public but is regarded in political circles as a hard-working member of the House of Commons, received the post of parliamentary secretary to the board of trade.

Another comparatively young man, Maj. Oliver Stanley, became undersecretary to home office. In him many political observers see the future leader of the Conservative party and, perhaps, a prime minister of England.

Two men prominent in social as well as political circles were among the Conservative appointees. They are Maj. Alfred Duff Cooper, husband of the famous beauty, the former Lady Diana Manners, who becomes financial secretary to the war office, and Sir Philip Sassoon, immensely rich and a personal friend of the U. S. Probes Convict Use On Music Goods Imports

(Associated Press.)

The Treasury is investigating a complaint by a large New York musical instrument house that certain small parts of musical instruments imported from France are manufactured by convict labor.

Assistant Secretary Lowman said yesterday that no evidence to support the charge was in the hands of the department, but that if investigation showed convicts manufactured the parts the imports would be barred. He did not reveal the name of the firm.

FLOODS ON YANGTZE THREATEN NANKING

River Dykes Near Capital of China Give Way; 100,000 Die in Ten Days.

Shanghai, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Great floods broke through the Yangtze River dykes today, threatening inundation of Nanking, China's capital, after having caused the deaths of approximately 350,000 Chinese recently and leaving many millions facing starvaiton.

Moving down from the sister cities, Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang, where more than a quarter million perished, the flood entered Wuhu, 50 miles up the river from Nanking. Four thousand were reported dead at Wuhu and 200,000 destitute and homeless.

Three dykes gave way near Nanking. Its western suburbs were flooded and thousands took refuge within the walled city of 400,000 inhabitants.

More than 1,000 refugees encamped on the walls, as the Yangtze rose, and efforts were made to strengthen the dykes.

The main floods were in two areas—along the Yangtze River and the Grand Canal, 40 miles northeast of Nanking. At least 100,000 persons were believed to have died in the past ten days as the canal overflowed, forming a great lake which swallowed several villages and flooded large cities.

Barcelona Is Dark After Fatal Riot

Electric Cables Severed; Church Fired and Bread Lines Form.

Barcelona, Spain, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Violent disorders arising out of a general strike today cut off Barcelona from the rest of Spain and tonight had plunged the city into darkness.

One dead and several seriously wounded were the casualties of street fighting that started after syndicalists had called the strike in protest against Civil Governor Anguera de Sojo's refusal to release political prisoners.

A mob set fire to a church, causing considerable damage, and a group in an automobile opened fire on police with a machine gun. Gangs went about the city cutting electric cables and telephone wires. Long bread lines formed. Police made frequent charges on rioters, firing over the heads of the people.

OUIMET GAINS SEMIFINALS IN U. S. AMATEUR

Former Champion Beats Jackson; Will Meet Howell Today.

M'CARTHY, WINNER, TO FACE WESTLAND

Former G. U. Star to Play Chicago Ace, Conqueror of Ducky Yates.

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor).

Beverly Country Club, Chicago, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Slim, scholarly Francis Ouimet, one of the old masters of golf at the age of 38, and swarthy, broad-shouldered Maurice J. McCarthy, jr., of New York, a born battler of the links, rode the crest of superlative play into the semifinals of the United States amateur championship today.

As a result of their two sweeping conquests in the 36-hole quarterfinals, the veteran Ouimet will match his skillful experience tomorrow against the youthful challenge of 19-year-old Billy Howell, Virginia State champion, while McCarthy tackles the brilliant Chicago district champion, Alfred J. (Jack) Wesland.

Improving apparently with age and as the tournament progresses, Ouimet reached the semifinals for the sixth time in the last nine years by trouncing the 21-year-old Kansas City bantamweight, Paul Jackson, 7 and 6.

Par 71 for McCarthy.

McCarthy forged his way to the "last four" by blasting out the finest round of the day, a par of 71, in the morning, and then surviving an afternoon slump to take the measure of California's last hope, Fay Coleman, of Los Angeles, 6 and 5.

Howell, a slim, blond Virginian, who has lost 8 pounds through the rigors of his first national tournament, won the right to play the great Ouimet by overcoming Lester Bolstad, of St. Paul, former public links champion, 3 and 2.

The young Southerner was two down in the morning, after his worst round of the championship, but rallied to win in the afternoon. Bolstad's game and stamina showed the effects of a sudden attack of indigestion, so severe that he was given an extra half-hour's rest before renewing a match in which he faltered groggily to the finish.

The hottest battle of the day was fought out to the last putt on the thirty-sixth green, where Westland finally beat off his 268-pound rival, Arthur (Ducky) Yates, of Rochester, N. Y., to win by 1 up. It was a terrific struggle throughout between two fine match players. At no time were they separated by more than two holes. The match was squared six times before Westland came through with a fine par 5 on the difficult 572-yard home hole, to settle the issue.

Sharply Contrasted Quartet.

The surviving quartet is one of the most sharply contrasting set of semifinalists that the ancient tournament has shown in many a year. Ouimet, who won his first and only amateur crown away back in 1914 and who has not been a finalist since 1920, has been competing for the championship oftener than all the other survivors put together. He is twice the age of his next opponent, Howell. He was open champion of the United States in 1913, when McCarthy and Westland, 24 and 27 years old, respectively, were romping around with the neighbors' children.

Three times in recent years Ouimet's path to the finals has been

PITTS CASE CHARGES GET SHARE IN BLAME

Five Counties Hit as State Takes Charge to Wind Up Affairs.

The Central Trust Co., of Frederick, Md., with eleven branches in five nearby Maryland counties, will not reorganize, but will liquidate its assets at once, George W. Page, State banking commissioner and receiver for the trust company, said last night.

This announcement came a few hours after Mr. Page had been appointed by the circuit court to conserve as much as possible for the depositors who have about $14,000,000 in the institution. The bank failed to open yesterday morning when its president, State Senator Emory L. Coblentz, who is under indictment here in the Smith case, announced that a large portion of its assets were "frozen."

It was revealed last night that about a third of the Frederick County funds were on deposit at the bank. Whether these were protected by a surety bond could not be learned. About $300,000 of State funds were protected by a special bond, however, as were $50,000 of Montgomery County funds in the Poolesville branch.

Statement by Page.

Previous to the liquidation statement by Mr. Page it was not known whether a reorganization would be attempted, or whether the bank would close out its business. Mr. Page, in announcing the plans for the bank, stated definitely that the suspension is not a reflection of the industrial or agricultural conditions in the county. So far the failure to open has not affected any other banks in the section.

The receivership was asked yesterday afternoon by W. Preston Lane, attorney general of the State, in a petition which cited the condition of the bank's assets as reason for its inability to pay all depositors at once. The bank at once answered the petition, admitting all the allegations, and Chief Justice Hammond Urner

Thomas Arrested As Strike Picket

Socialist Presidential Candidate in 1928 Jailed in Paterson, N. J.

Paterson, N. J., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for President of the United States in 1928, spent two hours in jail today while he and 45 others awaited arraignment on a charge of unlawful assemblage.

Thomas encountered legal obstacles when he attempted to champion, by picketing, the cause of 6,000 silk workers now in the sixth week of a protracted strike. He said he thrust himself into the silk workers' fight at the request of the American Federation of Labor.

He and his 45 companions, including two clergymen and a labor college president, were freed late in the day in $15 bail each.

New House Member Tells Hoover How to Save U. S.

Representative White, of Ohio, Advises President to Call Extra Session to Provide for Eight Billions Relief and Wine and Beer.

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD.

The average new member of Congress maintains a polite silence for a while. He is like a new boy in school. He may be convinced that he knows more than all the elder statesmen put together, but he doesn't say so. Instead he just sits there in the chamber—like Senator Dwight Morrow, of New Jersey, for example—and waits until he is sufficiently confident and acclimated to venture a maiden speech.

In contrast to the average new member is Wilbert M. White, of Ohio. Mr. White is the former editor of the Toledo Times, a comparatively young fellow of the go-getter type, and one with considerable charm. Last November he was elected to the House of Representatives, taking over a seat that had long been occupied by W. W. Chalmers, who, like himself, is a Republican.

Representative-elect White hasn't been sworn in yet by William Tyler Page, clerk of the House of Representatives. However, he doesn't see why that should prevent his giving advice to the President of the United States and telling him how to save the country.

With an audacity that must seem refreshing in these sorry days, Representative-elect White yesterday called on President Hoover and laid before him the big White plan—"a remedial program," to use his own words, "for our present national ills."

Representative-elect White proposed to President Hoover that he call Congress into a special session; that he ask Congress to authorize a Federal emergency fund of $8,500,000,000, and that he urge a modification of the Volstead act so as to permit the manufacture and sale of beer and wine.

It was Mr. White's attitude with regard to prohibition, incidentally, that had much to do with his election. Mr. White is a pronounced wet; the man he defeated, Mr Chalmers, was either a dry or not as wet as he should have been.

As he emerged from the President's office, Representative-elect White presented to reporters a copy of the statement he had laid before Presi-

Gold in U. S. Nears 5 Billion To Set Record for All Time

(United Press.)

United States gold stocks reached an all-time record just short of five billion dollars during the present week, the Federal Reserve Board disclosed last night.

Stocks of $4,998,000,000, reported yesterday, constitute almost half of the world's supply. The Federal Reserve Board estimated that the world's stock at the end of June was valued at $11,262,000,000.

Recently the board reported that the inflow to the United States apparently had been checked, but another movement has started which promises to carry United States gold stocks beyond the five billion dollar mark. Shipments last week from Japan, which sent $5,000,000, and China, Mexico and South American countries, which forwarded small amounts, accounted for the $6,000,000 increase during the week.

The previous high was $4,983,000,000 reported on August 20.

The continued movement of gold to the United States reveals that artificial measures taken to stop it, which took the form of lower discount rates in this country, have been futile.

The United States is not the only center of concentration. France has approximately $2,300,000,000, so that the two countries have the bulk of the world's supply.

GRAND JURY REPORTED INDICTING 5 POLICEMEN AND CLEARING STAPLES

Inspector Louis J. Stoll and Capt. William E. Holmes, of the First Precinct, who yesterday appeared before the grand jury to tell of their investigation of alleged beating of prisoners in the First Precinct Station House.

Third - Degree Findings Expected at Noon in First of Cases.

CHARGE OF FRAME-UP OF PATROLMAN HINTED

Naming of Plot Instigators, However, Is Not Regarded as Probable.

The District grand jury today will present to Justice F. Dickinson Letts in the District Supreme Court two reports which probably will cause a sensation.

One of them, it is predicted, will state that former Patrolman Orville Staples was discharged from the Police Department on "framed" testimony, and the other will contain a lengthy excoriation of third-degree methods in five separate cases as a result of a speedy investigation launched at the request of President Hoover following an expose by The Post.

One report was that the grand jury will indict two policemen for brutally assaulting prisoners, and will name three others as accessories.

The grand jury's statement in the Staples case will not mention the instigators of the alleged plot by which the erstwhile Third Precinct patrolman was forced off the force, but it will clear him of the allegations upon which his dismissal was based, it was said.

Findings Expected at 12:30.

The reports are based upon investigations under the Department of Justice and United States Attorney Leo A. Rover, who presented to the jury facts that had been unearthed by agents of the Department of Justice.

The reports, which are expected at 12:30 p. m., will come just thirteen days after James Henry Harker, youthful baker, made his sensational charges in The Post that he was badly beaten by First Precinct policemen as they questioned him in connection with a housebreaking case.

A tense crowd, drawn by the widespread public interest in the many allegations of police brutality, will probably be in the courtroom as the grand jury makes public its findings.

There are strong indications that indictments will be returned when the grand jury makes its reports this afternoon.

Four policemen were suspended from the force on the strength of Harker's charges. These men are Precinct Detective James Mostyn and Policemen W. C. Groomes, William R. Laflin and William T. Burroughs. When the grand jury investigation first started officials intimated that some of these men were accused in other of the five cases presented to the jury.

Inquiry Over at 2:45 P. M.

A fifth member of the Metropolitan Police force is also involved, but United States Attorney Leo A. Rover, who presented the cases before the grand jury personally, declined last night to reveal his name.

Mr. Rover said he would have no comment to make in this connection until after the grand jury report was made public. He also said that, although this policeman was mentioned in connection with the investigation several days ago, no official of the police department had made any attempt to find out his name or to suspend him from duty.

The grand jury completed its investigation of the five "airtight" cases at 2:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon after hearing the testimony of about 40 witnesses. About 27 additional witnesses who had not been heard in the case were on hand yesterday to add their testimony to the facts already elicited, but were excused unless recalled, shortly after the jury suspended operations for lunch.

When the jurors filed out, Mr. Rover made the simple statement that they had completed their work on the five cases, and had confined their investigation only along the line of possible criminal procedure in connection with the charges, although broader evidence had cropped up as a matter of course. The grand jury will meet today to draw up its special report and any indictments it may decide on.

The investigation completed yesterday clears the slate of "third de-

$800,000,000 ISSUE IS OVERSUBSCRIBED

Administration Still Seeks Plan to Balance Income and Expense.

(Associated Press.)

An oversubscribed bond issue yesterday relieved the Government of immediate financial worry but left administration officials still seeking a plan to bring disbursements nearer the level of the Treasury's income.

Another big issue of Government securities—bonds or Treasury certificates—to meet obligations falling due in December was regarded in informed circles as a distinct possibility.

Meanwhile, the administration's study of the fiscal situation continued. It is aimed at the elimination of all unnecessary disbursements and from it will come ultimately a decision by President Hoover on whether an increase in taxes is to be recommended to Congress.

In announcing that the $800,000,000 3 per cent bond issue offered on Monday had been oversubscribed in three days, the Treasury yesterday said the books would be kept open until the close of the week, so that mail subscriptions from distant points might be included when the issue is pro-rated among subscribers.

Officials do not expect the response will equal that for the $800,000,000 issue of last June, which brought in subscription totaling $6,400,000,000.

Receipts from the $300,000,000 of one-year Treasury certificates bearing 1½ per cent interest, also offered on Monday, will all go in exchange

Britain Lone Entry For Schneider Cup

France and Italy Are Not Able to Enter Speed Plane Contest.

London, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—England is to race against herself for the Schneider Cup September 12. The Royal Aero Club learned from France and Italy today that for reasons summed up as bad weather, bad luck and the loss of machines, those nations would be unable to compete in the famous air race, unless it could be postponed for six months.

The club replied the rules did not permit such postponement. The race, therefore, as an international event, is off.

British pilots, who have been practicing for weeks past in planes of great power and speed, will conduct a "flyover" a week from next Saturday by racing against one another, in the hope of lowering the speed record for the race, which now stands at 328.63 miles an hour. This record was set by Flight Lieut. Waghorn when Great Britain won the trophy two years ago.

PORTO RICAN FLOOD TOLL MAY REACH 200

River Sweeps Houses on Crest Against Bridge at Ponce.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Sept. 3 (A.P.) Floods, rising from heavy rainfall said to have been due to the cyclonic storm which has been hovering over the Atlantic in this region, destroyed a large amount of property at Ponce today and took a toll of many lives.

No accurate estimate of the number of persons drowned could be made tonight, although the newspaper La Democracia today placed the number at 200.

Police, the National Guard and other government agencies who searched for bodies all day were reported tonight to have recovered 30.

The chief of police at Ponce said it was impossible to get to the other side of the Portuguese River, down which the principal flood came, but it was probable additional bodies had been found there.

The flood came suddenly during the early hours this morning, following upon a downpour during the night, sweeping houses and huts along the river banks toward the Caribbean Sea. Many houses were jammed against the bridge leading to the harbor front at Ponce and some bodies were recovered there today. It was believed others were carried out into the Caribbean.

A total of 3.28 inches of rain fell during the 24 hours ended at 9 o'clock this morning.

Gov. Theodore Roosevelt today ordered all government agencies to render every assistance possible. He opened the Red Cross subscription with a personal check for $100.

The Indian River, which flows on the other side of Ponce, also was in flood, causing much property damage, particularly to warehouses.

The home of Jacobo Cayasss in the fashionable Alhambra section, reported to be the finest on the island, was greatly damaged.

Chindblom, Moving, To Run in New District

Chicago, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Carl R. Chindblom, Congress representative of the Tenth Illinois District since 1918, announced today a decision to move from the Rogers Park residential district to Evanston where he will be a candidate for Congress in the new Thirteenth District next year. The remapped thirteenth comprises the suburbs north of Chicago and all of Lake County.

$30,000 Extra Loaned Democrats by Raskob

(Associated Press.)

The Democratic national committee in its report to the House covering the last three months showed $30,000 in additional loans from Chairman John J. Raskob for the period.

The committee reported a balance of $9,785 on August 31. It listed as outstanding obligations a note of $422,900 from a New York bank and $325,250 due Chairman Raskob.

'Big Navy' Group Proposes $767,000,000 Ship Program

(United Press.)

The United States Navy League yesterday issued an appeal for a "minimum" American naval building program contemplating the expenditure of $767,000,000 during the next six fiscal years.

This announcement by the league, which is identified with the "big navy" interests, follows the recommendation Wednesday by Representative Will R. Wood (Republican), Indiana, chairman of the House appropriations committee, that Navy and Army expenditures be slashed in view of the billion-dollar Treasury deficit.

The league urged its program as a measure of unemployment relief and in order to "enhance our position" at the next international naval conference.

So great has been the neglect of the United States the league report said, both in maintaining its existing Navy and in bringing it up to treaty standard, that the creation of a treaty Navy by 1935, when the next conference is to be held, is practically impossible. The league, therefore, submits its own program, which is a frank minimum. The league

YORKTOWN HOLIDAY IS ASKED BY HOOVER

Proclamation Urges That October 19 Be Observed; President to Speak.

(Associated Press)

President Hoover will deliver an address at Yorktown, Va., on October 19, the 150th anniversary of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis.

The Chief Executive yesterday issued a proclamation calling for the observation of October 19 as a holiday. The proclamation said:

"Whereas October 19, 1931, is the 150th anniversary of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis, at Yorktown, which brought to an end the heroic struggle of our forefathers for political freedom and the ideals of liberty upon which our institutions are founded; and

"Whereas it is fitting that this momentous event in the history of our Nation be commemorated in such a manner as to inspire love of our country and devotion to its ideals by recalling to this generation the struggles of the past:

"Now, therefore, I Herbert Hoover, President of the United States of America, do recommend that appropriate religious ceremonies be held in the churches of the country on Sunday, October 18, 1931, in commemoration of that event and in thanksgiving for the blessings that have been bestowed upon the people of the United States, and

"Especially do I recommend that Monday, October 19, 1931, be fittingly observed in universities, schools and other suitable places, to the end that patriotic lessons may be drawn from the spirit of courage and self-sacrifice which animated our forefathers, and, further, I hereby direct that on that day the flag of the United States be appropriately displayed upon all Government buildings in the United States."

Officers Are Selected By New Business Body

The first meeting of the newly formed Brookland-Woodridge Business Association was held last night at the Masonic Temple at Twelfth and Monroe streets northeast, with approximately 60 business men of the section present.

A general discussion was followed by the election of officers and buffet supper. Officers elected were as follows: President, Paul F. Moore; vice president, J. L. Fowler; secretary, William H. Hessick, jr.; treasurer, M. J. Banks.

Typhoid Outbreak Claims Girl's Life

First Fatality Recorded in Washington Grove Milk Scare.

One death was reported yesterday in the typhoid outbreak in Washington Grove, Md., caused by polluted milk, according to Dr. William T. Pratt, Montgomery County health officer. The victim is Lucille Winifred Hargett, 14 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hargett. Two other members of the Hargett family have been stricken with the disease.

Eight cases had been reported altogether, all due to the pollution of milk at a nearby dairy farm by a "typhoid carrier" who was employed on the farm and who assisted in the afternoon milking which was delivered to the residents of Washington Grove. No cases had been reported from Gaithersburg, where the morning milking was delivered.

Other customers of the affected milkman have been inoculated with antityphoid serum. There is no further fear from the use of the milk at the dairy, the doctor pointed out, as the source of the pollution has been removed and forbidden under pain of penitentiary sentence to handle foodstuffs in any shape.

Charity Workers Confer on Relief

Volunteers of America Officers Lay Plans for Winter.

Col. Christopher C. Herion, regimental commander of the Volunteers of America, came to Washington yesterday to confer on local relief needs during the winter months with Lieut. Col. Frank H. Wise, chief of the local office of the Volunteers.

Col. Wise outlined to the regimental commander plans for enlarged activity during the winter to care for anticipated increase in relief. The local organization is preparing to house a larger number of unemployed at the relief building at 471 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, and is also preparing to serve a larger number of free meals than have been necessary during the summer.

Plans of the local office for winter relief were given the approval of Col. Herion, whose jurisdiction extends over the District, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Ohio. Col. Herion said that Volunteers in all cities under his command have found it necessary to prepare for increased work among the poor during the winter.

Pope Felicitated on Pact.

The Most Rev. Edward J. Hanna, Archbishop of San Francisco and chairman of the administrative committee of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, sent yesterday a cablegram of congratulations to Pope Pius XI upon the settlement of the difficulties between the Vatican and the Italian government over the Catholic Action organizations.

When Washington Was Younger—No. 34

BACK in the sixties the big muscle boys and those who wanted to have big muscles gathered at Brady's gymnasium on the top floor of three two-story buildings on the south side of Louisiana avenue, near Ninth street northwest.

There, under the guidance of Prof. Abner S. Brady, a big muscle and trapeze man, they swung tremendous Indian clubs and dumbbells and lifted weights. No handball and tiddledywinks gymnastics for these boys. Look at their muscles. And their hair. Remember Samson had lots of hair, a sign of strength, and he pulled down a temple.

The members of the gymnasium in this picture are, left to right, Frank Saxton, John Pugh, William P. Colgate, Thomas B. Nolan, Edward Droop, George W. Evans and Lucian D. Alden. Prof. Brady is seated in the foreground.

Brady's gymnasium is believed to have gone out of existence about 1870. This picture is the property of Edward Droop, jr., the son of the man shown in the group.

CONTINUITY SOUGHT FOR NATION'S TRADE

U. S. Chamber Body Studies Proposed Planning Board to Aid Jobless.

(Associated Press.)

Searching for a method of stabilizing employment, a committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce met here yesterday to consider proposals for creating a national planning board to promote continuity in business.

The committee has spent months in a preliminary study of the unemployment problem from the standpoint of working out a permanent program. The group headed by Henry I. Harriman, of Boston, met all day yesterday and was expected to continue its session today before its report would be complete.

While the chamber committee was deliberating, Walter S. Gifford, national relief director, was trying to complete his organization for carrying out President Hoover's program of national cooperation with local communities to eliminate unemployment distress during the coming winter.

Mr. Gifford has completed two of the three major committees which will handle the relief organization's activities, and was nearing completion of the third. Owen D. Young, of New York, and Harry A. Wheeler, of Chicago, were placed at the head of the first two groups.

The relief organization pushed forward with its national "back-to-school movement" designed to encourage young people to stay in school during the coming year instead of competing for jobs with heads of families.

The Nation-wide radio campaign, sponsored by the organization, was carried on in an address by Dr. Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools of Atlanta. The series of speeches was opened yesterday by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

The proposal for a national planning board was the principal subject under consideration yesterday by the chamber committee.

GRAND JURY REPORT IS DUE; EXPECTED TO ACCUSE FIVE

gree" cases, according to Mr. Rover, although he understands the Department of Justice is hard at work on a number of other cases, which involve new complainants and a number of policemen. The grand jury will turn its attention to other matters after today until the Department of Justice is ready to present these new cases, Mr. Rover declared.

There are a number of possibilities in the event indictments are returned. Should the evidence warrant those in question may be indicted for assault, which under the circumstances would be a felony, or as accessories, or as accessories after the fact.

The period just before the grand jury adjourned for the day was given over to the Police Department. Three members of the department were called to testify, the first uniformed men to go in the grand jury room.

Stoll First to Be Called.

Inspector Louis Stoll, commander of the First Inspection District, was the first member of the police department to be called. Inspector Stoll conducted the department's preliminary investigation into Harker's charges that he had been beaten with a rubber hose while in custody at the First Precinct Station. The grand jury kept him for 50 minutes.

After Inspector Stoll left, Capt. W. E. Holmes, commander of the First Precinct, was called before the jury. After Harker had made his charges, Capt. Holmes took 23 statements from men on duty during the time Harker was in custody, to the effect that none knew of any mistreatment the young man had received or had noticed anything out of the ordinary in his appearance when he was released from custody. Capt. Holmes remained in the grand jury room about 25 minutes.

Following his superior officers, Sergt. E. P. Myers, who was acting lieutenant on the night Harker was arrested, was called into the jury room. He was questioned for only a short time.

United States marshals and Department of Justice agents yesterday followed the same procedure they had Wednesday in regard to the close watch they kept over grand jury witnesses.

When the witnesses reported at 10 o'clock, they were again conducted to the Motions Court room, where they were guarded by Federal officers. When they were called to testify, they were again marched the length of the corridor under supervision of the marshals in order to prevent their talking with anyone.

Only four or five civilian witnesses were questioned yesterday morning, and at lunch time the remaining 22 were excused "until further notice."

The fact that so many corroborating witnesses were not called by the jury led observers to believe that evidence in the five cases was so conclusive that the jury felt it was needless to waste time with any but the key witnesses who testified Wednesday.

J. E. Hoover on Hand.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Bureau of Investigation, was with Mr. Rover and the grand jurors most of the time yesterday. He is keeping in close personal touch with both the grand jury proceedings and his bureau's investigation of third degree activities in the police department. John M. Keith, who is acting with Mr. Hoover in pushing the investigation, also spent much of his time with the grand jury.

During their attendance at the grand jury sessions, the Department of Justice investigation was conducted by Gus Jones, agent in charge of the San Antonio, Tex., branch office of the Bureau of Investigation, who was brought here last week to assist in the inquiry. It is understood that at least ten new cases of alleged brutality will be ready for action soon.

$5,000 Asked on Injury Caused by Falling Glass

An unusual accident was described in District Supreme Court yesterday when J. Lewis Shortridge, 1113 K street northwest, brought suit against Albert F. Mitchell, 815 Eighteenth street northwest, for $5,000.

Shortridge, proprietor of an automobile repair station at 416 L street northwest, alleged that Mitchell stood on the running board of an automobile in his establishment and shook a piece of glass from its place, and that this fell on his arm and cut it severely. The damages were asked on the basis of his medical bills and the claim that his arm had been permanently injured.

NAVY LEAGUE URGES 6 YEARS OF BUILDING

suggests a moderate program of $767,000,000.

It is estimated that building the Navy up to treaty strength would cost $1,004,000,000.

The league's program calls for deferment of construction of destroyers and small gun cruisers, expected to effect a saving of $236,000,000, but advocates building 113 ships in other classifications at an average yearly cost of less than $140,000,000.

The league estimated that unless a comprehensive building program is begun immediately the United States Navy will in 1936 be 50 per cent below the limitations imposed by the London conference. The league report also said that in January of this year the Navy will be 20 per cent below its allowed strength.

G. O. P. EXPLANATION OF FUND USE ASKED

Tydings Says Party Chiefs Aided Bishop to Stir Religious Issue.

(Associated Press.)

Republican party leaders were said yesterday by Senator Tydings (Democrat), Maryland, to owe the country an explanation of the financing of 1928 campaign activities of Bishop James Cannon, jr.

In a statement through the Democratic national committee, Senator Tydings said testimony before the Senate campaign funds committee on the Southern Methodist churchman's bank accounts during his efforts to defeat Alfred E. Smith "revealed in the starkest fashion that the funds were supplied through the agency of Republican party chiefs."

"They were Republican campaign funds even when they were ostensible personal contributions from Messrs. Jameson, Frelinghuysen and Huston," he said.

Cites Funds Supplied.

"There is no particular surprise in this, but in what position does it leave the spokesmen of that party, in view of their vehement disclaimer during three years of any encouragement for or participation in the use of the religious issue in the Smith-Hoover campaign?"

Senator Tydings referred to testimony involving contributions to the Cannon anti-Smith campaign of $65,300 and $10,000 by Edwin C. Jameson, New York financier, and former Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, respectively, and a contribution of $5,000 to the North Carolina anti-Smith Democratic committee from the account of Claudius H. Huston, former Republican national committee chairman.

The Marylander, chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, said "the involved method of getting the money into Bishop Cannon's hands makes plain that the authors of the anti-Catholic crusade were ashamed of the job."

Says Slemp "Recompensed."

Testimony before the Nye committee, the senator said, revealed that Mr. Jameson had distributed "vast sums" to Bishop Cannon "on the solicitation of Bascom Slemp and the late James W. Good, * * *"

"Mr. Slemp's belated recompense was a billet to Paris as commissioner of the Washington bicentennial celebration with a $300,000 expense account," he continued.

Senator Tydings said the funds that financed Horace Mann, "Hoover's Southern campaign manager, and paid for the circulation of the anti-Catholic outpourings of the Ku Klux Fellowship Forum" may now be discovered.

Woman Identifies Soldiers in Theft

Two of Four Arrested on Robbery Charge Took Her $20, She Says.

Two of four soldiers from Fort Washington, Md., held for investigation by police of the Fourth Precinct in connection with the alleged assault and robbery of George Fendale, 460 H street southwest, last night were said to have been identified by Mrs. Dolly Russell, of 40 B street southwest, as the men who robbed her of $20.

The two soldiers, James R. Boyd, 21 years old, and Ira R. Jones, 24 years old, were arrested Wednesday night as they left Mrs. Russell's apartment. Mrs. Russell declared the men threatened her life if she notified police.

A lookout was broadcast for the soldiers after Fendale reported he had been beaten and robbed of $150. He said he was also warned not to communicate with police. The other soldiers held are George Gallaway, 21, and George Lickman, 22.

Kiwanians Pledge Gifford Their Aid

Resolution Is Adopted by Club; 97 Crippled Children Helped.

Chairman Walter S. Gifford, of the President's National Unemployment Relief Organization, yesterday was promised "all possible aid" from the Washington Kiwanis Club, in a resolution adopted at its meeting at the Washington Hotel.

Ninety-seven Washington crippled children received hospitalization or monetary aid from the club last month, Charles W. Pimper, chairman of its orthopedic committee, announced. Forty-five were treated at the club's clinic in Children's Hospital.

Alvin W. Hall, director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, was presented as a new member by Past President Mark Lansburgh. Eugene R. Woodson, Edwin F. Hill and Edgar Morris were named delegates to the Capital District convention to be held in Baltimore October 29-31, while Mr. Pimper, Frank Mitchell and Dr. O. U. Singer were named alternates.

PERU'S BANK TO RUN ON NEW PLAN TODAY

Proposals Made by Kemmerer Take Effect as Officers Are Selected.

Lima, Peru, Sept. 3 (U.P.).—The board of directors of the Central Reserve Bank today elected Manuel Olaechea president and Pedro Beltran vice president. Olaechea was finance minister in the provisional government of Sanchez Cerro after the revolution last year.

The board decided that the bank should begin functioning tomorrow along the lines recommended by Dr. Edwin W. Kemmerer, American economist who made a financial survey of Peru. His recommendations were embodied in the new reserve bank law.

According to the last bulletin of the bank, Peru's present fiduciary circulation amounts to 58,000,000 soles. The bank's gold holdings at New York amount to $6,300,000.

Reds Busy in Ecuador; Four More Rioters Die

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Dispatches from Quito today told of four more deaths among wounded in Tuesday night's riots, bringing the total dead to eleven.

Meanwhile, Communist organizers here were busy among workers in four different sections of the city today in an effort to stage a huge demonstration against the foreign match monopoly. A large group of striking workers marched through police-lined streets carrying red banners. Mounted police followed closely and were ready to charge at the least sign of trouble.

Restrictions on Catholics Are Increased in Mexico

Mexico City, Sept. 3 (U.P.).—Press dispatches today reported a spread of restrictions on Catholic religion from Vera Cruz to Chiapas State. El Universal reported that a new religious law, limiting the church to one priest for every 40,000 inhabitants, became effective in Chiapas yesterday. Many churches were reported to have suspended services. The law reduces the number of priests in the state to thirteen.

In Vera Cruz State, where a law permitting only one priest to every 100,000 inhabitants has been effective for several months, two demonstrations against the state government were held.

Priests Fined on Flag Order.

Merida, Yucatan, Mexico, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Four Catholic priests were detained by police today and ordered to pay fines or suffer imprisonment for failing to hoist the Mexican flag over their churches yesterday, a holiday. Under a recent federal order the flag must be flown over church and public buildings on holidays.

La Nacion's Sale to Workers Opposed.

Santiago, Chile, Sept. 3 (U.P.).—The government does not favor selling the official newspaper, La Nacion, to employes of the paper, an official communique to the Senate said today. Instead, the government wishes to receive bids from individuals for the valuable property.

Panama Rail Profits Decline.

Balboa, Canal Zone, Sept. 3 (U.P.).—An unofficial estimate today placed the profits of the Panama Railroad Co. for the fiscal year ended June 30 at $991,000. This is an estimated $500,000 under last year's profits.

Two Die in Rio Air Crash.

DEMOCRATIC EDITORS FAVOR BAKER IN 1932

"The number of pro-Baker editors," said the Outlook, "who asked that their opinion be treated as confidential would indicate that they will accept Roosevelt without protest although they believe the New York Governor far less able."

Most of Baker's support comes from States east of Illinois and north of North Carolina, while Roosevelt's strength is centered west of the Mississippi River.

Regarding Roosevelt's chances in the South, Thomas R. Waring, editor of the Charleston, S. C., Post, wrote:

"Roosevelt is well liked in the South, which would, I believe, accept him despite his antiprohibition views and the war that would be waged against him because of these by prohibition propaganda."

"I believe it is written in the stars," wrote Frederick Sullens, of the Jackson, Miss., News, "that Roosevelt will be the nominee. The Mississippi delegation will be for him despite his slight 'wetness.' Incidentally, we are not so darned 'dry' down here as the rest of the Nation believes us to be. Everybody who wants prohibition has it, and everybody who wants liquor gets liquor. We would all be wonderfully happy were it not for Hoover prosperity, boll weevils, excessive rains and putrid State politics."

Bank Cashier Wounded Seriously in Holdup

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Chauncey Williams, 45, cashier of the Bank of Angola, 20 miles south of here, was shot four times and seriously wounded today by one of two bandits who held up Williams and Justice of the Peace Robert I. Laverty, of Angola, on a lonely stretch of road just outside that village.

One bullet pierced Williams' neck and the other three entered his back. Justice Laverty was fired at by the other bandit, but escaped unhurt. The bandits made their escape in an automobile with Ohio registration plates.

Eugenie Started Plenty When She Wore That Hat

By JOHN J. DALY

FOR ten long lean years, life on a South African ostrich farm was unbearable. Not a feather fluttered. Then came the Empress Eugenie hat.

Paris, London, New York, and way stations, sent out the call for ostrich feathers. Immediately, the elongated birds in Africa and Arabia snapped their heads out of the sands while their owners faces no longer buried in their hands, weeping, started pulling tail feathers.

Business in the bird market began to pick up.

Now, according to the Commerce Department, in receipt of a trade report from Johannesburg, the ostrich feather industry is about to declare a dividend.

Thus an age-old occupation, feather-plucking, takes on new life. It is the clearest proof yet that the world is intricately corelated. A lady in Paris wants an adornment for her bonnet and an ostrich in South Africa loses a quill.

* * * *

FAIR femininity from time immemorial has kept the world going—in debt and out. First it was the fig leaf. Then, the feather. Necessaries of life mean nothing but existence. Luxuries make the merry-go-round.

Stylist, creating a new mode of fashion, can set more factories running than all the great inventors put together. Henry Ford designs a flivver and a Detroit is set in motion; but Andre, the French architect of the chapeaux, fashions a smart, new headpiece, and all the ostrich farms in the far-away countries stir out of their apathy. The wide, wide world of womanhood goes into action and all mankind steps lively, furnishing and paying for the new ornament.

Transportation speeds up. Steamships are packed to the gunwales with ostrich feathers, and mirrors reflect the glorious pageantry on the Champs Elysees, Pall Mall, Fifth and Connecticut avenues, and on Main street.

If this can happen to the ostrich feather business, there is hope for all others. Say, for instance, some one in the style mart shapes a new steel helmet for the fall. Immediately the New York stock market bounds upward, Steel the leader, and Pittsburgh becomes the Mecca for all the unemployed. Milady wearing a steel helmet can do more for the idle ingots than all the Government building programs and the re-railing of railroads put together.

* * * *

SHOULD wool become popular with the modistes—and there is a trend that way—all the hardware manufacturing plants will be set busy making shears for clipping sheep. The old shears have grown quite rusty.

O, milady, what a power! A feather in a cap and the wheels of industry race to keep up with the fashions.

An Empress of France, knowing no more of trade and its tribulations than Marie Antoinette knew about the use of bread, gives an impetus on a world-wide movement—from the ostrich farms of South Africa to the modiste marts of all the civilized nations. The ball starts rolling in Johannesburg and goes rambling on its rollicking way through Rio Janeiro, Port Said, Geneva and on to Jersey City.

Up to this time only a few ostrich plumes were needed for feather dusters. Now the incubator people are rushing to the front.

Like the awakening of the ostrich feather industry, anything can happen, any time, to anybody. Silly to hide heads, like the ostriches themselves, and fail to see what is going on in an exceedingly interesting world.

Lady, here's the bill for your hat.

HOME-BUILT PLANE THRILLS AT AIR MEET

Mail Pilot's Midget Aero in Races at Cleveland Places Thrice.

Cleveland, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—A modest pilot and his home-made plane injected pluck and color into the national air races today. He is Ben O. Howard, Chicago mail pilot, who drew the first spirited applause of the meet from the largest race crowd to date, estimated at 53,000 persons.

The spectators, who usually back a winner, gave their ovation in tribute to the sportsmanship and skill of the pilot though his wee white plane, propelled by a 4-cylinder engine, could not nose across the finish line first.

Howard, who is passing his vacation from flying a mail route by flying in the races, said: "Its all just a lark. Shucks, I've got a last year's plane and there is not much hope after seeing some of the speedsters that have been developed since."

Led By Howard.

It took the most consistent winner of the meet, however, John Livingston, Aurora, Ill. to lead Howard across the finish line in a 30-mile race.

Speed, enough of which has been given to the crowds to whet their appetites for more, was promised by Lowell Bayles, slightly built and quiet pilot from Springfield, Mass., who announced he would try to set a new world airplane speed record Saturday. An official 3-kilometer course will be laid out by the National Aeronautic Association for the attempt on the seven-year-old mark of 278.48 miles an hour set by the late Adj. Bonnet, of France.

Bayles, flashing five laps around a 10-mile course, showed the speed of his short, stocky sportster by beating all comers in a free-for-all race with an average speed of 206 miles an hour.

Midget Again Placed.

Again it was Howard in his tiny "Pete," which is so small that the mail pilot takes his shoes off to get in, who stood up under the grind, though the pace was so fast that three pilots withdrew. He came in third, barely 2 miles an hour slower than E. M. Laird, Chicago.

A. R. Wedell, Patterson, La.; R. L. Hall, Springfield, Mass., and Vernon C. Omlie, Memphis, Tenn., dropped out of the race. Hall cleanly shearing a foot from his left wing when he tipped a pylon.

Marines, giving their best in celebration of Navy Day and the double-header program necessitated by yesterday's rain, electrified the crowd with tactical maneuvers in nine planes, capped by a snake dance which wound its way through the skies, criss-crossing each other's trail until collisions seemed inevitable. On the criss-crosses, the timing was so perfect that each plane would dart between the tiny space separating two mates.

K. of C.'s Roman Work Doomed by New Accord

Rome, Sept. 3 (U.P.).—The work of the Knights of Columbus organization in Rome, headed by Edward L. Hearn, of Boston, has been doomed by the new Italo-Vatican accord restricting activities of Catholic clubs.

Officials of the Knights of Columbus playgrounds, which were closed when the government suspended the Catholic Action Society, said they faced the question of renouncing athletics and becoming part of the reorganized Catholic Action, or of continuing athletics as a part of the Fascist party organizations.

SUBSCRIPTIONS PASS GOAL OF BOND ISSUE

for part of the $634,000,000 in Treasury certificates maturing on September 15. The books on the certificate issue were closed Tuesday night after having been oversubscribed four times.

In December a total of $990,000,000 of certificates and Treasury notes are due. Already faced with a deficit of $400,000,000, it seemed certain that the financial branch of the Government would have to borrow large additional sums in December, for its operations until the income tax payments are received in March.

The Treasury was criticized from some sources because its entire $1,100,000,000 of September financing had not been in short-term paper, bearing only one-third the amount of interest which will be paid on bonds.

While officials would not comment formally on the criticisms they were known to feel that the critics did not fully realize the immensity of the task faced by the Treasury in handling its short term paper, raising money through borrowing to pay the expenses of the Government in laying the ground work for funding the $800,000,000 in first and fourth Liberty loan bonds which are callable in 1932 and 1933.

Beginning in the last few months of the last fiscal year, the Treasury has borrowed approximately $50,000,000 a week in short term bills upon which it has paid a very small interest rate. This financing has been carried on in such small amounts that it attracted but little attention. The amount of interest paid on this money is less than on any other form of security. At the end of June the average interest rate on all Government securities was 3.56 per cent.

The short-term debt which must be funded every twelve months now amounts to more than $3,000,000,000, and to make it any larger would prove embarrassing in that it would have to be paid in the period of depression, or funded, while at the same time additional new money would have to be raised to meet the Government requirements.

Man Is Freed in Death Of Mate; Another Held

Grayson, Ky., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Because of insufficient evidence to convict, James Evans was dismissed today when arraigned in connection with the death Tuesday of his wife, Mrs. Annie Evans, 33, whose almost decapitated body was found in a cornfield about a mile from the Evans home.

Harvey Shaeffer, 25, arrested on a charge of murder yesterday, faced arraignment later today. He was arrested after Mrs. Evans' funeral when officers said they learned he was at a store where Mrs. Evans made a telephone call prior to being killed.

The GIRL About Town

SUCH and amusing letter from Cynthia Davis, telling me about her glorious times as hostess for her father, the Governor General of the Philippines. It seems that they hold the doubles tennis championship for the islands, for Cynthia has inherited much of the parental skill with the racquet. They are coming back soon. I will bet a Chesterfield that Theodore Roosevelt will become Governor General of the Philippines.

We saw a sweet bud of Georgetown Revolutionary stock at luncheon at the Willard—Marbury Beall, descendant of that Ninian Beall who helped George Washington lay out the "Territory of Columbia." Another of Miss Beall's ancestors, for whom she is named, was the plaintiff in the celebrated case of Marbury vs. Madison, which drew from Chief Justic Marshall the decision which fixed forever the metes and bounds of the executive and judicial powers of the Government.

MET Daisy et al. Calhoun, shopping for travel togs, and she confided to me she was off for Paris to attend to the foreign rights on her new book, "Lafayette, the Knight of Liberty." While over there the indefatigable Daisy intends to ask Marquis de Chambrun, Lafayette's nearest descendant, to indorse the book. Mrs. Calhoun and "C. C." have had a happy summer at their woodland castle, Rossdhu, in depths of Braemar Forest, which, contrary to gossip, has not been sold at all. They have been giving fishing parties on their lake, which is well stocked.

Cynthia and I had tea at the Shoreham yesterday with some of last year's debutantes who are helping on the unemployment committees. It is the thing to do, you know. They were telling how they were helping to bring prosperity back to us. One of them hired a personal maid who could also cook, wash, iron and answer the doorbell. Another is having her hair waved twice, instead of once, a week only, and still another is eating all the candy possible in order to help the Cuban sugar growers. One girl said she was getting a job herself, so that her father could hire another man at his office with her allowance. Then she can give a ball this winter.

A SOCIETY reporter describes Mrs. Henry B. Joy as the "daughter" of former Senator Truman H. Newberry, of Michigan. Wait until Helen reads that! She will set the culprit straight. Helen Joy is the sister, and not the daughter of Senator Newberry, and a more devoted brother and sister are not to be found. Mrs. Joy is at Watch Hill now. All I have to say is that the Reds had better keep away from her watch fires. Mrs. Newberry is also at Watch Hill. I adore her wavy silver hair and wholesome pink cheeks.

Amateur Pilots' Race Is Held Up by Weather

Hicksville, N. Y., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—The amateur pilots' air race to the national air races at Cleveland was postponed today because of unfavorable weather.

The take-off of the fifteen men and women who fly for sport is now scheduled for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. They will fly straight through to Cleveland instead of making an overnight stop at Buffalo, as originally planned.

Three Die as Plane Hurtles Into Throng

Ferrara, Italy, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—A pilot and two spectators were killed today when one of 900 airplanes rising at the start of a parade to Bologna fell into a crowd.

The accident occurred after King Victor Emmanuel, Air Minister Balbo, Marshall Badoglio and the Duke of Acosta had reviewed Italy's air fleet, during Italy's first air maneuvers.

CALIFORNIAN NAMED TO COMMAND V.F.W.

Darold De Coe Is Nominated; Admiral Coontz Slated for Vice Commander.

Kansas City, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Darold De Coe, 41, Sacramento, Calif., attorney, was nominated today by the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the national encampment to succeed Paul Wolman, Baltimore, as commander in chief.

Although further nominations for all offices will be in order tomorrow prior to the elections, choice of De Coe is regarded as a foregone conclusion.

De Coe has been active in politics since 1923. He also has been interested in veterans' affairs since his discharge from World War service in 1919.

He is a past commander of the Lieut. Lansdale Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of Sacramento, and of the Department of Northern California and Nevada. At the national encampment in St. Paul in 1929 he was elected junior national vice commander.

Other nominations were: Admiral Robert E. Koontz, U. S. N., retired, Washington, D. C., senior vice commander; James Edward Van Zandt, Altoona, Pa., junior vice commander; Robert B. Handy, Kansas City, quartermaster general; George A. Henderson, Newark, N. J., and Ray McAdams, Fort Wayne, Ind., judge advocate general; Dr. Julian D. Lucas, Boston, and Dr. Harvey W. Snyder, Denver, Colo., surgeon general; the Rev. Claude E. Ireland, Minneapolis, national chaplain.

H. N. Duff, Lansing, Mich., was nominated to fill a vacancy on the board of trustees of the V. F. W. Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

The nominations, hearing of committee reports and action on resolutions, including approval of one urging the Federal Government to make no purchases of Soviet merchandise, occupied the afternoon session.

A specially appointed committee deferred until tomorrow its report of a resolution asked by vote of the delegates favoring immediate payment of adjusted compensation certificates and a refund of all interest charges.

(Associated Press.)

Administrator Hines, of the Veterans' Bureau, believes the Veterans of Foreign Wars will not make undue demands of Congress for compensation at this time.

Hines said he had, after a call at the White House yesterday, so advised President Hoover. He had just returned from addressing the annual encampment of the veterans.

Hines said he was aware of the resolution adopted by the convention favoring immediate full pay on bonus certificates and the refunding of interest on payments already advanced, but believed the action was the result of State delegations having been previously pledged to vote for such action.

Storm Menaces Dominican Coast

Port of Plata Is in Throes of Winds; Cuba in Path.

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—A violent storm near the Dominion coast tonight was menacing the region of Cibao, chiefly Samana Sanchez and the port of Plata. A heavy rain was falling here, accompanied by lightning.

Havana, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—A possibility that the storm which is hovering over the Atlantic north of the Dominican Republic might strike Cuba in Oriente Province, if it continues its present direction, was predicted by the National Observatory this afternoon.

The observatory issued a statement in which it said the storm was not of violent intensity, and that its diameter was so small as to make accurate predictions impossible.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Richard W. Gray, of the Miami Weather Bureau, said today if the storm should continue its present course and its present progress of approximately twelve miles an hour, it would probably pass through the Florida Straits some time Saturday, and its effect would be felt in extreme Southern Florida.

U. S. JOB BUREAU AID HITS JONES CHARGES

Chief of Veterans' Division Says Allegations Are Contrary to Fact.

John R. Alpin, supervising director of the United States Employment Service, yesterday received from John Arthur Shaw, who reprsents the veterans' interests in the employment bureau, a telegram in which he reviews charges by the recenty resigned director general, Francis I. Jones.

Mr. Shaw is in Kansas City as a delegate to the convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The dispatch to Mr. Alpine follows:

"Through the press I have come into possession of the full text of the resignation of the former director general. The only specific charges appear to be aimed at the veterans' division, and are so contrary to the facts that I feel called upon to make an immediate statement.

"At no time was the abolishment of the veterans' division contemplated. On the contrary, your first orders to me were to work out and submit direct to you plans for increasing our service to these men. I worked hard and diligently to this end and have submitted to you at least a dozen recommendations relative to this work. All of these recommendations were approved and adopted, as were constructive plans originated by you.

"I feel that our service to veterans has thereby been increased fourfold. I resent attempts being made to muddy the waters and feel such attempts, if successful, would decrease the efficiency of my division. Pledge to the Secretary, to you and the veterans that these attempts shall not prevail."

Japan-to-Seattle Fliers Held Back

Californians Expect to Take Off for Beach in Few Hours.

Tokyo (Friday), Sept. 4 (A.P.).—Weather permitting, Don Moyle and C. A. Allen, Californians, hoped to take off at 2 p. m. today (midnight Thursday E. S. T.) for Samushiro Beach, 375 miles north, to begin a nonstop transpacific flight of 4,400 miles to Seattle.

Heavy rain north of Sendai prevented an early start for Samushiro, whence the aviators planned to leave for Seattle at 4:30 a. m. Saturday (2:30 p. m. Friday E. S. T.).

The start across the Pacific, however, was dependent upon the weather. Their proposed route is one of the most hazardous confronting fliers. It lies along the volcanic Kurile Islands of Japan, often fog-hidden, and over the stormy north Pacific in a great circle crossing the foggy Aleutians and Gulf of Alaska.

Father of Kidnaped Girl Asks Boston Police Help

Boston, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Calib Curry, a New York millinery store owner, appealed to the Boston police today to aid in finding his daughter, Rose, 15, whom he said was kidnaped August 17. He said he had received information that the girl and her captor would attempt to sail from Boston Saturday for the Azores.

Curry said the day after his daughter left her Brooklyn home he received a demand for $300. He agreed to pay $100, but it was refused. He invited the man who telephoned to go to his store and when he appeared there he was arrested, together with four men outside. All five are held on charges of attempted extortion.

Marshal and Seven Men Jailed in Liquor Raid

Garland City, Ark., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—The city marshal of Garland City, a prominent physician and six other men were arrested here today in a liquor raid by Federal prohibition agents.

The prisoners, all placed in jail at Texarkana, are Marshal Will Scott, Dr. W. S. Embry, Tom Smith, O. D. Green, Will Crank, Will Green, Reuben Levy and Gip Barton. They were charged with possession and transporting liquor for sale, and were held for preliminary hearing.

Preston and Collignon Take Off for Sudbury

Ottawa, Ontario, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Edwin Preston and Robert Collignon, who turned back from Port Harrison on a Detroit to Denmark flight, left Great Whale River, at the mouth of St. James Bay, at 10 o'clock (E. S. T.) this morning, wireless messages reported.

The plane, heading for Sudbury, Ontario, passed Fort George at 12:30 o'clock.

WHITE ADVISES PRESIDENT HOW TO CURE NATION'S ILLS

dent Hoover. It read in part as follows:

"In the light of the present economic distress and the approach of winter, following one of industrial and commercial stagnation from which we find the financial reserves of the great mass of our people exhausted, it seems fitting and proper that I should suggest to you measures which appear to me to have commendable value and practical application to a remedial program for our present national ills.

"For this purpose, I propose to you that you call an immediate session of Congress and present for its approval the following program:

"1. Establishment of a Temporary National Emergency Finance Corporation with original capital of $1,500,000,000 and with bonding authority of twice that sum, which authority could be increased to triple that amount with the approval of the President of the United States, to advance credit loans to banks, corporations, individuals, municipal corporations, county and State governments within its discretion wherever it found advisable opportunity to encourage the undertaking of constructive enterprise.

"2. Provision for a fund of $1,000,000,000 for extended loans to county and municipal governments for constructive public works and commercial relief activities at rates of interest to cover cost to the Federal Government.

Federal Highway Fund.

"3. Provision of a Federal fund of $500,000,000 to be used for construction of public highways and adjuncts within the States when the funds so provided by the national Government were matched with equal amounts by such States.

"4. Provision of a fund of $1,000,000,000 for rivers and harbors and other waterways and Federal building construction of useful nature.

"5. Modification of the Volstead law to permit manufacture of and commerce in and of beers and wines pending repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

"6. Immediate turning over of wheat stores now held by the Federal Government to proper relief agencies for feeding the destitute during the coming winter.

Mortgage Loan Bank.

"7. Establishment of a national mortgage loan bank for the purpose of bringing order and stability to the urban real estate market.

"8. Provide for reciprocal tariff agreements with other nations.

"9. Creation of a national economic board with powers to study and inform the public upon every phase of economic condition and activity, including tendencies toward overproduction, inflations, employment and distribution of labor and similar elements in other countries. This board should be as far removed from political domination as possible, have wide powers of use of advertising so that its conclusions could be sent to every community without hazard of distorting or deleting. Its purpose should be to furnish the information requisite to avoidance of such periods of inflation as occurred in 1928 and 1929 and deflations such as pertain at present."

Wine and Beer Aid.

Representative-elect White said in his statement to the President that the legalizing of wine and beer would give employment to 1,000,000 persons.

"Producing plants would require rehabilitation," he said, "transportation equipment would be necessary, sales organizations would rise and the demand for real estate be promoted.

"Besides this a supply of from 150,000,000 bushels of grain annually upward would be demanded, in addition to hundreds of millions of bushels of fruit. This could not be other than a major factor in relief of the distress of our agricultural establishment."

3 BARRIERS REMAIN TO U. S. LINES SALE

Main Difficulty in Transfer to Dollar Group Concerns Pacific Use, Board Says.

(Associated Press.)

Shipping Board officials said yesterday that although the board has ordered negotiation of a contract for transfer of the United States Lines to the Chapman-Dollar-Dawson interests, three points of difference, one of major importance, remain to be reconciled.

The principal difficulty is the question of whether the use of the two new $10,000,000 ships being built at Camden, N. J., for the lines shall be confined to the North Atlantic.

R. Stanley Dollar and his father, Capt. Robert Dollar, operators of several lines, including an around-the-world service, were reported desirous of using the ships in the Pacific at their discretion.

Officials said the board is willing to specify in the contract that the new ships may be diverted from the North Atlantic upon specific approval of the board in each instance. So far this has failed to satisfy Dollar, whose position has been supported by his colleagues, Paul W. Chapman, president of the United States Lines, and by Kenneth D. Dawson.

Another point of difference concerns the Leviathan, giant flagship of the United States Lines. The board wants a guarantee that it will be operated at least seven sailings a year. The Chapman-Dollar-Dawson combination has asked for a minimum of five. The big ship has proved expensive to run and hard to fill in depressed times.

The third point concerns the amount and manner of payment for outstanding mortgages held by the board on the ships of the line. The board hopes to get more than the $3,170,900 already offered by Chapman and his backers and perhaps as much as the $3,500,000 bid by the International Mercantile Marine-Roosevelt Steamship Co. The board also expects to ask that the sum be paid in cash eliminating the phrase "or its equivalent."

Board members said no word had been received from the I. M. M.-Roosevelt concern and there was no indication whether it had given up the fight for the line.

Coast Guard Ensign Is Free Rifle Victor

Scores 531 of Possible 600 at Camp Perry; Policeman Best With Pistol.

Camp Perry, Ohio, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Ensign Harry N. Renshaw, of the United States Coast Guard, today won the National Rifle Association individual free-rifle match with a score of 551 out of possible 600.

E. O. Swanson, Minneapolis civilian, was second with 519, and Conrad E. Nordhus, Navy Reserve, Highland Park, Ill., third 508.

The match was fired at 300 meters, 20 shots free-rifle standing, 20 kneeling and 20 prone.

Alfred Hemming, Detroit policeman, won the N. R. A. individual pistol championship with 276 out of possible 300. R. S. Marshall, of Lima, Ohio, had the same score, but was outranked on the long range. Oliver Yanick, of St. Louis, was third with 274.

An Ohio National Guardsman, Col. H. F. Stemen of the 148th Infantry, Spencerville, won the Navy match, 20 shots at 200 yards, with 96 out of possible 100. Stemen's target outranked that of Sergt. H. W. Wendlandt, United States Infantry, Fort Snelling, Minn., who had the same score. Capt. Bruce C. Hill, United States Engineers, Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, was third with 95.

The American Legion pistol match, fired over the same course as the individual pistol match, was won by R. S. Marshall, of Lima, with 276 out of possible 300. W. T. Desmond, Boston, was second, with 269, and Sergt. Jens Jehson, United States Cavalry, third, 268.

The any-pistol match, fired 30 shots at 50 yards, was won by Sergt. R. W. Wilzewski, United States Cavalry, with 266 out of 300. Lieut. H. D. Shierman, Ordnance Reserve, was second with 265, and C. E. Ward, Los Angeles policeman, third with 262.

$14,000,000 Is Tied Up As 12 Banks Are Closed

President of Group Cites Frozen Assets and Feared Runs.

appointed Mr. Page receiver. His bond was set at $250,000.

Mr. Coblentz intimated that the banks failed to open because a large proportion of the assets are "frozen" and a run at this time would wreck the bank. Rumors about the solvency of the bank were abroad, and such a run was feared.

Senator Coblentz said that "the assets of the bank are sufficient, if liquidated in normal times and in an orderly fashion, to pay all depositors in full and have a substantial sum for stockholders." His statement also says that he has placed back of the bank all his personal property.

Closing Is Voluntary.

The closing of the banks was a voluntary action and was decided upon by the board of directors at a meeting Wednesday. The receivership, however, was involuntary.

Montgomery County funds to the amount of $50,000 were deposited in the Poolesville branch of the bank, the only branch in that county. This sum is safe, according to J. Forrest Walker, county treasurer, because the directors and stockholders have signed a bond making themselves personally responsible for the county funds. This "depository bond" was filed about four weeks ago, when it was decided to ask such security from all banks handling county money. Those who have signed the bond are well able to make good any loss, Mr. Walker said.

The bank has branches at Middletown, Myersville, Thurmont, Emmitsburg, Poolesville, two at Smithsburg, Sykesville, Walkersville, Union Bridge, Ellicott City and Monrovia. Deposits in the various branches and the main bank amount to about $14,000,000, a third of the total deposits of Frederick County. Some of these deposits are in the branches in other counties, however. Frederick, Montgomery, Howard, Washington and Carroll Counties are involved in the suspension.

Solvency Shown June 30.

George W. Page, State banking commissioner, said that the failure to open was due to "a very large commitment in real estate outside of Maryland which is illiquid at the present time." Mr. Page went to Frederick, to the main office, yesterday morning and dispatched assistants to take over affairs of the branches.

Coblentz Blames Publicity.

According to Senator Coblentz, another reason for failure to open is the "miserable publicity to which I have been personally subjected in connection with the investigation of a Washington real estate firm. While the bank, itself, was in no wise connected with this matter, the attendant publicity affecting me as president very naturally disturbed public confidence and caused a slow but steady seepage of deposits."

Senator Coblentz was indicted here for "aiding in the commission of perjury" after he had testified in the behalf of G. Bryan Pitts, while the latter was being tried for embezzlement. Senator Coblentz was called to identify his signature on a number of requisitions permitting Pitts to withdraw money. The State claimed that these requisitions were prepared and antedated just before the trial, and were not in existence when the money was withdrawn.

At this time dealings between the Central Trust Co. and the F. H Smith Co. were bared, when it was shown that the trust company had held notes of Smith Co. employes for about $400,000. These notes were secured by general mortgage bonds on the Arlington Hotel. According to Assistant Attorney General Nugent Dodds, this collateral was "not worth three feathers." Senator Coblentz admitted that his bank had held the notes, but said they had been called before the trial.

EMORY L. COBLENTZ.

The notes were signed by two stenographers and a clerk employed by the Smith company. Senator Coblentz said the money was borrowed by "a syndicate of responsible persons" and that he had asked for only one signed to each note, as the responsibility of the syndicate was too involved and indirect.

Senator Coblentz's Washington dealings have been with the F. H. Smith Co. and with Harry Wardman, and both affiliations have resulted in loss to him. In the Wardman receivership he is said to have lost about $2,225,000. He held mortgages for this amount on Wardman properties, and received debentures for the mortgages when the Wardman reorganization went through. Later, when the properties went into the hands of receivers, his debentures lost their value.

His contact with Pitts began when Coblentz started the Law and Finance building in Pittsburgh. The Maryland man found himself unable to finish financing this structure and Pitts entered the field to complete the buildings. The requisitions issued by Coblentz to Pitts were for money due on this project, it is said.

Personal Property Pledged.

When the banks failed to open yesterday morning, Senator Coblentz issued a statement which said, in part:

"The board of directors of the Central Trust Co. at its meeting held this afternoon voted to place the bank in the hands of the bank commissioner in order that its assets might be conserved for the benefit of its depositors and stockholders.

"As a result of the serious depression through which the country is passing, affecting, as it does, the value of securities and real estate, the bank finds itself with too large a portion of its assets in a "frozen" condition. This is particularly true with reference to the loans of several borrowing companies which have large holdings in Washington real estate, where values have been abnormally depressed.

"I personally regret, more than I can state, the necessity which prompts the action taken by our directors today. I have placed back of the institution in various ways practically all of my personal worth. The loss and inconvenience which this occasions me does not concern me. I am, however, deeply distressed that, notwithstanding the sacrifice and burdens made and borne and the tireless and unceasing support of a capable organization, the stanch friends of the institution, of whom there are thousands, should in any way suffer inconvenience and possible loss."

Padlock Injunction Given in Liquor Case

The Government yesterday was granted a padlock injunction against the premises at 1324 Four-and-a-Half street southwest, when affidavits from three policemen convinced Justice F. D. Letts that the place was a nuisance within the meaning of the prohibition law.

The injunction named Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Anastasia. Assistant United States Attorney John B. Williams told Justice Letts that the place had been under observation for some time.

RED THREAT IN CHILE IS NOT UNEXPECTED

Problem of Public Hunger Has Led Observers Here to Forecast Change.

(United Press.)

The possibility of the Republic of Chile going Communist as indicated in telephonic dispatches received at Buenos Aires last night caused little surprise among political observers here familiar with the recent trend of political events and economic developments in that country.

At the present moment in Chile there is a problem of public hunger. Authoritative reports have indicated that the masses are facing unemployment, rising cost of living, and increasing taxation, which has retarded the economic life of the country.

The Chilean government has been characterized as an impoverished government on the brink of bankruptcy which has demanded that everyone in Chile return to "sanity" in the matter of expenses, both public and private. This is a sacrifice which many of the workers and the less favored classes of Chilean society are unwilling to accept as easily as they might have before they were accustomed to the high standards of living and wages introduced during the recent Ibanez administration, when artificial enrichment of the country was brought about through the influx of millions of dollars procured by foreign loans.

The political alignment in Chile has been gradually focusing at two points. On the right, the Conservative party has been dominant, being identified largely with land-owning classes and to some extent under the influence of the Catholic Church. It has been regarded as the strongest and the best-organized political group in the country.

On the left, a number of parties have grown up during recent years. The laboring element in Chile was divided into several groups, the most advanced being the Communist. The Democratic party was considered the advanced party with socialistic leanings. During the administration of President Ibanez, which ended recently in his flight to Argentina, the employes organized in support of Ibanez another political group known as the "Party of the Salaried Class."

The Radical party, which advocated a mild form of state socialism, was the party of the intellectuals now in power. In addition to these, and midway, stood the Liberal party and two other smaller groups known as the Liberal-Democratic and the National party, devoted to the principles of individual leaders and closely allied in their views to the Liberal party.

The growth of political parties in Chile and their swing to the left began with the appearance in Chile of the first industrial activities—namely, with the emergence of Chile from a purely agricultural country into a mining and later an industralized nation. Both the middle classes, artisans and common laborers, organized parties which adopted in their platforms more or less mild forms of democratic-socialistic character.

AGITATORS URGE SOVIET RULE AS REVOLT SPREADS IN CHILE

ditions were expected to prove troublesome.

Prior to announcement of the settlement, there were several minor clashes between workers and carabineers in Santiago. A horse was shot from under one officer outside the Moneda Palace. The assailant was arrested. There were no fatalities in the clashes.

The mutiny developed today into a "passive revolt" backed by the entire navy, including many officers. The government aviation force refused to attack the rebels. Various parts of the army were affected by the movement, and it was understood the cabinet could not depend on certain garrisons. Part of the coast artillery joined the uprising.

Strong labor factions throughout Chile supported the revolt, which was started by the naval forces at Coquimbo as a protest against proposed pay reductions. All street car service in the capital and several other large cities was halted, and a general railroad strike was called for tomorrow. Communistic groups in all cities urged workers to support the movement.

Political Ambitions Denied.

The revolt was one of the most unusual in the history of Latin America. It was developing along socialistic, if not communistic lines, although naval mutiny leaders insisted they were not motivated by political ambitions. One of their demands was for punishment of deposed President Gen. Carlos Ibanez. Another was for wide governmental reforms, such a subdivision of cultivated lands (there are many huge estates in Chile), and reduction of naval service to one year.

It was generally admitted that the movement had greatly strengthened the campaign of Senator Manuel Hidalgo, Communist candidate for president. Hidalgo and Juan Estaban Montero, Conservative, are the only candidates since the definite withdrawal of former President Arturo Alessandri.

Circulars warning the public against the threat of communism were distributed tonight by Indalecio Tellez, newly appointed commander in chief of the army in the Santiago Province.

(Associated Press.)

American investments in Chile, especially in the nitrate and copper fields, are very heavy.

American producers, headed by the Guggenheim interests, have a large share in the $300,000,000 Chilean Nitrate Corporation which was formed this year as an alliance between the Chilean government and foreign producers. The combine embraces more than 95 per cent of the industry in the country. Other countries participating are England, Germany, Holland, Jugoslavia and Spain.

Last March the Chilean government and the Santiago municipal officials signed a new concession with the Chilean Electric Co., a subsidiary of the American Foreign Power Co.

In February the minister of finance announced that the telephone company and the the traction company had decided to bring in several million dollars from the United States for construction work. The traction company is affiliated with the Electric Bond & Share Co., while the telephone company is part of the I. T. & T.

A compilation for 1930 showed that the three major American copper companies in Chile spent a total of more than $28,000,000 last year in wages, freights, merchandise, taxes and social law compensation.

Judge Denies Bail Plea Of Man Held in Assault

Judge Robert E. Mattingly yesterday refused to release Henry B. Scott, colored, from custody on bail when he was arraigned on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon.

The judge based his decision on the fact that Willard Jones, who had allegedly been stabbed by Scott, was in a critical condition in the hospital and might not recover. Pending the outcome of Jones' injury, Scott was ordered held without bail.

Farm-Labor Body Picks Presidential Candidate

Rochester, Minn., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—A drive to urge the nomination of A. C. Townley as Farmer-Labor candidate for the Presidency was begun today by southeastern Minnesota members of the party. At a meeting last night 35 members indorsed Townley, former nonpartisan leader in North Dakota.

Approval of the local group is subject to nomination by a national Farmer-Labor convention within 60 days. Plans for a national meeting were indefinite.

Rex Lease's Wife Asks Divorce; Claims Cruelty

Los Angeles, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—A suit for divorce from Rex Lease, motion picture director, was filed today by Mrs. Eleanor Hunt Lease, film actress, who charged him with beating her on numerous occasions while he was intoxicated.

Lease paid a fine a year ago after Vivian Duncan, stage comedienne, accused him of beating her at a beach party. Mrs. Lease charged in her divorce complaint that Lease ridiculed her study of philosophy and painting.

CABARET GIRL TAKEN IN KILLING OF DUFFY

Red-Haired Dancer, With Companion, Arrested in New York Hotel.

New York, Sept. 3 (U.P.).—Paul Carbo and Vivian Lee, a red-haired cabaret dancer, were arrested in a mid-town hotel today and will be charged with the killing of Mickey Duffy, Philadelphia racketeer, in an Atlantic City hotel Saturday. From Atlantic City came word that Herman Cohen and Albert Hodkinson, arrested at Toms River, N. J., also would be charged with the crime.

Carbo and Miss Lee, whose real name is Ophelia Malefatti, were arraigned in West Side Court and held without bail as fugitives from justice. They will have a hearing September 10, and plan to fight extradition to New Jersey.

Man Claims Alibi.

A detective, pretending to be a hotel clerk with a telegram, knocked at the door of the room occupied by Carbo and Miss Lee. He and a companion, pistols drawn, entered the room, and Carbo immediately said:

"I reckon you're pinching me for that Duffy killing. I read about it in the papers, that's all I know about it. I wasn't down there. All day Saturday I was at the hospital having my nose worked on."

He had plugs of antiseptic cotton in his nostrils, and an admittance card from the Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital, but records there did not show that anyone by the name of Carbo or any of his aliases had been treated. Miss Lee said she was visiting Carbo and knew nothing about the Duffy killing. Detectives linked her to the crime because of clothing found in the car of Cohen and Hodkinson.

After Duffy was shot police suspected members of the Samuel Grossman gang and placed guards to watch his Atlantic City home. They finally were rewarded when Cohen and Hodkinson, carrying a suitcase, came out and got into an automobile. Police were unable to stop them, but telephoned ahead to Toms River, where police were waiting. Cohen's two children were in the car when the two men were arrested.

Girl's Clothing Clew.

In the suitcase was clothing belonging to Miss Lee, who had been dancing at the Silver Slipper in Atlantic City, and a telegram from Carbo telling her to meet him at his New York hotel. Cohen and Hodkinson were taken back to jail in Atlantic City, where police telephoned to New York and asked that Carbo and the girl be arrested.

Miss Lee, who left her home in the Bronx ten months ago, has no police record, but Carbo was convicted last year of killing a butcher and was sentenced to a term of from two to four years. He was out on parole.

Poison Sent Suspect.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 3 (U.P.).—A reported attempt to poison Harry J. Green, alleged gambler who is held as a material witness in connection with the murder of Michael J. Duffy, was being investigated by police tonight.

A messenger boy brought coffee and a sandwich to the jail for Green today. Green said he did not want it and gave it to John McHale, a turnkey, and Joseph Lodovico, a motorcycle policeman. Half an hour later McHale and Lodovico were found unconscious. After they had been revived, the remaining coffee was examined. A heavy dose of morphine was found in it.

An attempt is being made to locate the messenger boy who delivered the coffee.

CAPITAL BABIES JOIN NUDIST MOVEMENT

The nudist movement spread through Washington's baby colony yesterday, when the above healthy youngsters, with shameless disregard for clothing, entered the Kallipolis Grotto Better Baby Contest. Forty Washington doctors are cooperating. Lee Manchell, director, is in the midst of the group.

KIRKLAND'S LAWYER SCANS POWERS CASE

Chicagoan Prominent in Trial of Gary Youth, May Aid Murder Defense.

Clarksburg, W. Va., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Barrett O'Hara, Chicago attorney, who recently defended Virgil Kirkland, Gary, Ind., youth sentenced to ten years in the slaying of Arlene Draves, came here today to confer with J. Edward Law, counsel for Harry F. Powers, said by police to have confessed the killing of two women and three children.

Law and O'Hara were in conference for a long period, and together they went over evidence in the case, but the Chicago lawyer said he had not been retained and added that he did not know if he would be asked to assist Law.

Police of a score of Eastern and Midwest cities who have been asked to check up on the extensive matrimonial campaigns conducted by the accused man were reported today to be finding the work difficult because of the many aliases Powers employed in his dealings with different women.

It was learned that plans again are under way to charge admission to the Quiet Dell garage lot, where the bodies of Mrs. Asta Eicher and her three children and Mrs. Dorothy Lemke were found last week and which has attracted hundreds of visitors. A high board fence was built about the place several days ago and an admission price fixed by a man who rented the place from Powers' wife, but authorities declined to allow him to operate.

Sheriff W. B. Grimm today said the property belonged to Mrs. Powers and her sister and that they had the "legal right to do what they please with it so long as it is lawful."

The body of Thomas Brasky, 40, a miner, was found in West Fork River, near Shinnston, today, providing a basis for false reports that another victim of Powers had been discovered.

County authorities said Braskey had been drinking last Sunday night at the home of Mike Redic and that a fight occurred. They said the man may have been killed and his body thrown into the river, or he may have fallen into the stream. Redick is in a hospital with injuries he received in the fight. Alex. Lusko is under arrest on a charge of felonious assault.

Selling Wave Hits Berlin Securities

Market, Reopened, Sees Price Shrinkage of 25 Per Cent.

Berlin, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—The German Securities Market, which has been closed since July 11, reopened today and ran headlong into a maelstrom of selling orders which beat prices down approximately 25 per cent and brought a shrinkage of millions of marks in stock values.

So great was the avalanche of sales orders and so scanty the purchasers that the governing committee of the exchange ruled that sales offers would be allotted on a basis of 10 per cent of individual offerings.

Because of this and of the semi-secrecy surrounding the day's operations, actual sales could only be guessed at, but it was known that even on the 10 per cent restriction basis they were extraordinarily high. Weakness in Berlin was reflected on other exchanges throughout Germany. Commodities felt the pressure less than securities.

Payment to Berlin Opposed by Paris

France Sole Objective to U. S. Closing Debt of $9,000,000.

(Associated Press.)

France was described yesterday by State Department officials as the lone objector to the United States paying Germany a $9,000,000 balance due under awards of the German-American Mixed Claims Commission.

Under awards of the commission, Germany owes the United States $9,000,000 for claims growing out of the World War and the United States owes Germany $18,000,000. The United States, seeking to pay Germany, has sounded out the parties to The Hague agreement providing for reparations payments.

The American contention was that its debt to Germany was based on private claims and did not fall within President Hoover's moratorium plan on intergovernmental debts. Acting Secretary Castle of the State Department said the United States was desirous of making the payment to assist German enterprises.

WORD OF NAUTILUS LACKING FOUR DAYS

Rescue Ship Is Held Ready for Dash; Soviet Craft to Seek Signals.

Oslo, Norway, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Serious concern was felt here tonight for the safety of the Nautilus, Sir Hubert Wilkins' Arctic submarine, when no news of the ship had been received for four days.

Authorities instructed all amateur radio operators to try to establish communication with the submarine. All official wireless stations have been calling the Nautilus without result for several days.

The captain of the Norwegian coaling steamer Ingerte reported yesterday that he heard faint signals from the submarine, but that these were too weak to be heard. The suggestion was made here today that these signals might have come from the submarine's portable transmitter which may have been carried out on the ice by the crew.

The Board of Fisheries has instructed a sealing ship which is now at Longyear City, Spitsbergen, to remain there in readiness for a relief dash if necessary. The admiralty also considered the possibility of sending the sloop Fridtjof Nansen, now at Harstad, County Nordland, to try to locate the Nautilus, but no decision was made tonight.

Moscow, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—The government today ordered all Soviet ships at port in northern waters to take all possible steps to communicate with Sir Hubert Wilkins' Arctic submarine Nautilus. Amateur radio operators also were urged to listen for signals from the submarine.

Plight of Farmer Told At Freight Rate Hearing

Chicago, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—The plight of the Nation's farmer, due to a decline of $2,500,000,000 in his 1930 gross income, as compared with 1929, was pictured before the Interstate Commerce Commission today by Dr. L. H. Bean, Department of Agriculture economist, summoned to testify in the hearings on the proposed 15 per cent increase in freight rates.

The farm operators of the Nation, their properties depreciated by $4,000,000,000 during the year, not only failed to earn their wages and to receive a return on their capital investments, but during the first six months of 1931 saw the causes which started the tumble continue to drive their incomes below the low levels of the 1921 depression, Dr. Bean said.

UNOFFICIAL PARLEY ON SILVER PLANNED

Meeting of Experts Will Be Held in Paris Through World Trade Body.

(Associated Press.)

Prolonged agitation for an international conference to study the problem of depressed silver prices will culminate in a meeting of unofficial experts from interested nations at Paris September 17.

The conference has been called by and will be held under the auspices of the International Chamber of Commerce in accordance with a resolution adopted at its meeting here last May.

A small group of experts from Great Britain, France, India, China, Japan and the United States will take part in the conference, under plans announced yesterday by the American section of the international chamber.

Any recommendations which the conference may make will be considered by the council of the international chamber, which will meet in Paris October 23. Silas Strawn, president of the American chamber, will attend the council meeting.

Agitation for an international silver conference has been going the rounds for many months. Last winter the Senate adopted a resolution requesting President Hoover to call such a conference, but he never acted on the suggestion.

Rumors have sprung up at various times that a conference would be called by some other government, but nothing ever developed along that line.

The depressed price of silver, less than half what it was a few months ago, has been frequently cited by economists as one of the chief causes of the world economic depression.

The Senate committee which investigated the subject, and speakers before the international chamber, pointed out that with silver at such low prices the purchasing power of silver-using countries, such as China, was more than cut in half.

Dumping of silver from India, where Great Britain has established a gold standard, was cited by the Senate as the most depressing factor in the silver market.

Reversal of Great Britain's monetary policy in India was demanded by Chairman Borah, of the Senate foreign relations committee, who said it prevented world economic recovery.

Those most interested in the silver question have contended that a solution could only be found in an international conference, but some of them have shown little interest in such a conference unless it was of an official nature, contending unofficial experts could do nothing.

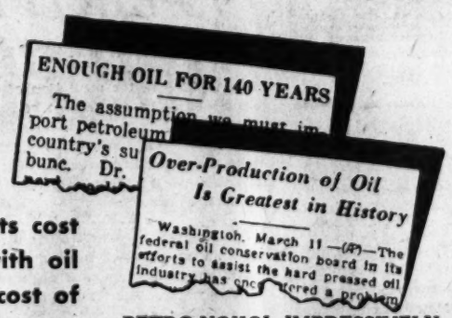
Oil Heat Costs drop still further!



New Petro-Nokol cuts cost of heating homes with oil even further below cost of other fuels. New low cost assured for a generation by huge world-wide oversupply of oil.

Now . . . you can enjoy all the advantages of oil heat, and save more money than ever before in heating your home!

Two factors have brought this about. Vital factors to you. Oil prices were never so low! For the first time, more oil is available than can be used for a generation. So the permanency of cheaper oil heat is assured.

DIFFERENCE IN OIL COST PAYS FOR BURNER

But more important . . . the new Petro-Nokol oil burners make this saving even greater! By a greatly improved method of combustion. These new models use the lower-price, heavier oils. Not only are these cheaper per gallon . . . but every gallon contains more heating units. And they are the very oils of which there is the greatest surplus. In many cases, the saving over other fuels pays for the whole cost of the oil burner installation in a few years!

PETRO-NOKOL IMPRESSIVELY LOWER IN PRICE

The patronage and goodwill of our customers who have paid $109,000,000 for our products, has put us in position as a nation-wide public service enterprise to offer these new models at the lowest prices in oil burner history. They carry with them all the engineering skill . . . all the scientific advances . . . all the fruits of our 28 years' experience . . . that have made Petroleum Heat & Power Company the world's largest oil heating organization.

SAVE ON DOMESTIC HOT WATER, TOO

Right now . . . in the heat of August you can start saving with Petro-Nokol. A special heating element, which operates with the oil burner, provides you with all the domestic hot water for kitchen and bath you can use. As hot as you want it . . . summer and winter . . . at a lower cost than any other automatic system.

You have everything to gain by installing now. Pay only $25 down . . . nothing further until October. The first cold day will find you all prepared. Your days of expensive heating costs and annoyances will be over. You will want to see these new Petro-Nokols on display in your city.

Lowest Prices in History!

Fully automatic to burn cheaper oil

$295 is the price of a complete installation (without tank) for a small house. The size, type and cost of an efficient oil burner installation varies just as greatly as the type, size and cost of heating plants and the houses themselves. We have thousands of our automatic oil burners in various size houses installed completely with tank for as low as $390—$450—$525—$675 (depending upon requirements) and on up to a recent commercial installation amounting to $55,000. All approved by leading safety underwriters.

Our new Petro Automatic Boiler for oil or gas has the burner sealed and concealed inside a beautiful cabinet, as automatic and service-free as a modern refrigerator. Saves ⅓ to ½ on fuel. See it today!

$25 THRIFT DEPOSIT

puts a new oil burner in your home with no further payment until October.

WE SUPPLY THE OIL, TOO!

By supplying both the oil burners and the fuel oil, our responsibility to you is undivided. This assures you of the right oil for your burner and the right burner for your home.

Our fleets of fast, modern trucks deliver oil from Boston to Washington, D. C., on a day and night schedule. See your Petro-Nokol dealer today for complete oil heating service.

DESTROYING THE NAVY.

Chairman Will R. Wood, of the House committee on appropriations, has surprised the country by announcing that he will do his best to prevent construction of the Navy up to the treaty standard. His reason for opposing the administration on this point is that there is need of retrenchment in expenditures. He ventures the prediction that there will be no war "tomorrow," and he asks:

> Why should we build our Navy up to the London treaty limits when it will have nothing to do after we have built it?

The unanswerable argument in favor of maintaining a navy equal to the strongest foreign navy is that it would tend to prevent war by making it highly inexpedient for any nation to encroach upon American rights, even if foreign nations were at war. This reasoning is at the core of the London treaty. The treaty was ratified by the United States as a peace measure and not as a war measure.

At the bottom of all disarmament plans is the conviction that armaments limited to national defense needs will help to prevent war.

Armament below the necessities of defense invites aggression, not always by direct attack, but by encroachments which become intolerable, as was the case in 1917.

Mr. Wood is adventurous when he predicts that there will not be another war soon. But he would not be risking much if he should assert that aggressions against the United States would be very improbable if the United States were provided with a strong Navy. The fleet, instead of having "nothing to do" in peace time, would be performing its most effective service—that of promoting peace.

It is astonishing that Mr. Wood should fail to understand the nature of the Navy as an insurance against war. It is not merely a fighting machine. It is a force that helps the United States to avoid war. If it is equal to any foreign force, no foreign nations, no matter how hard pressed they may be in war, would be likely to imitate Germany's suicidal act in provoking the United States to war. The fate of the Hohenzollern empire ought to serve as a warning to all nations not to draw the United States into war.

When Germany forced this country into war the United States Navy was not too large. It could not be enlarged very much during hostilities. A navy is not built in one day, to fight a war "tomorrow."

At the rate of present construction, the United States Navy will not equal the British navy before 1945. The treaty contemplates faster construction, and prudence requires early parity of the two great fleets that frown upon war.

There is no economy in enfeebling the national defense below the safety point. On the contrary, it is tempting fate when a nation possessing rich commerce is powerless to protect it. A foreign war would instantly imperil such commerce, and dire need would urge a nation at war to take a chance at robbing American citizens, their cargoes and their ships. Then there would be war, whether the Navy were large or small; but the stronger the American fleet the sooner the assailant would get his due.

No sound reason has ever been advanced to prove that the United States should not be strong upon the sea. Every experience of this Nation has fortified the argument in behalf of adequate naval defense. Mr. Wood will make his fight in the Capitol, which need not have been burned by an invader if statesmen of a former day had not permitted the Navy to run down, as Mr. Wood proposes to do now. Like him, they did not believe there would be a war "tomorrow." They chose to economize at the cost of national defense, and they discovered that they had forfeited the Nation's security.

Chairman Wood is out of line with American sentiment when he proposes to disable the national defense in order to save money. The people are not demanding national insecurity or risk of war in order to avoid taxes. They have always supported measures providing for the national defense as contemplated by the Constitution. They would have the United States in the position of a "just man armed." Mr. Wood should begin his economy program where there is extravagance, and not where national repose and security call for reasonable precautions.

SOUND FINANCING.

The long-term bond issue announced by the Treasury this week has drawn the fire of antiadministration sharpshooters. In one critical quarter it is said that the Government ought to balance its budget by increased taxes, maintaining a "pay as you go" policy at all costs. In another quarter it is said that the 3 per cent interest rate, which the present bond issue carries, though it is the lowest rate on long-term Government securities in the present generation, is nevertheless a "bonus" to capital at the expense of taxpayers.

Funds represented by these bonds have already been borrowed on short-term notes and already spent to meet the deficit of last year and advances to World War veterans on their bonus certificates. Neither the President nor Secretary Mellon proposes a fixed policy of meeting deficits with bond issues as a general proposition. Increased taxes may have to be imposed to balance budgets hereafter, unless a business revival increases Federal revenue.

The criticism of the 3 per cent interest rate on the new bond issue is without foundation. Money, as measured in terms of interest, is cheap now, either for a short or long term. The price of money has been deflated, like the price of everything else. But in the course of the next two decades the price of money will fluctuate widely. The long-term lender takes that into account in making the agreement as to the interest he will receive. In other words, the Treasury can not buy 20-year money now at the give-away prices prevailing at the moment for short-term money.

Critics are also wrong in supposing that the Treasury could save money by borrowing on short-term notes so long as interest rates remain low. Had Secretary Mellon postponed the bond issues until the price of short-term money reached 3 per cent again long-term bonds would have required a 4 per cent rate. It is obviously cheaper to borrow $1,000,000,000 for twenty years at 3 per cent than to borrow the same amount for one year at 1 per cent, for the second year at 2 per cent, for the third year at 3 per cent and for the remaining seventeen years at 4 per cent.

It is a common experience for a Treasury bond issue to be five or even eight times oversubscribed. That does not mean, however, that if the Treasury asks for $1,000,000,000 six or eight times as much is, figuratively speaking, laid on the Treasury doorstep. It is commonly said that oversubscription shows a plethora of money in banks and indicates that the Government could borrow many times the amount it seeks without disturbing the country's money market. The real, but little advertised fact, is that the banks, from whom the tenders for bonds come, designedly pad their subscriptions to allow for an anticipated cut in their allotments.

AN EXHIBIT OF FUTILITY.

Once more European statesmen have repudiated the machinery they set up for the adjudication of international disputes. When the so-called world court renders its decision on the legality of the proposed Austro-German customs union it will be entirely meaningless. France and Austria have already settled this question, not on the basis of treaties and legal technicalities, but in accordance with actual conditions that confront European nations.

Submission of the proposal for a customs union to the world court was a mere gesture. From the very beginning France controlled the situation. France saw in the customs pact a movement for amalgamation of Austria with Germany and at once issued an ultimatum that the project should not be consummated. Nothing could change that situation, because France dominates European finance in this period of crisis. Austria could not afford to incur the displeasure of the French government by carrying forward its negotiations with Germany. The whole problem has been settled through diplomatic channels on the basis of necessity.

It was well known that such a solution would be brought about at the time the controversy was submitted to the world court. But the controversy could be conveniently shelved by asking the court to pass upon the legal aspects of the proposed union. The fact that the pact has been put upon the shelf without any action on the part of the court demonstrates that the court is subordinated to practical politics.

When Germany was brought face to face with disaster it was necessary for President Hoover to initiate measures of relief. The League of Nations did nothing. In fact, the league dropped completely out of the picture while the negotiations that saved Germany and Great Britain from financial crises were going on. The league has been revealed as an impotent invention when real stress comes. The league's court of international justice now falls into the role of a robot which receives and ponders over technicalities while the real controversy is in the process of solution by practical diplomacy.

The proposed customs union between Austria and Germany was recognized as impractical from the beginning. It would have strengthened Germany and upset the European balance that has prevailed since the war. Germany announced the proposed union as a challenge to France. But Germany was in no position to take an aggressive stand in the matter. The moratorium has brought all European nations closer together, with France in the strongest financial position. Germany has been forced to abandon hopes for a strong alliance with Austria in return for the aid received from her former enemies. The whole question has turned on practical considerations that emphasize the impotence of the league and its court. Whatever the decision of the court may be, it will have no effect, except to illustrate that the court is designed to camouflage the actual workings of European political agencies.

USEFUL ANIMALS.

A conference of eminent scientists recently met at the estate of Copley Amory, of Washington and Boston, at Matamek, Quebec. For ten days ecologists—that is, students of animal life in relation to its surroundings—discussed problems and findings in their particular fields of ornithology, mammology, marine biology, &c. The results of the conference were so profitable that plans for another meeting in 1934 were made and a committee appointed to formulate a permanent organization.

One of the points especially stressed in the discussion was the interrelation of the various animal groups, including man. Fluctuations in one species are often felt throughout the animal kingdom. Certain varieties are of such importance that they are known as "key animals." Mice and mice-like rodents are "key animals" in many parts of the world. When mice are abundant in the Canadian Northwest foxes, snowy owls, wolves and bears cease to prey on partridges. When the mice decline, animals turn again to game, and Eskimos and Indians suffer for food. Weasels and ermine die out in numbers when mice are scarce and snowy owls fly south in search of food, only to die in the warm climate.

Rats in Europe for centuries were responsible for the spreading of plague. This disease, carried by fleas on the black rat, was not exterminated by improved sanitary conditions so much as by hordes of brown rats from Asia, which entered through Russia about 1700. The black rat was driven to the wharves and ships by this stronger rival. But eventually the brown rat forsook human company and lived principally in sewers, thus relieving Europe of plague.

An example of less direct influence of small animals on man is seen in Washington and Oregon, where the Douglas fir supports a large and important industry. Mice and squirrels of that section are very fond of the fir seed, and in years of plenty bury stores of this food in the ground for preservation. If a fire or cutting exposes the ground over these stores to the sun, the seeds germinate and soon high quality trees have sprouted.

Following the man-bite-dog theory, if a local prisoner should beat up a policeman that would be news.

If no one finds a better solution, they might use silver mines as dumps for surplus wheat and cotton.

NEW ENGLAND'S COMEBACK

From the New York Times.

Some years ago a good deal was heard about "the decline of New England." Great industries were passing elsewhere. Yankee money was going too largely into enterprises in other parts of the country. In some branches of manufacturing an early and long preeminence had been lost by their growing transference to other regions more fortunately situated. The hereditary successors of the pioneers of manufacturing were slow to grasp new methods. New England was taxed to death and on her way to become mainly a summer resort. If there was some truth in the somber picture, there was also much exaggeration. At any rate, the six States "got together." An intelligent and common effort was made for revival and improvement.

To that, in part, if much more to the conservatism of the six States, may be attributed the facts, buttressed by the figures, reported by our Boston correspondent. New England's feet are not so deep in the slough of despond as those of the States outside of the old Puritan pale. Some of the comparisons are striking. New England building fell only half as much as that of the other States; this year so far but a third. In one of the cardinal New England industries, shoe manufacturing, the record is especially cheerful. In the first five months of 1931 it showed a gain of nearly 8 per cent, as against a general loss of 2.5 per cent. In the consumption of wool, another major industry, New England lost less in 1930 and has gone ahead this year at twice the common rate. It should be added that the cotton mills, which, like the woolen, have had such hard sledding, are picking up.

We read the other day of a big New Hampshire concern that was turning out 90 per cent of its normal production. Our Bostonian tells us of worsted mills running 24 hours a day. Such a token that the consumer is beginning to declare the strike off is a happy omen. Construction work in Boston in 1931 is almost twice what it was in 1930. For all New England it declined less than 6 per cent from last year's figures.

The New Englanders are not to be charged with Pharisaism, with still trying to show their superiority. They have simply taken stock of their economic status. To do so is sensible and salutary. They are not exalting their horns or making any predictions or drawing any conclusions or pretending that the time of adversity is ended.

Not to be so badly off as their neighbors is not to be well off; but are the neighbors so badly off as some of them have thought? Cycles of depression pass. If there is anything in precedent, there is hope in this New England story. In every past period of financial and economic slump she has suffered the least and recovered the quickest. There are some indications that she is now on the way to recovery.

POST HASTE.

It seems there is too much Irish blood in Chile to let a good free-for-all fight die out quickly.

A rear admiral was sent to parley with the mutinous Chilean sailors, but they refused to receive him and announced they would "deal only with a committee composed of workmen and students." You can't blame the gobs, since Chilean congresses, cabinets and presidents have set the example.

You're mistaken; Mexicans are putting the Chinese out of business quite legally. Under the new labor law One Lung and his brother who ran a little store would be obliged to employ eight Mexicans.

Britain's three-party cabinet has its nerve, all right. It will demand a blind vote of confidence from Parliament next Thursday; if it gets it, it will tell Parliament what it intends to do.

Chairman Wood says there is not going to be a war tomorrow, so why build a Navy today? But, if he has postponed the war till day after tomorrow, we must delay the building until after Labor Day.

Wood-man! Spare that Na-vee!
Touch not a single scow!
In youth it sheltered we,

China will seek the mediation of a third power in the settlement of her dispute with Mexico over the expulsion of Chinese merchants. The United States would be the most logical nation we know to keep out of just such a row.

"The King of Jugoslavia ousts dictator." Alexander weeps not for other worlds, but will conquer his people with democracy. The "fear of change that perplexes monarchs" is not in him.

Chairman Gifford will have a committee to find jobs, a committee to get the money and a committee to spend it. "More is meant than meets the ear."

Do we progress? Well, eight States have passed laws against hitchhiking.

"What riches give us let us then inquire:
Meat, fire and clothes. What more?
Meat, fine clothes and fire."

Are we any better off than in the depression of a decade ago? Well, President Green, of the A. F. of L., has figured out that during the last 18 months wage cuts have been made by 16.6 per cent of American industrial companies, while in 1921 the number cutting wages amounted to 92.7 per cent.

Fine Phrases Can Fill Empty Heads, But Not Empty Stomachs.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

PEOPLE are enslaved by their belief in labels.

They are tricked by pretty words and thus made to lose sight of facts.

The history of tyranny is the story of shrewd and unprincipled men who lived on the fat of the land by coining catch-phrases to addle the wits of the ignorant.

The medicine man claimed divine inspiration for his hokus-pokus and got his living without labor.

The leader of cutthroat pirates claimed divine right to rule and established a dynasty that collected taxes with the blessing of heaven.

A genius at phrase-making suggested making the world safe for democracy and youth poured out its blood to establish new dictators and new injustices.

When will the people learn that words mean nothing when they dispute facts?

In our own land an evil that stinks to heaven is supported by the prayers of the good because it bears a label of righteousness.

What account are labels if they don't tell the truth?

Jobless and desperate men in America read of a land where communism makes all men equal comrades and equal partners in control of property, and they yearn for a similar state of blessedness in America.

Words fool them.

They forget that the "comrades" in that working man's Paradise must work when and where they are told, like private soldiers in time of war; that the bosses live on the fat of the land and keep their hands soft, as bosses always have and always will; that the ordinary man, though he may be drunk on fine phrases, still swings a pick or pushes a saw to earn the bare necessities of life, and finishes his day with an ache in his back.

Is a boss less a boss if he is called "comrade?" Does a private in the ranks obey less quickly because he is called "free?" Is a saloon less a saloon because it is called a "speakeasy?" Is bribery honest or corruption decent because they exist in the name of righteousness?

Of what value is a label if it lies about the stuff in the bottle?

Blind faith in labels is the mark of incompetence and gullibility; and so long as such faith endures, men with axes to grind will live without other labor than the coining of pretty phrases.

The ordinary man won't be free until he learns that bait indicates a trap.

PRO AND CON

Press Comment Upon Acts and Actors in the Great American Show, "Politics."

On Both Sides of the Fence.

Chicago Tribune.

Congressman W. E. Hull, of Peoria, cables from Europe that unless the Republicans embrace beer and wine in the national platform next June all will be lost. Mr. Hull has been investigating various systems of liquor control abroad. He could not wait to tell his findings to the ship reporters in New York Harbor. He put them on the cable.

That was a reasonable precaution, all things considered. When Brother Hull, fresh from Illinois College, went to Peoria it was as a Government gauger. It is our understanding that he did not gauge the depth of the river, but the content of certain barrels in distillery warehouses. Eventually, as his political opponents have pointed out on occasion, he became, among other things, a distiller. It seemed a fair presumption that he was a wet. However, Mr. Hull found it possible to vote for the Jones 5 and 10 act. Having modified the Volstead act in the direction of greater severity, he now proposes to modify it out of existence.

No Opposition to Hoover.

New York Times.

Washington reports that the last vestiges of Republican opposition to the renomination of President Hoover have been removed. Some apprehensive party managers had thought that they saw on the horizon a cloud no larger than a man's hand spelling out in smoky letters: 'Back to Coolidge." But a couple of close Vermont friends of the former President visited the White House to give the assurance that Mr. Coolidge would never consent to a movement of that sort. Thus with the track entirely cleared, the efficiency experts of this efficient administration are preparing every detail of the Republican national convention next June.

Not a Farm Problem.

Feminine Sleuths Barred.

Baltimore Sun.

While agreeing with the propriety of Mr. Woodcock's order against employing women to collect evidence of liquor-law violations, we are not at all certain that the Civil Service Commission has helped to disarm feminine resentment by certain statistics it has issued.

Prompted apparently by desire to pour oil on the ruffled waters, the commission points out that women have shown little desire to join the prohibition force. In the years 1927-30, inclusive, only 12 women were listed among the 5,000 eligible for the position of agent. In 1929 no women were placed on the list, and in 1930 but 3, as compared with 1,059 men, the proportion being as small this year. But the commission should know that it is human nature to want what you can not have, and women, it has sometimes been suspected, are not free of this well-recognized trait. Indeed, they are thought by some to be peculiarly sensitive to it.

Political Acrobats.

Los Angeles Times.

Senator Harris of Georgia, a leading "dry," declares there is no doubt that Gov. Roosevelt will be nominated for President by the Democrats in 1932. The New York executive would find some difficulty in carrying Tammany Hall on one shoulder and his "dry" friends on the other. Whatever chance he has for election would be enhanced by a complete severance of the Tammany ties.

No Dole in America.

Topeka Capital.

Just when private initiative ends and the dole begins in the treatment of unemployment is quite plain. The dole comes in when no work is performed for the money paid to unemployed. In handling unemployment in this country there has been consistent adherence to the principle that either in public or private schemes of relief, work shall be done and paid for, and this is not a dole.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Replace Greenbacks With Silver Certificates, Says Correspondent, to Stabilize Purchasing Power.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The news from South and Central American countries, Mexico and the vast silver-using areas of Asia and Africa report times growing constantly worse instead of better. They shout for prosperity to return to America. More than a year ago the writer intimated that until something was done to stabilize silver, prosperity would not return. By the demonetizing of silver in India and Indo-China more than half the people of the world have had their purchasing power vastly reduced.

But, as Mark Twain said, nothing seems to have been done about it. To mention silver to a gold-standard fanatic stamps one as crazy, which shows how little the silver question is understood, for the present silver question is not the 16-to-1 variety.

The sweating Western farmer loves his hard, silver dollar, whereas the Easterner loves the paper dollar or check. So also the loin-clothed people of Asia love their silver shekels or rubles, but the latter have gone down in exchange at a tremendous rate. Two years ago, when the English began dumping India's silver, the Mexican dollar was exchanged in China two for one gold dollar. Now the exchange rate is 5 to 1. Our standard dollars are kept at par with gold because of our immense gold reserve.

We could very easily carry an additional large amount of silver at par with gold, and the writer recently suggested that we do away with our remnant of fiat money, the $346,000,000 of United States notes, or greenbacks, and replace them with silver certificates based on silver purchased of India or China with the $156,000,000 of gold placed in the Treasury to sustain these greenbacks. Such an act would go far to stabilize silver without waiting for an international conference. JEREMIAH JOHNSON.

Dumping Ground Menaces Health, Says Citizen, While Authorities Take No Action.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The letter of Lewis L. Young relative to the insanitary conditions in some sections of our city is indeed most timely. I should like specifically to call attention to the area bounded by Fifty-first street, Grant and Division avenues and the Chesapeake Beach Railway.

This area is 50 per cent vacant lots, upon which weeds, densely grown, have attained a height of 5 or 6 feet. It seems to be considered a convenient dumping ground for garbage, trash of every description, cans, bottles, discarded automobile parts, &c., as well as refuse from some of the abutting houses, with the result that the shallow drain, never adequate, has been totally destroyed.

The Chesapeake Beach interests have, most inconsiderately, it seems, sought to relieve and safeguard their property by turning water, which flows from the higher ground and crosses their tracks, into this lower land. As a result there has been created an unhealthful, foul-smelling marsh which may well menace the health and comfort of the entire neighborhood.

This condition has previously been brought to the attention of the Health Department, and its officials have inspected and deplored, but no steps of a remedial nature have as yet been taken.

It is discouraging to those citizens having pride in their homes and paying taxes for civic protection to find conditions so disagreeable and threatening ignored by authorities especially constituted to correct and prevent such evils. JOHN H. PAYNTER.

Calls Upon Congress to Recognize Prohibition as Cause of Lawlessness.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: It has been demonstrated, notwithstanding what such quacks as the Anti-Saloon League and allied organizations say, that the principal cause of the lawlessness and disrespect for law in the United States today is so-called prohibition.

When will the doctor, in this case the Congress, look dispassionately upon the ailment and prescribe the proper remedy—repeal of the prohibition law? The ailment has been thoroughly diagnosed and it remains but to apply the remedy to cure a suffering nation. The quack's remedy has been tried and found wanting. INTACTA.

GIBBS FINDS TRADE BETTER ON SURVEY

Phone Official and Party Tell Hoover Nation Has Brighter Outlook.

Conditions throughout the country are not half as bad as they have been painted, Gen. George Sabin Gibbs, former chief signal officer of the Army and now vice president of the International Telephone & Telegraph Corporation, declared yesterday after a month's tour of the Nation.

Gen. Gibbs was given an audience by President Hoover during his visit here yesterday. He was accompanied by Frank C. Page, vice president in charge of public relations of the International Telephone & Telegraph Corporation; Curtis A. Comstock, vice president of the Postal Telegraph Co., and Milton Wright, public relations representative with the International system, both of whom made the tour with Gen. Gibbs and Mr. Page, were also in the city.

Trip Initial Step.

The tour was made by Gen. Gibbs as an initial step, since he retired from the Army to become vice president of the International. The trip is understood to be the only one embracing a survey of business conditions throughout the country, made by the executive of a large corporation since the depression.

"The so-called depression," said Gen. Gibbs, "is not as widespread as we were led to believe before leaving New York. Outside of a few industrial centers in the East we found no alarming conditions and an optimistic note was sounded almost everywhere we went in the West, the Southwest and the South. Industrial leaders everywhere told me that there is bound to be some unemployment this winter, but that despite this, conditions in general will improve."

Decries Reports.

The popular answer to queries about business conditions, according to Gen. Gibbs was this: "Of course, we're below normal, but not as bad as most places." This led the executive to conclude that people have an idea that conditions are bad because of what they hear and read while actually the facts do not support this impression.

Believing that the telegraph and telephone business is a good index of business conditions, Gen. Gibbs said that in the last six weeks his corporations and its subsidiaries have shown a steady increase, week by week. August usually is a poor month, he said. Gen. Gibbs and his party visited 30 cities and traveled 9,000 miles.

Pershing Returns From French Trip

Work on War Memorials to Be Complete by Summer, He Reports.

New York, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Gen. John J. Pershing, who helped win the greatest war in history, came home from France again today, still a soldier from boot tip to hat crown, still carrying himself like the general he is, but finally beginning to show his 70 years.

He was in France as chairman of the Battle Monuments Commission and said the memorials probably would all be completed by next summer.

More than 15 reporters were received by the general in his stateroom on the Leviathan as it docked. To questions as to whether another war threatened in Europe, as to army reduction plans, the European political situation, economic problems abroad, the general smiled and shook his head. He didn't want to talk politics, war or economics. He wanted to chat with the reporters, as if with a group of old cronies.

He wanted to know about unemployment in America, what had been happening on the sidewalks of New York while he had been away, what the United States was doing and thinking these days.

Cosmopolitan Member Of Relief Group Named

Edward A. Rule, of the Cosmopolitan Club yesterday was named to the local committee of Washington luncheon clubs with international affiliations, which is studying the relief situation from an international standpoint.

The appointment was announced by president Gordon Bennette, of the Cosmopolitan Club. The committee is trying to work out a method of supplying aid in various countries where the club has connections. Its recommendations will be forwarded to the heads of various club federations.

Little Progress Seen In Arms Parley Plans

Paris, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—The semi-official newspaper Le Temps said editorially tonight that preparations for next year's disarmament conference were making little progress, if any. It expressed regret that the United States was not taking a more active part in the efforts by the League of Nations to attain disarmament and security.

Unless there is some plan for mutual assistance in time of war, such as the proposal by Joseph Paul-Boncour, that all armed forces be placed at the disposal of the league, little can be expected from the disarmament conference, said the newspaper.

STIMSON HEARTENED BY OUTLOOK ABROAD

Hope for Lasting Structure of Peace Is Expressed by Returning Secretary.

New York, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Optimism over the political and economic situation abroad and hope for "a lasting structure of peace" were expressed today by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson upon his return from a two-month tour abroad.

He pictured Europe paving the way for peace, prosperity and political good will.

"I think there is now good reason to believe that European statesmen, taking advantage of the respite granted by Mr. Hoover's moratorium, as well as the recommendations of the London conference, are beginning gradually to lay the foundations of political good will, upon which a lasting structure of peace and economic prosperity can finally be rested," Secretary Stimson declared.

He found other causes for optimism in the recent plebiscite in Prussia, the German banking situation, and "even more encouraging," the meetings that are taking place between ministers of European countries.

He said he thought Germany had received "a new spirit of courage and confidence."

"I did not have any mission," he explained. "I had no appointment. I went over to talk with ministers of foreign affairs informally, feeling that that would be more helpful—just as it is in business where one talks directly with a person and comes to know him rather than attempting to decide important questions through correspondence.

"The month which has elapsed since the close of the seven-power conference in London has given us a chance to begin to appraise the result of that conference and of the various meetings which preceded and have followed it. From the information which has come to me I believe that Germany has received a new spirit of courage and confidence. The result of the recent plebiscite in Prussia; the fact that on the day when the German banks reopened the deposits exceeded the withdrawals, together with many other similar indications, all points to more hopeful conditions and spirit."

MEXICO CITY HALTS CHINESE EXPULSION

Time Limit Extended as Refugees Fill Border Towns; U. S. May Take Hand.

Nogales, Ariz., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—The exodus of Chinese from Sonora, Sinaloa and Chihuahua, Mexico, was halted temporarily today by an order from Mexico City extending indefinitely the expulsion time limit originally set as September 5.

Hundreds of Chinese were waiting at the Mexican border to complete arrangements for their passage through this country under bond to their native land. Jails in Nogales, Bisbee, Douglas, and Tucson, Ariz., were crowded with Chinese unable to give bond who were arrested by American officials as they crossed the border.

C. K. Wong, Chinese vice consul here, said many wealthy Chinese were being reduced to near poverty by being compelled to sell their property hurriedly. Importers and merchants in Sonora alone will lose upward of $10,000,000, he estimated.

Denials were made by both Oscar Peralta, Mexican immigration chief in Nogales, Sonora, and Anselmo Quan, local head of the Kuomintang, Chinese Nationalist party to statements attributed to Sam Young, Chinese minister at Mexico City, that Chinese were being assessed $50 each before leaving Mexico.

Chinese crossing the line at Navo claimed they were charged prohibitive prices for permits to leave the country. Those unable to purchase the permits, the Orientals said, on some occasions have been stripped of all their clothing, except their trousers.

(Associated Press.)

Acting Secretary Castle of the State Department said last night that the Chinese Legation had been told informally that the United States would be willing to seek settlement of the dispute growing out of the expulsion of Chinese from the Mexican States of Sonora and Sinaloa. A formal request was awaited.

Despite official announcements in China that the United States had agreed to arbitrate the controversy, Mr. Castle said neither arbitration nor mediation had been considered.

Should the Chinese ask intercession, the State Department would instruct Ambassador Clark in Mexico City to assist the Chinese minister there in every way possible to halt the expulsions.

Arrangements already have been made with the Department of Labor for transit of expelled Chinese across American territory en route home, and it was understood some were now on the way.

The Federal Mexican Government was understood to be friendly to the Chinese and to have no part in their expulsions.

Lucy Moore Is Married to Mr. Waters

Ceremony Takes Place in Home of Relatives of Bride.

With the members of the immediate families and a few close friends in atendance, the marriage of Miss Lucy Biddle Moore, daughter of Mrs. Bessie Addison Moore, of Georgetown, to Mr. Thomas Jackson Waters, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Waters, of Baltimore, took place last evening at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. Elkins Reed, the Rev. F. Bland Tucker, of St. John's Episcopal Church, Georgetown, officiating.

The bride who was given in marriage by Mr. William S. Stanley, wore a gown of ivory satin, made along princess lines, with a cowl neck and close-fitting sleeves, pointed at the wrists. Her veil of tulle was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The only attendant was Mrs. E. J. Drew, matron of honor, who wore a frock of peach color satin made on princess lines and carried talisman roses and delphinium. Mr. Robert D. Blackiston was best man.

Following the ceremony, Mr. Waters and his bride left for Asheville, N. C., the latter wearing a frock of dark blue wool crepe, with hat and accessories to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Waters will reside at 4428 Q street, Foxhall Village.

Mrs. Peter John McGovern entertained a party at luncheon yesterday at the Shoreham. The guests included Mrs. Manuel H. Dimitriu, wife of the press secretary of the Roumanian Legation; Mrs. Milton E. Plans for Dublin Session Are Told Father Cartwright Says Eucharistic Congress to Draw Throng.

The Rev. John K. Cartwright, recently designated chaplain of the Baltimore Archdiocean Pilgrimage to the Thirty-first International Eucharistic Congress, Dublin, Ireland, next June, was back in Washington yesterday after a preliminary visit to Dublin.

Father Cartwright, again about his duties at Saint Patrick's here, was in contact with those in charge of arrangements for the congress. He said members of the Baltimore pilgrimage will be among the most fortunately situated from the standpoint of convenient accomodations.

He said an enormous throng is expected to attend from every part of the Catholic world. Arrangements already have been made for 20 ships to lie in Dublin at the docks or in Kingstown Harbor. Thirty foreign bishops have accepted invitations to attend.

Filipino Business Men Quit World Trade Body

Iloilo, P. I., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Filipino members in Iloilo of the International Chamber of Commerce, withdrew today in protest against a resolution adopted by the directors asking the American Congress for free trade between the Philippines and the United States for 20 years in the event of a change in the present governmental relations.

Interpreting the resolution as opposing immediate independence for the islands, the Filipinos resigned en masse and adopted a resolution asking immediate, absolute and complete independence.

Gas Corporation Sued By Oklahoma Governor

Waurike, Okla., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Suit for cancellation of the right to do business, appointment of a receiver and $365,095 damages, against the Lone Star Gas Corporation and four associate companies, operating in 26 Oklahoma cities, was filed in District Court late today by Leon Hirsh, attorney for Gov. W. H. Murray.

The companies were charged with unfair competition, discrimination in application of rates and failure to pay fees and report proper tax returns.

Clara Bow's Defamer Ill.

Los Angeles, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Critical illness of Frederick Girnau, convicted publisher of articles purporting to tell of affairs of Clara Bow, caused the United States district attorney to telegraph Washington authorities today for permission to remove Girnau to a private hospital from the county jail.

Warrenton Gives Firm Gas Privilege

Hopes to Have Fuel in Homes by First of Year; Other Towns Act.

Special to The Washington Post.

Warrenton, Va., Sept. 3.—The town council of Warrenton last night granted to the Virginia Gas Distribution Co. the privilege of laying mains in Warrenton and supplying natural gas for domestic purposes. The gas company, a subsidiary of the Columbia Gas & Electric Co., required that 140 citizens sign contracts to use gas.

Yesterday S. D. Harriman and A. K. Kennedy, the company's representatives, had 142 signed contracts and applied to the council for their franchise. Gas in the company's main, one mile east of town, was turned on Tuesday. This is the fifth city or town in the State to take gas. Lexington had gas turned on yesterday and Culpeper, Covington and Clifton Forge have all contracted for its use. The town of Buena Vista has also given the company a franchise.

It is the hope of the gas company to have gas ready for home consumption here by January 1.

Rabbi Wise Foresees New Palestine Policy

New York, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, returning today on the Leviathan from the Zionist Congress in Basel, prasied the vigor and courage with which he said the congress protested against the British administration of affairs in Palestine.

"The vigor with which the British dealt with the recent threat of Arab outbreaks in Palestine," he said, "may be considered England's response to the fearless and just demand made by the Basel Congress. This, I hope, is to prove the prelude to the new program of administration in Palestine."

Amy Johnson Is Forced To Land Plane in Russia

Moscow, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Amy Johnson, British woman flier who is flying back to England from Tokyo, made a forced landing this afternoon between Arsk and Kazan, about 500 miles east of here.

The landing was made necessary by fuel shortage. An urgent message brought a new supply and Miss Johnson continued on her way.

Franz Schalk, Musician, Dies in Austria, Aged 67

Vienna, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Franz Schalk, noted music director of the Vienna Opera House, died today at the village of Edlach, aged 67.

—FRANCES M'DONALD—

A HUSBAND IN THE KITCHEN.

WELL-A-DAY, what have we here? Most of us whose chief grudge against man is what he can do to a room in five minutes, will marvel at what Ellen has brought home from the matrimonial market. And those who have been waiting five years for a shelf to be put up in the bathroom may prepare to turn green with envy. Yet Ellen is not at all happy over her find. In fact, Ellen is ready to move out. Can it be that there are worse things than the common or garden variety of ash-spiller? Can you offer any help to Ellen? For we confess that Ellen has found a new sort of man so far as our experience goes. And we can not even be regretful over what we have missed in never having known one of these: Dear Frances McDonald:

If you tell me that I should be thankful I believe I will do something desperate, for I would rather have any sort of man than this kind. He snoops. He is into the ice box and the bread box and the laundry hamper. He examines the silver to see if it is kept polished. If there is a speck anywhere he instantly drops everything to attend to it. Looks through his glass to see if a bit of lint remains from the drying.

I hate dish washing. But any woman who can perform this chore in private or at least without a snooper at elbow should go down on her bended knees to give thanks for the blessing. He watches while I scrape the dishes. "You are not going to throw away that radish, are you?" And in the kitchen. "You had better heat some water, hadn't you, you can't wash dishes without scalding water." Then, "Isn't that towel getting too wet to use any more?" I can not begin to tell you how it is. Somehow it sounds trivial in writing but it is goading me to some sort of breakdown. It nearly got the best of me last night—I never in my life had the urge to strike anyone before and I had a milk bottle in my hand at that. He thought it should be dried before setting it out for the milkman. I nearly struck him with it. For a moment I thought I had. But I guess training and habit are stronger than sudden impulse, so I am writing to you instead of sitting in a police cell. I wonder how many women have found themselves there through nerves run ragged by some wretch of a man.

Now please understand that I am a very careful and neat housekeeper. My home is immaculate. I clean thoroughly once a week. Use the vacuum every day, and mop all floors. Use three towels to dry dishes for two people. Fresh napkins every meal. Do all table laundry myself. Clean electric icebox weekly. Yet he finds an occasional crumb and goes "Tsk-tsk-tak" in a great state of disgust, moves everything out on the floor and wipes out the box, as if he were being slowly poisoned by an insanitary home. What can I do with such material? His mother highly recommended him, which should have warned me. He brought her breakfast to her bedside for 10 years although she enjoyed excellent health. He is a fine housekeeper. I can recommend him to anyone who wants him. I do not. I feel as if I could never prepare another meal for him. I can not stand the man another day. What can I do?

ELLEN.

What, ladies, would you advise? Our own procedure would be so altogether fitting to the crime, we hate to suggest it. But is there any good reason why a woman should wash dishes for an expert? Here is a natural-born housewife. Why not let him perform as such? Have his bungalow apron ready for him, and let him get busy in his cheery little kitchen like the true little homemaker he is. Praise his cooking, and turn to the evening paper as he tidies up. Has anyone a brighter idea? Homicide is barred.

What Today Means to You

"VIRGO."

IF September 4 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a. m. to 12:15 p. m., from 3:45 p. m. to 6 p. m. and from 10:10 p. m. to midnight. The danger hours are from 1 p. m. to 3:10 p. m. and from 7 p. m. to 9:05 p. m.

September 4, according to astrological tendencies, is a nondescript day of no particular potentialities. However, engaged couples will do well to watch their step, as in some cases they will find a coldness creeping into their relationship which may end the attachment. Home conditions will be unsettled.

A child born on this September 4 will be extremely talented, but will suffer from a lack of self-control. It should be disciplined carefully during its early years, or otherwise will stand the risk of developing into a selfish and mean character. It will have a great deal of charm and an exceptionally ready wit.

You, if born on September 4, are a rather hasty and impetuous person. You invariably rush in where angels fear to tread, and only the gods can save you. You have too much self-assurance, and time will teach you that few of the things worth doing are done easily or superficially. You will find that your short-cuts will usually work out to be long detours. Life only pays dividends to bona-fide investors. Your fortune in life corresponds, not to your own estimate, but to the accumulated fund standing to your credit.

You have a good mind, but a lazy one, and you need to use more brawn. Your easy facility of mind enables you to pick up knowledge much quicker than the average individual, but you abuse this gift and rely upon it too much. You, however, are generous and patient with those who are not as mentally alert, and are always eager to lend a helping hand. You are an unaffected and a natural being; loving society and pleasure-seeking, you are never too tired to have a good time, and you are never a joy-killer. You make friends easily, and often take those into your confidence who later on prove betrayers. You have too much faith in human nature.

Your matrimonial ship requires careful navigation, as there is a danger of misunderstanding, and a consequent unhappiness creeping in, which can be saved only by a give-and-take policy.

Successful people born September 4:
Rollin Kirby, cartoonist.
Phoebe Cary, poet.
Daniel H. Burnham, architect.
Lyman C. Draper, historian and educator.
Richard R. Bowker, journalist.
Marcus Whitman, pioneer missionary.

Jane Corbett Interprets the Mode

Mme. La Fourrure knows her furs and how to wear 'em. (And how, says Dah-ray.)

New York, Sept. 3.

FURS, right now, be they scarves or coats, glove tops or chic little turbans, interest all women. Fur prices are down, you see, to where we never believed they could be, which interests many of us in the outright purchase. And fur repairing or remodeling prices are down, too, to the point where all of us who have been holding a perfectly good fur coat in storage until the glad day came when we could afford to have things done, feel that the time has come.

And because the prices of furs, new and remodeled, are so very reasonable there's danger that we lose our heads just a bit in getting these furs for ourselves. Just "a fur coat" isn't becoming to every woman; in fact, a fur coat of the wrong type or color for a woman's particular type, can make that woman look very badly indeed. Certain tytpes of furs; that is, short-haired or long-haired, seem especially designed to meet figure problems; certain colors flatter the complexion; certain types of furs are known as sports furs, daytime furs, dressy furs and evening furs. And the woman who goes ahead blindly, making over her fur coat into a coat of unbecoming lines will look so-o-o-o badly, when she might have thought a little and had her coat made into a beautifully becoming one.

Women who are buying new coats or scarfs, of course, have much more chance not to make original mistakes, but, on the other hand, there are many more mistakes into which they may fall. Suppose you buy a muskrat coat for evening, or a gray coat when your complexion just begs for a brown one? Or suppose she made her short, full figure even shorter and fuller by long-haired and clumsily fashioned pelts?

Oh, or lots of things. All these pitfalls for new and old fur owners were so interesting, though, that I made up a leaflet about them, to save you from going wrong in a furry way. 'N' this leaflet will be sent you in a hurry, just as soon as your stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Dare department of The Washington Post in time, my deahs, to prevent you making any serious fur errors this winter.

Hints From the Happy Housewife.

If the carved ivory beads you wear so proudly get yellow and dingy looking, or the ivory handle of your bag gets yellowed or stained from your gloves, do you sit down and wail loudly and helplessly? We hope not—wouldn't it be much more pleasant to sit down and rub them with a cloth dipped in a paste of salt and lemon juice? Especially as this mixture brings back to the ivory all its original whiteness.

• • • •

Last call for your stamped, self-addressed envelope for Dah-ray's own sly-with-three-uses leaflet that you just can't get along without.

• • • •

Au revoir!

Indoor—Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

PLANT MADONNA LILIES IN SEPTEMBER.

WHAT could be more inspiring or more truly beautiful than a plot of Madonna lilies and hardy larkspur?

Among all the garden lilies the lovely Madonna rules supreme, combining fragrance, stateliness and beauty. It adds a touch of chaste refinement to any garden, no matter whether it be pretentious or modest. Because of their pure white color these lilies fit into any garden color scheme.

The best effect can be obtained by planting them throughout your border in clumps of from eight to ten or even twelve bulbs. You may set them out at any time from the 20th of August until the last of September, but I think it is wise to give them as much time as possible to become well established before frost; therefore, I should advise getting them into the ground as early in September as possible. They flower from late June well into July, and from year to year their beauty increases.

These stately lilies, unlike some of their near relations, are not one bit particular about their surroundings, as they will thrive equally well in sun or shade, but prefer partial shade to be at their best.

They are very easy to grow. If people only realized what little care they require we would see more of them. Various kinds of soil seem to suit this lily of the annunciation. Always exercise some care in planting one of these bulbs. Set it three inches deep and to insure it against rotting in the ground before root action takes place it should have a dressing of clean sand all around the bulb. This also prevents pests of various kinds from getting at it and allows any excessive moisture to pass away freely.

All lily bulbs will root more quickly if you place a few handfuls of peat, finely broken up, under the bulbs when planting them.

Virginia Legion Urged To Political Activity

Richmond, Va., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Col. B. M. Roszell, chairman of the Virginia Department, American Legion, hospital committee, in a report released here today, said the legion must urge Virginia senators and representatives to keep after the Veterans' Administration and urge the administration to include Virginia's hospital in the building program to be undertaken when the next available building fund is set aside.

Culbertson on Contract

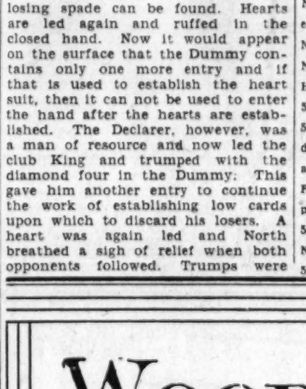
by Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

OPTIMISM PLUS ACCURATE PLAY.

THE optimist makes a better Bridge player than the pessimist. Speaking generally, it is better to assume the best than the worst will happen. Applied to Bridge, this means that when you value your hand lacking definite warnings of the rocks of distribution, you should not conjure up in your mind every dire thing that might happen, but rather picture what can happen if the cards break well. Today's hand centers around the bidding of two rather cheery optimists, one of them, however, had to season his optimism with accurate play in order to make the contract upon which they had embarked.

Both sides vulnerable. South dealer.



The Bidding:

(The figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.))

South	West	North	East
1♡	Pass	5◇(1)	Pass
6◇(2)	Pass	Pass	Pass

1—North's bid of five diamonds is based upon his partner's Opening bid and the probability of 7 tricks in his hand, either 6 diamond tricks and the cashing of the King of clubs, or if the King of clubs should not make a trick, the loss of no diamond tricks whatever. The distribution is such as to make it improbable that the diamond suit will break evenly around the table. To off-set this, however, is the chance of the King of clubs being worth a trick.

2—South's raise to six diamonds is perhaps unduly optimistic. His lack of diamond support is no bar, but the three Aces are not fortified with other honors. However, South knows that the hand contains no losers in clubs in all probability and there is a fair chance that the losing tricks in the hand can be limited to one.

In the play, East opens with a small club and North at once realizes that his task of making the contract is far from an easy one. The club trick is won with the Singleton Ace and the heart Ace laid down. The chance of making contract depends upon the outstanding hearts breaking evenly so that a discard for at least one losing spade can be found. Hearts are led again and ruffed in the closed hand. Now it would appear on the surface that the Dummy contains only one more entry and if that is used to establish the heart suit, then it can not be used to enter the hand after the hearts are established. The Declarer, however, was a man of resource and now led the club King and trumped with the diamond four in the Dummy. This gave him another entry to continue the work of establishing low cards upon which to discard his losers. A heart was again led and North breathed a sigh of relief when both opponents followed. Trumps were led and even when North discovered that he must lose a trump trick, there was nothing to mar the pleasure of his game. The trump was the only loser and West was forced into the lead on the third round with his high trump with North caring nothing as to the choice he might make of continuing the play of the hand. The bidding of the hand may have been slightly optimistic. The play throughout was extremely accurate.

TODAY'S POINTER.

When the partner of a player who has made a Takeout Double expects to defeat the double contract by an appreciable amount, he should pass for a penalty rather than make a Takeout bid. If partner has doubled a notrump bid, a penalty pass is justified when holding more than two honor tricks distributed in the hand based on the Rule of Eight. If partner has doubled a suit bid, a penalty pass is not justified unless holding at least four sure trump tricks.

104 ENTER ELECTION RACE IN ARLINGTON

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon. Va.

With filing closed, 104 persons have declared their intention to contest for the offices to be filled at the coming county election, on November 3. The heavy field results from the change in the county form of government, which provides for the election of five members to the county board in lieu of three members of the board of supervisors. A total of 51 persons will compete for these five posts.

In view of the claim by Capt. Crandal Mackey former Commonwealth's attorney, that the act of the General Assembly, which provided for the change in the form of government, is unconstitutional, seventeen persons have filed for the county board of supervisors as now constituted.

It is believed the ballot will be the largest ever presented to Virginia voters. It will be 40 inches long.

E. Wade Ball, who has held the office of county treasurer for Arlington County since January 1908, enters the race for reelection at the November election as the only candidate for a major post without opposition.

The full list of those who filed, which County Clerk William H. Duncan will certify to Claude O. Thomas, secretary of the county electoral board, is as follows.

For county board—W. O. Pickett, Clements F. Rauth, Mary B. Harris, Edward T. Morton, E. C. Turnburke, Elizabeth Barron Magruder, Albert H. Cohen, William Priess, Frank E. Martin, William E. A. McShea, Robert E. Plymale, Herbert L. Wilson, G. Samuel Warner, E. Freeland Chew, L. C. Lloyd, Lyman M. Kelly, C. H. Bowbeer, William Clifton Hull, James W. Head, Thomas S. Wallis, Col. J. P. Women Lead Men In Literacy Count Census Shows 4.3 Per Cent of U. S. Population Unable to Read.

(Associated Press.)

A United States population 4.3 per cent illiterate—4,283,753 persons over ten years of age unable to read or write in any language—was announced yesterday by the Census Bureau.

This represented a numerical drop of 648,152 since 1920, when the illiterates totaled 6 per cent.

Women, once the less literate portion of the population, surpassed men in the percentage able to read and write for a second decade.

The 1930 figures were women, 4,275 illiterate; men, 4,401.

Iowa held its lead as the most literate State, with but 0.8 per cent of its population unable to read or write. Washington and Oregon, tying with 1.0 per cent, were second.

Man Accused Here To Cross Continent

Realty Salesman Arrested in San Francisco on Charges.

Charles Ennis, salesman for the Country Club Properties, Inc., will be escorted under guard from San Francisco, where he is being held by police, to Washington, to appear before a District grand jury to answer an indictment charging larceny after trust which grew out of the investigation of sales of lots in Country Club Park and Argyle Park, Montgomery County, under the "free lunch, free lecture" system.

Ennis was indicted by a District grand jury last April in connection with a lot purchase. He was the only one connected with the luncheon-lecture sales promotion, accused of an illegal act.

WALTER MONTAGUE KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Baltimore Publisher's Car Overturns in Nebraska as Tire Blows Out.

Special to The Washington Post.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 3.—Walter P. Montague, Baltimore sportsman and president of the Montee Publishing Co., publishers of the Sports and Turf Digest, was killed today when his car overturned near Kimball, Nebr.

Mr. Montague, 47 years old, was returning to his home in Ruxton after a month's fishing trip in Nevada. According to his Negro chauffeur, Jim Bundy, a tire blew out as the car was speeding along, causing it to overturn. Mr. Montague was crushed beneath the wreckage. Bundy, whose home is on Stricker street, was slightly injured.

Immediately after receiving news of the death, Edgar G. Horn, vice president of the Montee Publishing Co., left for Kimball to bring Mr. Montagues body to Baltimore for burial in Greenmount Cemetery.

Mr. Montague was born in Virginia, but had been for years a resident of Baltimore. He was associated with a dry goods firm prior to entering the publishing field in 1924.

Mrs. Virginia Tyson Montague, his wife, was at Atlantic City, N. J., today with her brother-in-law, Joseph Walker, and his wife.

Besides his widow, Mr. Montague is survived by his mother, Mrs. Walter P. Montague, and three sisters, Mrs. George Barnett, widow of the late commandant of the Marine Corps; Mrs. Charles Phillip Hill, of Washington, and Mrs. Corinne Mustin Murray.

Fatal Injury Held Unavoidable.

A coroner's inquest was held yesterday afternoon in Alexandria to investigate the death of Preston Gray, colored, 14 years old, fatally injured on Wednesday afternoon when struck by a truck while roller skating. The accident was held to have been unavoidable. The truck was driven by George H. Robinson, 28.

ALEXANDRIA IS ASKED FOR CUSTIS PICTURE

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

The first business meeing of the city council yesterday handled a number of matters in an unusually long session.

The financial report for July showed a balance July 1 of $54,728.94, with total receipts of $78,082.13. Disbursements were $61,568.83, leaving a cash balance August 1 of $16,513.40.

A resolution providing for a temporary loan of $100,000, for general expenses in anticipation of the collection of taxes for the current city year, was held over.

A request from J. B. Fratz for rezoning of the property at the southwest corner of Patrick and Wilkes streets, to allow installation of a gasoline filling station, was held over. Request of George H. Robinson's Sons for permit to install a fuel oil tank at the northeast corner of Prince and Union streets, was granted, subject to certain restrictions.

A communication from Brig. Gen. L. H Bash, assistant to the Quartermaster General of the Army, in reference to the oil painting recently discovered in the city hall, believed to have been painted by George Washington Parke Custis, father of Mrs. Mary Custis Lee, in which Gen. Bash recounted that this picture is believed to have adorned Arlington Mansion until Mrs. Lee left there soon after the outbreak of the Civil War, and intimated that it would be a graceful act on the part of Alexandria either to donate the picture to the War Department to be replaced in Arlington Mansion, or to allow a copy to be made for that purpose.

A search of city records failed to reveal how the painting came into the possession of the city. The council directed that an acknowledgment be made of Gen. Bash's lette... the matter held over.

SILVER SPRING ASKS BOULEVARDS' WORK

Montgomery County Bureau of The Post, 9103 Conn. Ave., North Chevy Chase, Md. Telephone Wisconsin 4205.

Improvement at the earliest possible date of the Eastern and Western avenues, which bound the eastern and western sides of the District of Columbia, is urged in a resolution adopted by the Silver Spring Chamber of Commerce. A committee will be appointed to carry on an intensive campaign among other Maryland and District of Columbia civic and business organizations in the area affected by the proposed roads.

The resolution points out that the original Capital City plan conceived by Maj. L'Enfant includes provision for these two avenues and that the plan has been approved by the McMillian survey of 1901 and the plans of the present National Capital Park and Planning Commission. Execution of this plan offers the opportunity and location for the most magnificent, picturesque and useful major suburban highway project yet unbuilt in the District of Columbia, the resolution declares.

Park Extension Cited.

The rapid development of the areas adjacent to the proposed avenues is pointed out and the extension of Rock Creek Park into Montgomery County for an area as large as the District section as well as other developments in this area are pointed out as reasons why the work should be carried on at once in order that the orderly development of these areas might not be impeded by lack of adequate transportation routes.

"The actual improvement of Western avenue from the present terminus of the improvement of this great street at Pinehurst Circle, about midway between Connecticut avenue and Rock Creek Park to the north corner of the District and thence by way of Eastern avenue to Sixteenth street and Georgia avenue, will constitute one of the most magnificent, picturesque and useful highway projects available to the District and Federal Governments," the resolution states.

Western avenue already has been graded from Massachusetts avenue to Wisconsin avenue and graded and paved from Wisconsin avenue to Connecticut avenue and from Connecticut avenue to Pinehurst Circle, one-half the distance from Connecticut avenue to Rock Creek Park.

Resolution by Cissel.

The chamber voted unanimously at a well-attended meeting to petition the District Commissioners and the Director of the Budget to recommend to Congress that the improvement be carried out at the earliest possible date, and further voted to send copies of the resolution to the chairmen of the House committees of the two branches of Congress, the engineer of District of Columbia highways, Senators Millard E. Tydings and Phillips Lee Goldsborough and Representative David J. Lewis, of Maryland, accompanied by letters urging their cooperation.

The resolution was introduced by James H. Cissel, member of the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission and president of the Silver Spring Bank.

Legion Commander Named Alexandria's Police Chief

John S. Arnold, Selected for Captaincy, Is 33; Native of Indiana.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
Phone Alexandria 523.

John S. Arnold, lieutenant in the Alexandria Light Infantry and commander of Alexandria Post, No. 24, American Legion, has been selected by the city council and City Manager Wallace Lawrence for the post of captain of the Alexandria police. He succeeds Capt. W. W. Campbell.

Mr. Arnold is 33 years old and a native of Indiana, where he attended public and private schools. He moved to Culpeper, Va., seventeen years ago and was employed there until 1916, when he enlisted in Company B, Second Infantry, Virginia National Guard, and was called to service on the Mexican border in June of that year.

In 1917 he was mustered into the Federal service with the 116th Infantry at Camp McClellan, Ala., and went overseas in June, 1918. He returned to this country in March, 1919, and was mustered out of the service on March 17, 1919.

In 1923 he came to Alexandria and has been employed by the Universal Wireless Communications Co. and the Lindsey-Nicholson Co. in recent years. In February, 1931, he received an appointment to the United States Infantry School at Fort Benning, Ga., and was graduated in May, 1931.

As an officer of the Alexandria Light Infantry, Mr. Arnold is familiar with the arrangements of that company for rapid mobilization for possible riot duty, and as commander of the American Legion post he will have available for instant service in time of need the 600 members of that post, under the mobilization plans of the post.

FARR IS UNOPPOSED AS CANDIDATES FILE

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST.
P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va.
Phone Fairfax 166.

With yesterday the last day on which aspirants to various county and State offices could file their declarations of candidacy in the general election on November 3, it was apparent from the official list of persons qualifying made public yesterday that only Commonwealth's Attorney Wilson M. Farr, Democratic incumbent, will be unopposed.

For the State Senate John W. Rust, of Fairfax, Democratic nominee, will be opposed by William N. Norford, of Alexandria, Republican; L. C. Painter, of Hybla Valley, single tax Democrat, and Mrs. Julia Morgan Jones, of Potomac, Socialist. Mrs. Jones is the daughter of Joseph Morgan, of Newington, Fairfax County.

Edmund H. Allen, of Newington, Democratic nominee, will be opposed by W. B. Gray, of Oakton, Republican, for the House of Delegates, a position which has been filled for the past two years by Leon L. Freeman, of Vienna, Republican, who this year will oppose Dr. F. W. Huddleson, Democratic nominee, for reelection as county treasurer.

Kirby and Norris Opposed.

County Commissioner of Revenue James U. Kincheloe, Democrat, will be opposed by Benjamin W. Middleton, Republican, prominent farmer and dairyman, living near Herndon. Sheriff Eppa P. Kirby, Democrat, of Falls Church, will be opposed by L. B. Morris, Republican.

In Centreville magisterial district, D. W. Buckley, of Clifton Station, incumbent Democratic supervisor, will be opposed by Alexander L. Haight, Republican. R. D. Wharton, of Centreville, is seeking election as justice of the peace, and A. S. Mulholland, as constable.

In Lee district, Supervisor Kyle Davis, of Lorton, who was unopposed in the Democratic primary, will have as his opponent Robert H. Rice.

J. B. Parnell, of Franconia, is running as an independent in Mount Vernon district against the Democratic incumbent, W. F. P. Reid, of Groveton, who has served the district as supervisor for more than 20 years. The four offices of justice of the peace in that district are being sought by Arthur D. Kerby, of Groveton; Kelly Dove, jr., of Ingleside; Harry Shepherd, of Accotink, and F. J. Wease, Democrats, and A. Harmon Roberts, of Mount Vernon, Republican.

Two Qualify for Justices.

The Democratic nominee for supervisor from Falls Church district, Charles H. Powell, of Bailey's Cross Roads, will be opposed by W. T. Westcott, Republican, of Falls Church, former member of the Falls Church town council. Only two persons have qualified for the three vacancies as justice of the peace of that district. John T. Moling, of Falls Church, and John B. Dowden, of Baileys Cross Roads, both Democrats. Charles B. Runyon is seeking election as constable on the Democratic ticket.

G. Wallace Carper, of McLean, Democratic nominee for supervisor of Providence District will be unopposed for that office. Four persons are seeking to fill the vacancies as justice of the peace. They are H. Carlin Cockerell, of Colvin Run; H. Glenn Cunningham, of Vienna, and A. C. Ritchie, of Fairfax, Democrats, and Arthur B. Barringer, of Vienna, Republican.

The Democratic nominee for supervisor, W. H. Elmore, of Floris, will be opposed by Joseph A. Wheeler, Republican, of Brown's Chapel. George A. Williams of Herndon, Democrat, and Charles E. Gardner, of Dranesville, Republican, are seeking election as justice of the peace.

have a Clear Skin—

rich, red blood cells will help you . . . .

"I WAS determined to have a clear skin."

"Some one told me of S.S.S. * * * now I am so glad the last pimple is gone."

Of course you want a clear skin. Everybody does. It helps you win and hold friends. It makes for greater popularity.

Whatever treatment you may use for your complexion, remember the important fact that skin health depends upon the right number of red-blood-cells.

Skin specialists recognize that thin, weak, impoverished blood will not make for a clear, healthy glow of the skin.

More rich, red-blood-cells will help

A low red-blood-cell count often exhibits itself in one or more of the following symptoms:—paleness, quick fatigue, lack of normal resistance to disease, pimples, boils and general run-down condition.

A lagging appetite often leads to underweight and ill health in various manifestations.

You cannot be low in strength and be happy—let's be happy.

For generations S.S.S. as a tonic has been helping people gain New Strength, better health and happiness. Its successful record of over 100 years in restoring strength and vitality to the blood surely warrants your giving it a good trial.

You should know that S.S.S. has the distinct advantage of being composed of fresh vegetable medicinal ingredients in concentrated form * * * it is Mother Nature's formula.

Why not start taking S.S.S. today?—the larger size represents a price saving.

Builds Sturdy Health

Why you should be interested in your Blood Count

It is important to know that the red-blood-cells are the "ships" that sail in the blood stream and carry nourishment and oxygen to all parts of the body . . . they build and sustain—they also remove impurities from the tissues.

Whenever bad complexion or blemishes on the skin are due to a low blood count, or to a lagging appetite, the condition can be relieved or benefited by a course of S.S.S. If you are pale, or languid, give S.S.S. a trial. It may help you as it has helped thousands of others. It builds red-blood-cells. It is a splendid tonic.

(Upper) Microscopic view of healthy red-blood-cells. The blood stream should contain about 5,000,000 of these cells to the cubic millimeter. They carry nourishment and oxygen to every part of the body—they also remove impurities from the tissues.

(Lower) Weak red-blood-cells—only 60 per cent of normal strength—they lack the power to resist infection and disease or to rebuild flesh and to carry away the impurities. Such a condition is often responsible for body weakness, paleness, sallow complexion, pimples and boils.

Don't let them count you out!

OIL WELLS IN TEXAS REOPEN TOMORROW

Output of 225 Barrels Which Are Allowed Each Angers Gov. Murray.

Kilgore, Tex., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—The great east Texas oil field, which has been shut down under martial law since August 17, will be reopened at 7 a. m. Saturday under proration orders of the State Railroad Commission.

National Guard headquarters here was instructed late today by Gov. Ross S. Sterling to lift the shutdown Saturday and to assist the railroad commission in enforcing its orders under which each well in the field will be permitted an output of 225 barrels of oil daily.

Brig. Gen. J. F. Wolters, after receiving telephoned instructions from the governor, said martial law would continue in effect, but that only a skeleton force of troops will be retained in the 600 square mile area.

Half Normal Output.

Military surveys indicated production under the proration plan would be in excess of 400,000 barrels daily, about half of the total production before the shutdown was ordered by Sterling to prevent waste of natural resources and to bolster crude oil prices which had sunk to 10 cents a barrel.

Gov. Sterling acted to reopen the field after a long conference with the railroad commission, designated recently as the agency to administer the new oil and gas conservation act passed at a special legislative session. Previously he had balked at approving the commission's plan of fixing production on the basis of an equal amount for each well, contending it would be unfair to small operators and permit the major companies to push a drilling campaign for new wells.

Gov. W. H. Murray was explosive when informed at Oklahoma City that the proration order was going into effect.

"That won't do," he shouted.

The Oklahoma Governor initiated the martial law shutdown of oil fields and still has flush wells in his State closed, awaiting compliance with his demands that oil purchasers increase the price to $1 a barrel. Murray threatened tonight that if it became necessary in his fight for higher prices, he would initiate a bill by petition in Oklahoma that would give him the right to issue bonds, build State-owned oil refineries and pay for them from a tax on incomes of oil operators.

"It's a bad thing to allow each well to flow 225 barrels," Gov. Murray said. "They are losing a fight after they won it. I suggested it would be fair for Texas to produce 225,000 barrels for the entire east Texas field. Then Oklahoma and Kansas could allow a fair taking and we would get a proper price for oil in all three States."

What effect the east Texas reopening would have on prices for oil from that field and the midcontinent area in general remained in doubt tonight. Crude prices rose sharply during the shutdown period.

Sinclaim Meets Price.

The Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. today announced it had met the Gulf Pipe Line Co.'s east Texas crude posting of 68 cents a barrel. This was before the order to lift the shutdown was issued. None of the other major companies had met the price tonight.

During the chaotic rush for oil preceding the shutdown, there was no regular posted price in east Texas. Purchasers took what they wanted at as low a price as possible.

On August 17, there were approximately 1,600 producing wells. Since then drilling has been incessant and the number of wells capable of operating exceeds 1,800.

Under the commission's proration plan the incentive to drilling activities would be increased. Potential production of the field has not been determined, but many authorities believe production could be increased to around 1,000,000 barrels daily under the order.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

FRED STONE, the famous dancing comedian, for years half of the stage partnership of Montgomery and Stone, with the late Dave Montgomery, since the serious crack-up of his airplane, in which he all but lost his life, has rather caught the temper of the times. After a lukewarm New York reception in "Ripples," he has apparently sensed the change in public taste that has rendered the sort of extravaganza he and Montgomery used to put on distinctly passe.

A few days ago he sat in the office of J. J. Shubert—with whom he has signed for the forthcoming season—across the street from the Shubert Theater in New York. Gazing abstractedly out of the window, Stone suddenly remarked:

"Do you know I used to live where that theater stands? Yes, when Dave Montgomery and I were playing in 'The Wizard of Oz,' nearly 30 years ago. I used to live at 230—or perhaps it was 232—West Forty-fourth street. I could have leased the whole house and its site for a song. If I'd done so I'd be Lee Shubert's landlord today. But when I was playing in that piece I never dreamed what would happen to this street."

"Are you ever going to revive 'The Wizard of Oz?'" he was asked.

"It can't be done," he replied. "Dave is gone and a piece like that can't compare with the big, fast musical shows that are put on today. Why, 'The Wizard of Oz' was produced for $30,000. That's the cost of the finale of your first act today. Some of the old-timers might enjoy it, but the younger generation wouldn't sit through it. Oh, if it had a new book and a new score it might run a few weeks, but with those changes it wouldn't be a revival—it would be a new show."

All this, however, is beside the more important point that Mr. Stone has reported in New York in fine fettle to begin rehearsals for the new production in which he will be presented by the Shuberts in October.

A long summer vacation spent in fishing with his brother-in-law, Rex Beach, the novelist, has effected a complete recovery from the disastrous results of that airplane accident that would have killed any one less rugged.

He has not been up in a plane since the crash, nor will he be as long as Mrs. Stone, the former Allene Crater of the musical comedy stage, has anything to say about it. Not so long ago Stone thought he would go up in an autogiro, but Mrs. Stone completely outthought him on the subject and he remained thoroughly grounded in husbandly duty! Now, he declares, he will never fly again as long as he has a family to support—although he is many times a millionaire and takes great pride in the fact that his daughter Dorothy, who is playing in London, now earns as much as he does.

Possibly as nothing more than a sop to Cerberus, there will be an airplane scene in the new Stone show He insists there are a lot of stunts he can do with one on the stage even if he is not so hot as an aviator out under the blue canopy of heaven, where old Mother Earth has an unfortunate way of coming up and slapping you apart.

Stone belongs to that small group of actors that includes George M. Cohan and a few others who, by reason of their clean-mindedness, high ideals as to the function of the theater and unquenchable penchant for wholesome fun, can ill be spared from American amusements.

Now would be a perfectly elegant time to revive "Oh, Listen to the Band," that old-time hit from "The Runaway Girl"—or was it?—because that is what a lot of people will be doing Saturday morning at 10:30 when the Fox Theater Military Band hies itself public concerting in the Sylvan Theater for the first time.

Despite the fact that the band is only two weeks old, Capt. J. B. McKenzie is confident that his aggregation of approximately 300 lads and lassies will be able to turn out some music that will cause the populace to stop, look and prick up its ears. There are 80 members in the senior branch, already well grounded in the rudiments of music and the uses of the various reed choirs, brass families, tympani, &c., essential to a well-rounded instrumental ensemble. Then, too, there is the beginners' section, which will also be on hand Saturday morning.

Progress has been sufficiently rapid to prompt the Fox Movietone News, under the managerial direction of Arthur De Titta, to make both a pictorial and sound record of Saturday's concert on the Monument Grounds.

For the information of aspirants to membership, the Fox Military Band meets every Saturday morning on the stage of the Fox Theater for rehearsals—beginners at 8 o'clock, seniors at 9. Boys and girls from 7 to 18 years of age are eligible.

The suspicion has been confirmed that drastic changes in house schedules would be occasioned at the Earle over the holiday week-end by the combined attraction of Joe E. Brown, in person, and Walter Huston and Charles "Chic" Sale in "The Star Witness," on the screen.

On Labor Day, next Monday, doors at the Earle will be thrown open to the public at 9 a. m., with the first performance beginning at 9:30.

The engagement of Joe E. Brown in the flesh is limited to a single week by reason of the curtailed nature of his present tour. Only six key cities are being included in the comedian's itinerary. Immediately following his appearance at the Earle he entrains for the West Coast to fulfill the new Warner Bros. contract under which he becomes the highest salaried contract comic on the screen.

Announcement is made by the managements of the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Society and the Philadelphia Orchestra Association that the concert bureau of the late T. Arthur Smith, located in the establishment of the Homer L. Kitt Music Co., 1330 G street northwest, was reopened September 1, under the management of Renoux J. Smith.

Season tickets for the series of symphony concerts to be given locally by both celebrated organizations are now available to subscribers.

During the forthcoming season, the Philadelphia Orchestra will be heard here in four concerts, under the conductorship of Leopold Stokowski, Fritz Reiner and Bernardino Molinari; the Philharmonic in three, two conducted by Arturo Toscanini and one by Bruno Walter.

Searles' Divorce Reply Cites Attempts on Life

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Charges that on two occasions his wife, Mrs. Mabel Margaret Searles, tried to kill him were filed here today by Victor A. Searles, of Palm Beach and Atlantic City, in his answer to her suit for alimony and separate maintenance.

Once, the answer said, she attempted to slay him with a butcher knife and he was forced to flee, and again she attempted to kill him and herself by running an automobile over an embankment, it was alleged.

Loan to Cuba Renewed.

Havana, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—A $20,000,000 loan by the Chase National Bank to Cuba has been renewed for 60 days, it was announced today. It is secured by a $40,000,000 issue of public works 5½ per cent bonds, due in 1945 and held by the Cuban treasury.

TARIFF UNION PLAN FORMALLY DROPPED

Better Relations Are Urged Between Capitalistic States and Soviet.

Geneva, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—The Austro-German Customs Union project, one of Europe's most vexing political problems, was formally abandoned today at the meeting of the European commission. Immediately afterward the commission was called upon to banish another menace to world peace by improving relations between Soviet Russia and capatalistic nations.

Both Dr. Julius Curtius and Dr. Johann Schober, German and Austrian foreign ministers, announced to the representatives of 24 nations participating in the meeting that their governments no longer would pursue the customs union project.

The call to face the Russian problem came from Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, who avowed in tones of impressive earnestness that unfriendly feelings between his country and the capitalistic powers were the outstanding cause of fear and distrust throughout the world. Fear and distrust, he said, are universally recognized as the fundamental reasons for the world's economic disorders.

Renunciation by the Germanic states of their plan for intimate commercial union was warmly received by spokesmen for France and Czechoslavakia, the two powers most alarmed by the project which, they held, would pave the way for Austro-German political union.

The first practical result of the renunciation will be that France—relieved of her fears—will grant much-needed financial assistance to Austria, now virtually prostrate.

Hoover's Leadership Assailed by J. I. France

New York, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Former Unied States Senator Joseph Irwin France, of Maryland, who has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for President, criticized the administration and offered solutions for current difficulties here and abroad in a precampaign statement here today

Due to the lack of leadership in the Hoover regime, the Republican candidate in 1932 will have a difficult time winning, Mr. France replied, when asked what he thought of Democratic chances.

Improvement Is Noted For Maj. Gen. Crowder

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—The condition of Maj. Gen. Enoch Crowder, retired, Army officer and former Ambassador to Cuba, showed slight improvement today. He was taken to a hospital late yesterday.

Constance Bennett In Hospital.

New York, Sept. 3 (U.P.).—Constance Bennett, movie star, whose $30,000-a-week salary was criticized by a group of motion picture exhibitors several days ago, entered a New York hospital today. Miss Bennett, it is understood, has not fully recovered from an appendicitis operation 18 months ago.

Walker's Aid Gone, Seabury Aroused

Disappearance of Sherwood, Wanted for Quiz, Called Suspicious.

New York, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Chief Counsel Samuel Seabury, of the legislative committee investigating the city government, today described as a "suspicious circumstance" the disappearance of Mayor Walker's personal accountant, Russell T. Sherwood, from an Atlantic City hotel, where he was found after it became known he was wanted for questioning.

"It is difficult for me to reconcile this action," he said, "with the repeated assurances that have been given that those close to the mayor have nothing to hide."

While he described Sherwood as a "personal agent" of Mayor Walker, Seabury said the matters he wanted to question him about did not concern the mayor's personal affairs, but were business affairs.

SUMMER COMFORTS FOUND AT WOODLAND

They are offering courses in almost everything these days and when the first course in "How to Spend the Summer in Comfort" is offered, its first rule probably will be "Spend the Summer at Woodland Beach."

Woodland Beach has become the most popular resort in this section of the country since its advantages were first placed before the residents of Washington some four months ago. It has been the scene of many outings and hundreds have enjoyed the recreational features which make it so attractive.

There are many cottages sprinkled over the beach property, erected by persons who bought lots when the beach was first opened, and who wanted to get every minute's enjoyment possible out of this delightful spot on the South River in Maryland.

Those cottagers are being augmented daily by other buyers who are on the scene either building or planning to build homes where they, too, may enjoy the comforts of cooling breezes, swimming, boating and fishing, while others remain to swelter in the city.

Buying lots at Woodland Beach is easy. The cost is only $93 per lot, of which only $9, together with a subscription to The Washington Post need be paid before selecting a location. The remainder may then be paid at the rate of $3.50 per month.

There are still some choice locations available for those who want to be prepared for next summer and who also want a place for fall and spring outings. Details may be obtained at The Washington Post any day.

FRIDAY SEPTEMBER 4 SPORTS

OUIMET AMONG 4 U. S. AMATEUR GOLF SURVIVORS

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

WITH the links at Chicago littered with the hopes of the favorites and the predictions of the experts in a wholesale eruption of upsets in the national amateur golf tournament, it is now meet and proper to discuss the whys and wherefores of such form reversals.

Old Man Upset is no respecter of reputation when he is abroad in the land. The bigger they are the better he likes them, does this old bogey man of sports. He's a sure starter in every tournament, everywhere athletes convene. The qualifying rounds never feaze him and he's a threat right up to the finals.

Golf is one of his pet subjects. The big tournaments are especially susceptible to his influence. He dotes on the spotlight. His record on the baseball diamond and the football field is fully as impressive as his achievements on the links. He doesn't shy from the tennis courts, either, and on horse racing he is a mighty factor. He hovers about the prize ring industry with an ominous presence. He can never be underestimated.

Inferior Golfer Wins

The national amateur is particularly conducive to the operations of Old Man Upset. It is here that he lifts a mediocre golfer to the top of his game which is good enough to beat a superior golfer in the throes of an average round. The short 18-hole rounds which precede the 36-hole tests in the amateur are Old Man Upset's favorite stamping grounds. On Wednesday he removed from the competition such notables as George Voigt, Johnny Goodman, Gene Homans and Charley Seaver. All of these were seeded among the first ten.

The qualifying rounds also felt his presence. Jimmy Johnston, ranked No. 1; Dr. Willing, his colnalist in 1929, and Phil Perkins, prime British threat, failed to make the grade. Their game, far off color, was not good enough to match the inspired play of the fortunate 32, many inferior golfers among them who made the qualifying circle.

The best golfer doesn't always win. Even at his best he can be topped by a foe that is shooting over his head, as they say. One tournament is not a fair test. Over a season the best golfer might prevail, but not in any given tourney.

Baseball Not Immune

The 1923 Yankees, acclaimed the best ball club of their time, won the pennant in a romp. Undoubtedly the best team in the league. But they were beaten over the season's play by the lowly White Sox, the only team to top them in the 22 contests that each club plays against another.

An eighth-place club frequently knocks off the league leader. But that can't be classed as an upset. One good pitcher holds the answer to the apparent disparity in strength. With pitching recognized as 60 per cent of a team's strength, a clever pitcher with an inferior team holds a fine chance of victory. But over a season's play, the best team wins. Baseball, comparatively, is free from the influence of Old Man Upset.

Football holds out great possibility for upsets in the very scoring system now in use. One mistake of the opposition, such as a fumble, can enable an inferior team to score a touchdown that counts fully as much as a sustained 90-yard drive down the field. From such events, upsets are recorded. A team with a rock-ribbed defense and no attack to speak of can capitalize an opponent's mistakes and win a football game on one play.

Racing and Boxing

Upsets are so common on the race track that they are taken for granted. So many factors enter into the running of a horse race that form reversals are rather the rule than the exception. Unbeknown to the bettors or even the trainer, a steed may be off his feed and run a dull race when he is expected to win. He may get all the worst of the running, being sloughed, bumped and cut off. He may not like the condition of the track. But his defeat still goes down in the records as an upset.

The most common upsets in the prize ring industry are due directly to the underrating of a newcomer or the overrating of the veterans. The public refused to allow for the fact that Dempsey had become ring rusty in his first bout with Tunney. He was rated as the same old Dempsey when he was just an old leg-weary veteran whose best days were behind him. Corbett, the San Francisco bank clerk, didn't stand a chance against Sullivan in the prefight dope. He was as much underrated as Sullivan was overrated. Hence boxing's biggest upset of the era.

But wait. Wrestling proves something. It's the only sport now extant to defy the influence of Old Man Upset. The best wrestler always wins—until he has outlived his usefulness at the box office. Old Man Upset enters the scheme of things only on invitation of the mat moguls.

Nats-Yankees Resume Here In 4 Games

Twin Bill Tomorrow to Mark Battle for Second Place.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

ANOTHER one of those important series faces the Nationals. They will battle the Yankees this afternoon, tomorrow in a twin bill, and Sunday, in a set which will have a great bearing on which of these two teams finishes second in the race. The position itself means little, but if there is one thing better than money which a player likes, it is more money, and the difference to each player between second and third figures several hundred dollars.

Manager Walter Johnson hopes to use Fred Marberry on the hill this afternoon, but the big Texan complained of a slight arm soreness in Philadelphia and, if he has not yet worked it out of the wing, will be held over and Carl Fischer, young southpaw, will get the call. Skipper "Marse Joe" McCarthy is almost sure to call on Henry Johnson to carry the alien mound burden.

The Nat leader was most enthusiastic last night over the manner in which his charges disported themselves earlier in the week, winning three games from the Mackmen and one from the Yankees since last Sunday with no losses smearing their slate.

Johnson Foresees Fast Finish.

"We got good pitching, some timely hitting, and the boys showed lots of pep and hustle in those Philadelphia and New York games," said Johnson, "and, if we continue to get it, we should have no trouble finishing second again. I know 'if' is a big word, but I look for us to finish up traveling somewhere near the rate of speed I had hoped we would show at the start of the race."

With the Mackmen already "in," this second-place fight is all that is keeping the American League alive these days. Although winning four straight from their closest rivals, the Nationals managed to gain but half a game on the Yankees and start this series with the small lead of one and one-half games. Four contests are scheduled with them on this stand, making it possible either for the lead to shift or for the Nats to extend it, unless the two should happen to get an even break.

Johnson Dispenses With Practice.

With strenuous battles with the Yankees and Mackmen just behind them and the current "croocial" set staring them in the face, the Nats were excused from practice yesterday. Despite this and the morning rain, most of them showed up at the stadium, probably just to make sure that the paymaster's office had not been moved.

There is great consternation in Philadephia over the injury which has put Bob (Lefty) Grove, Mackian pitching ace, on the shelf. The great southpaw for years has suffered on occasions from a blister which grows and finally breaks under the nail of the middle finger of his pitching hand, and this is the cause of his present lay-off.

According to Al Schacht, however, the Macks need not worry. "Lefty showed me his finger before Wednesday's game and it is not particularly bad," said the Nat coach. "He said it hurt him a little, but I watched him warm up and he showed me as much speed as I've ever seen him have, sore finger or no sore finger. Take it from me, he'll be ready in plenty of time for the series."

Tigers Check Chisox In Series Opener, 9-3

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Detroit won the first heat in the battle of sixth place with the White Sox this afternoon by sinking the Hose, 9 to 3 in the opener of the series. The Tigers won by scoring six runs in the third inning on only three hits. These scores were enough to give Art Herring a victory.

The four golfers pictured above yesterday reached the semifinals in the national amateur tournament at Chicago. RAIN DELAYS JUNIOR NET FINALS

Cohn-Wallace Meet at Wardman Today at 10 A. M.

SEVERAL valiant attempts to stage the final round of the Wardman Park Hotel invitation junior championship were stalled yesterday afternoon as persistent rain kept Jay Cohn, of Santa Monica, Calif., and Don Wallace, of Montclair, N. J., under cover. The hotel courts, of a quick-drying sort, were fit for play almost throughout the day, but the racquets of the contestants could not have withstood the moisture.

The two hard-hitting youths, who last week fought it out for the junior championship of the Atlantic Coast at Ocean City, N. J., will come together this morning at 10 o'clock. Cohn, holder of the national boys' title in 1929 and 1930, and present Atlantic Coast champion, is figured to have an edge over his taller and harder-hitting rival.

D. C. Boys Appear In Doubles Final.

Also postponed from yesterday until today was the final round of the doubles, in which Cohn and Wallace, paired, were to meet the D. C. combination of Gilbert Hunt and Clyde Smith. This match will be played this morning immediately after the singles final. This is to be done in order to permit Wallace to catch a train for home, where he is scheduled to appear in a sectional finals this afternoon.

Cohn defeated Wallace in four sets in the only match they have played. The victory was scored at Ocean City. Steady to the point of the remarkable, Cohn also packs one of the greatest forehand wallops ever seen here.

Max's Title by Default Is Sought by Carnera

New York, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Unless Max Schmeling, world's heavyweight champion, returns from Germany in time to meet Primo Carnera here on September 7, Leon See, manager of the strapping Italian, will lay claim to the title.

See made known his intention today in a long telegram to Gen. John V. Clinnin, president of the National Boxing Commission at Chicago. He asked the commission to support him in his claim, if and when it is made.

See related the Madison Square Garden Corporation, of Illinois, had had Carnera and Schmeling under contract to fight since January 19 last. The big Venitian, he asserted, has been training faithfully for the fight up at Orangeburg, N. Y.

There is slight possibility that Schmeling will uphold his end of the contract, since German physicians recently advised him to stay out of the ring for "some time," the result of an eye injury received in the Stribling bout at Cleveland.

Reds Win 4th Straight Over Cubs in 10th, 3-2

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—The slipping Cubs, now only a half game out of fourth place, today dropped their fourth game to the Reds by 3 to 2, Roush's single scoring Douthit with the winning run in the tenth. Crabtree's home run into the right field bleachers featured the Red's attack.

Owen Carroll had the better of Pat Malone in a tight pitching argument, limiting the visitors to seven hits. Besides hitting Malone for the winning run, Roush also pounded out a double and another single.

Pegler and Doctor Agree That Gambling Course Is Needed in Colleges

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The decision of the United States Post Office Department to suppress the news of the British race lotteries in the interests of public morality brings an indignant letter, signed Donald McCaskey, M. D. As a psychiatrist, the writer holds that in certain mental conditions it is as helpful to the patient to have a bet on some proposition as it is in other conditions for the patient to read a book, attend a concert or gossip with entertaining friends.

Conceivably, a doctor holding by this theory of healing might decide that the sort of bet which would be precisely right for an afflicted human being would be one $5 ticket in the Irish Hospital sweep. In extreme cases he might, in his scientific judgment, decide that the patient required a strong dose and recommend a whole book of twenty tickets.

Resents Limitation Place On "Prescriptions."

The medical profession has shown some irritation over the assumption by common fly-cops connected with the Treasury Department of the right to censor their judgment regarding their patient's needs of alcoholic stimulants. And now, under the rule of bureaucracy, this Dr. McCaskey apprehends that some assistant postmaster general, appointed, perhaps, from the meat market business as a reward for political service to his congressman, will have the right to overrule his conscientious decision that some suffering patient can not get well on medicine less strong than one or more tickets in some million-dollar pool. When the agents for the enforcement of prohibition recommended sarsaparilla in lieu of spiritus frumenti, an assistant postmaster general would disallow the lottery prescription altogether and let the patient go definitely nuts.

The lottery is a form of gambling which is a habit-forming vice, and therefore Dr. McCaskey may not give the medicine which his judgment recommends, although he may, at his discretion, administer cocaine or morphine.

Cocaine Is O. K. But Sweep Is Taboo.

He could, of course, bootleg the tickets to his patient, but it is not a problem of supply that annoys him, for tickets on the Irish Hospital, the Calcutta, the Caliente, the London Stock Exchange and the Canadian Veterans' sweeps and the Cuban State lotteries have been easily obtainable for years and doubtless will be for years to come. His indignation arises from the fact that the postal law was framed without consideration for the remarkable medicinal powers of the commodities which are unreservedly forbidden.

"Furthermore," he writes, "I wish to simplify an idea I have entertained for years, both as a father and as a psychiatrist. It is my idea that every American college ought to have a professorial chair to teach the young people of our country the fundamentals of all forms of gambling, from crap shooting and bridge down to betting on golf, which is the lowest form of gambling I know of, with the possible exception of the turkey raffle. I would recommend intercollegiate poker meets and, for all-around proficiency in all these important studies, I would organize a new sort of Phi Beta Kappa, whose insignia would bear that beautiful device, the royal flush on one side and a pair of crap-dice on the other with the five-deuce showing.

Pegler Feels Need of Course In Gambling.

In this matter, the doctor has touched upon a project that I have had in mind for some time.

Never a good gambler myself, but always willing, I have suffered much from a lack of well-ordered early schooling in the psychology and technique of games and have often regretted that the hours I spent drawing pictures on the margin of the algebra book could not have been devoted to the study of roulette, poker and craps.

Comparatively few persons in after years have any recourse to algebra, and if they presently do come upon a problem which would yield to this science, then quite likely they have forgotten the formulas, anyway. But there comes many a time in the life of almost every man and woman when it would be of great value to know whether to bet them up or fold them up in poker, whether to let it ride or take some down in craps. In such crises they have nothing but instinct to guide them, and, as Col. (Ever-Loving) Bradley, of Palm Beach, has often said, the average sucker beats himself at games because he is afraid to win as much as he is willing to lose. That is to say, when he is a little bit ahead he shortens his bets, trying to conserve his winnings, but when he falls back, he keeps on playing until the house has more of his money than he ever had of theirs, or its.

Scientific Training in Gambling Public Need.

Public gambling has increased in this country in recent years to such an extent that any person of average taste and fairly wide circulation is likely to feel the need of scientific training every now and again. In the lack of this schooling, however, most people are strictly defensive gamblers, afraid of games which have a great advantage of them. The defensive gambler, of course, can not win.

The binominal theorem, whatever that may have been, has been no good to me, and I wish there had been some one on the faculty like Col. Bradley or Tex Rickard to explain the mathematics and psychology of the inside straight instead.

Dempsey Stops 2 Foes in 1st Round

Aberdeen, Wash., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Jack Dempsey knocked out two opponents in one round each and went through two fast rounds with another in a four-round exhibition here last night.

Tom Moore, Los Angeles heavyweight, first to face the former heavyweight champion, was counted out after being knocked down three times.

The second man to face Dempsey, Al Zavaney, of Portland, was knocked down by the first punch and took the count.

Denny Lenhart, of Portland, then went two rounds against Dempsey, taking a severe body punishment and an occasional blow to the head. He got in a few blows himself, but they apparently failed to trouble Dempsey.

COCHET SAYS 'NO' TO PRO CAREER

Curley Sails Without Signing France's Tennis Ace.

PARIS, Sept. 3 (U.P.).—Jack Curley, American sports promoter, sailed for home today without a contract binding Henri Cochet to professionalism, and France breathed a sigh of relief, convinced that with Cochet an amateur, the Davis Cup will remain here for at least two years more.

It was Curley who lured William T. Tilden 2d from the amateur ranks last year, and he admitted that the object of his journey to France was to sign Cochet to tour the United States this fall and winter. Later he hoped to make a world tour with Tilden, Vincent Richards, Karel Kozeluh and Cochet as the prima donnas.

Curley Gives Up Cochet Case.

"But Cochet will not turn professional," the promoter said. "I have given up hope of persuading him."

Cochet, who used to be a ball boy on the courts, is now a successful business man with all the spending money he wants. His good friend, Rene LaCoste, aided him in installing a sporting goods store in downtown Paris. He has three employes, but feels that if he left Paris on a world barnstorming tour his business would suffer. His friends, moreover, apparently convinced him that turning professional would rob him of much prestige and endanger his business.

Pirates Hit Grimes To Beat Cards, 6 to 4

Pittsburgh, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—The league-leading St. Louis Cardinals dropped the first game of the series to Pittsburgh today, 6 to 4, the Pirates clouting Burleigh Grimes hard in the second and third innings to account for all their markers.

French, starting Buccaneer hurler, was driven from the mound in the second.

Schulte, Melillo Star As Browns Rout Tribe

St. Louis, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Led by Fred Schulte and Oscar Melillo, the St. Louis Browns pounded out a 11-to-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians here today in the series opener.

With a double and three singles in five trips to the plate, Melillo drove in five runs and Schulte scored four times on his three hits, including a home run and double and once when he got to first on an error.

blocked by the renowned Bobby Jones. With Bobby just a spectator now, the popular Bostonian has no such human hazard to face this time, even though he meets another keen, determined Southerner in the Virginia boy.

Ouimet and McCarthy have played by far the most consistent golf of the remaining title contenders to justify their position as favorites in the fight for the title relinquished by Jones. Ouimet's 74 over the first round today was as sound, if not quite as spectacular, as McCathy's in the morning, but was considerably steadier in the afternoon. Westland's 77 in the morning and 76 in the afternoon represented good but far from brilliant golf.

McCarthy 7 Up at End of First Round.

McCarthy's morning margin of 7 up on Coleman turned this match into a rout. It was just as well the black-haired New York boy had this commanding edge, however, for he dropped three holes on the outward nine of the afternoon round with an outburst of erratic golf before settling down. Coleman put his last reserve into his comeback. McCarthy applied the finishing pressure by starting back 3—5—3—4, even par, and ending the match on the thirty-first green.

Ouimet did not begin to shake off Jackson until after they had halved the first five holes. The veteran then took four in a row with par golf, went to lunch six up, and had little difficulty settling the match on the thirtieth hole. Jackson won only one hole in the morning round and captured three more in the afternoon in a game but futile attempt to check his more experienced rival. Ouimet missed a hole-in-one by only eight inches on the 110-yard twelfth hole, over the water, in the morning. He was seldom in trouble and his shotmaking around the greens left Jackson few loopholes.

Howell and Bolstad shifted advantages rapidly as both showed signs of tournament wear. The Virginia youngster was 2 up after nine holes, then became extremely erratic, wandered into a flock of traps and became 2 down at the eighteenth. It was an entirely different story after lunch, with Bolstad pale and obviously sick. The St. Paul entry dropped five of the first seven holes on the outward journey and became 3 down.

Howell's Margin Is Cut to One On 28th Hole.

Bolstad had one more rally in his system, however. Playing grittily against a severe handicap and despite some bad breaks on the greens, he cut Howell's margin to one hole at the twenty-eighth, then halved the next three. The effort was costly, however. Howell's steadier golf gave him the thirty-second and thirty-third, then a half at the thirty-fourth, to end the match.

Westland's putting lapses nearly cost him his match with Yates. The Chicagoan, who started the tournament Monday with dazzling work on Beverly's tricky greens, to lead the first day's qualifying field, three-putted a half dozen holes today at critical moments. His ability to recover, however, plus Yates' periodical wildness, put Westland in front at the end of the morning round. He was never headed, thereafter, although Yates fought to the last stroke and squared the match three times in the afternoon. Ducky's struggle with the rough on the thirty-sixth hole proved his final undoing after he had evened the fight at the thirty-fifth. He needed four shots to reach the home green and lost after missing a side hill putt from 10 feet.

The Ouimet-Howell semifinal match tomorrow starts at 8:30 a. m. (Central Standard). Westland and McCarthy will tee off at 8:45.

Jackson Colt Beats Meek 3 Lengths

Mordrom Repeats in Fourth After Taking Long Lead.

Grand Rox Has Rough Journey But Wins in Opener.

Special to The Washington Post.

MARLBORO, Md., Sept. 3.—Despite the inclement weather, a crowd of 6,000 turned out today and they saw some sparkling racing, with the day's outstanding event, the 6½ furlongs of the third race, going to Mrs. E. Jackson's Muskoday, a 3-year-old bay son of Sunference and The Squaw.

It was necessary for Jockey Paul Haines to apply his whip continually to Muskoday in order to keep him from running out at the turns. However, he accomplished the task and had the Baltimore-owned thoroughbred home three lengths in advance of Mrs. Ben Chapman's Meek, with P. M. Catalino's Gay Widower heading the remainder of the field.

Rain Turns Track Into Sea of Mud.

Rain which started late last night, and which was in evidence at post time, turned the racing strip into a sea of mud.

The Tennessee Stable's Mordrom, one that galloped to victory several days ago over a fast track, showed a fondness for mud today, when he raced 6½ furlongs in 1:27 to win and whip a field of seven.

Johnny Pierce, who is riding in fine form at this meeting, sent the 5-year-old chestnut son of Morvich and Dromore away on top and at no stage could his opponents get close. At the end Mordrom was four lengths clear of H. B. Codd's Lew Black, with C. L. Brimmer's Sandy San heading the rest of the starters.

Clint Smithson, of Washington, showed a nice 2-year-old in Grand Rox, a gelded son of Baby Grand and Roxana, who raced 5½ furlongs in the day's opener to whip A. M. Herkness' Huntingdon, a 3-year-old.

Grand Rox had trouble making the turns and hit the outside fence at every corner. Despite this, he closed fast enough in the stretch to whip his older rival and six others.

Vacant, 4-year-old bay gelded son of Volta and Envy, carried the silks of Mrs. W. E. Martin, of New York, to an easy score in the second, paying $15.70. The gelding broke on top, but was unable to shake off Miss Widworthy, the favorite, until well in the stretch, but he proved the gamer and was drawing away at the wire. Third money went to P. M. Cantalano's Grierson.

Royal Charge Towropes Field in 5th.

The mud which prevailed today proved just to the liking of Mrs. E. Jackson's Royal Charge and the aged gelding literally towroped his field in the mile and one-sixteenth of the fifth.

Joe O'Malley sent Royal Charge on top after going a half and when he turned for home a half-dozen lengths in front O'Malley started easing his mount, which enabled the Merryland Stable's Merry Mack to get within a length and a half of him at the wire. W. H. Denham's Fair Dawn was a fast going third.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—DICK MORRIS, $10.96, $7.48, $6.64; MAECENAS, $50.18, $22.56; OUTER HARBOR, $10.22.

DICK MORRIS raced to the front with a rush in the opening three-sixteenths, was rated along under steadying restraint at the turn and, continuing well under occasional brisk pressure in the stretch, held the lead safe. MAECENAS lost ground while working his way up at the stretch turn and, closing fast, headed OUTER HARBOR in the final strides. The latter, a forward factor throughout, held on gamely. FUDGE had speed, moved up slightly after reaching stretch, but weakened in the final eighth. BARON KING began slowly and, although hard urged, failed to get up. THE OKAH had no mishap. HIGH POCKETS quit. MY HOBBY appeared to sulk.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,200; allowances. The Geneva Purse. For 2-year-olds. Start good. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 3:18. Off at 3:19. Winner, J. W. Parrish's ch. c. (2), by High Time—La Blanche De Briante. Trained by W. Crump. Value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23 3-5, 0:48 3-5, 1:16.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—COLD CHECK, $7.48, $3.62, $2.84; BLACK STRAP, $3.22, $2.50; CEE TEE, $3.44.

COLD CHECK, easily best and handling his impost well, was under steadying restraint until reaching the final sixteenth, where he bettered his position rapidly and, disposing of BLOCK STRAP, came away fast. The latter, taken to the front, made the early pace under aggressive riding, readily gave way to the winner and, despite swerving, outstayed CEE TEE. The latter began slowly, raced wide the final half mile and held on fairly well. ZEAN weakened. SUNIDAY had no mishap.

FOURTH RACE—One mile. Purse, $1,300; claiming. The Crystal Lake Purse. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 3:45½. Off at 3:47½. Winner, Mrs. R. Pollard's b. c. (4), by Sand Mole—On Parade. Trained by R. Pollard. Value to winner, $950; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23 4-5, 0:48 2-5, 1:14 4-5, 1:41 2-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—GUIDE RIGHT, $7.04, $4.14, $3.84; TIGER PRINCE, $9.80, $6.00; THE SOUTHERNER, $8.02.

GUIDE RIGHT, easily best and well ridden, kept up under snug restraint during the opening five-eighths, slowly wore down TIGER PRINCE and, drawing into safe command, won in hand. PRINCE had speed, reached the lead on the inside and held on gamely. THE SOUTHERNER saved considerable ground until reaching the stretch, where he raced a trifle wide while holding on evenly. CESARE had no mishap. PRETTY PENNY quit badly after showing speed for a half mile. TOMMY TICKLE had early speed. MUCKER broke slowly, would not extend himself and was pulled up in the stretch.

FIFTH RACE—Seven furlongs. Purse, $1,500; claiming. The Old Elm Country Club Purse. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 4:15. Off at 4:16. Winner, J. Marsch's b. c. (3), by Campfire—Primula II. Trained by P. Reuter. Value to winner, $1,050; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:47 2-5, 1:13 2-5, 1:28 4-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—CAMP PRINCE, $8.84, $4.08, $3.34; MARTHA JONES, $9.20, $4.90; PORT HARLEM, $3.66

CAMP PRINCE, away fast, but unable to keep up, began working his way up on the outside after reaching final half mile and, wearing down MARTHA JONES, continued safely under a brisk hand ride. The latter had speed, shook off CHEERS after a half mile and weakened badly in the final eighth, but outstayed the others. PORT HARLEM, urged hard the final half mile, saved ground in the stretch and outfinished CALF ROPER. CHEERS quit badly. ALYSSUM was outrun.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:45. Off at 4:47½. Winner, C. V. Whitney's b. f. Two-dollar mutuels paid—CHENE, $43 24, $16.38, $9.76; SAN PRESTO, $6.36, $5.40; OUTCRY, $4.90.

CHENE, away slowly, worked her way up fast on the inside at the first turn, responded gamely when urged hard and, racing into the lead, held on well to outfinish SAN PRESTO. The latter, a factor from start and raced under restraint over five-eighths, went gamely under pressure and headed winner in final eighth, but failed to last. OUTCRY had speed, but weakened and just lasted to be third. ATLIL closed gamely. TRANSFRESSION lost much ground, was poorly rated and weakened after gaining the lead at the stretch turn. OVERSHADY quit.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:15½. Off at 5:17. Winner, Mrs. A. R. Smith's b. f. Two-dollar mutuels paid—WINNIE JO, $7.82, $3.94, $2.86; SETH'S BALLOT, $4.30, $3.74; OPEN GO SHUT, $4.34.

WINNIE JO, away poorly, was taken under steadying restraint after closing up some ground rounding first turn, offered good response when called upon and, determining after drawing clear, just lasted. SETH'S BALLOT had speed from the start, held on determinedly and was wearing down the winner. OPEN GO SHUT saved ground and closed fast. SHOW DOWN withstood repeated challenges during opening five-eighths, drew away slightly when nearing strech, but weakened in the drive. DEVON was outrun. BOBBY POWERS quit.

COMMERCE NINE WINS IN LEAGUE PLAY-OFF SERIES, 6 TO 3

Eldbrookes Beaten in Thriller

Riley Betters Fletcher in Interesting Box Duel

Commerce Scores in Late Innings for Victory.

COMMERCE plunged back into the swim for the week-day series championship by pounding out a 6-3 victory over the Eldbrooke M. E. nine in the closing innings of their game on the South Ellipse yesterday. Threatening weather conditions held the attendance down to about 1,000 fans.

For six of the nine innings, Riley, of Commerce and Fletcher, of Eldbrooke, staged a pretty hurling duel, but in the seventh Commerce assumed a two-run lead and from then on it was never headed. In this inning Singman walked and was advanced to second when O'Donnell's bunt was muffed by Custard, Eldbrooke catcher.

Well's Double Scores Two Runs.

After Gichner had sacrificed, Wells came through with a sharp double down the third-base line scoring both runners. Wells was trapped at home on Hessler's hit ending the inning.

Commerce added another, and what proved to be the winning run in the eighth, when Gorman singled, stole second, and scored on Riley's infield hit after attempts had been made to catch him at third and again at home.

No little nettled by this sudden turn of events in their rivals' favor, the Eldbrookes got busy and pushed over two runs in their half of the eighth to pull up within hailing distance. Thompson's triple, opening the inning, featured the attack, Stevens, who followed Thompson, walked and stole second. Thompson then broke for home and was safe when Singman's return peg was wild, allowing Stevens to continue on to third.

The latter scored when Gichner dropped the ball after Singman made a perfect throw after scooping up Freeman's roller. Two runs by the eventual winners in the ninth put the game beyond the reach of the Churchmen.

Eldebrooke Heckles Umpire Near End.

Eldbrooke adopted rather childish tactics in the eighth and ninth innings when it was unable to overtake Commerce. Continued heckling of the umpire led to the latter's ousting of Schneider from the game in the final frame.

Government Printing Office and Constructioneers, the two leading candidates for the title, will clash today in the resumption of the series at 4:30 p. m. Permission has been secured to erect bleacher seats on the South Ellipse, it was announced yesterday by George L. Hightman, president of the series. The seats will not be ready until next Tuesday, as there will be no game tomorrow, nor on Labor Day.

Mayor Walker Sees Pladner Retain Title

Paris, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Emile "Spider" Pladner, French bantamweight champion, retained his title tonight by outpointing Frances Biron in a 12-round battle, but had to share the honors of the evening with Mayor James J. Walker, of New York.

Before taking his ringside seat, Walker was pushed into the ring and introduced to French boxing enthusiasts as "New York's great sporting mayor." He was given a big hand by the crowded house.

Emerson Starts Grid Practice on Tuesday

With only one or two familiar faces in the lot, Emerson Institute commences its training season Tuesday on the Monument Grounds, under the direction of Coaches Sanborn and Keller. Joe Buscher, half back, and cousin of the gridironing Buschers, is the only real regular back.

"Dy" Shackelford, former Eastern High back, will return to the Emerson line-up this year, after a year's layoff. Raum and Cornel, the first a lineman and the latter a back, are the only applicants to date who appear well schooled in the art of football.

The schedule:

September 21—National Training School, there; 26, Woodberry Forest, at Orange, Va.; 29, Business.

October 3—Gettysburg Academy, there; 10, National Farm School; 17, Winona Military Academy, there; 24, Massanutten, there; 31, St. John's Freshmen, there.

November 7—Barlor Military Academy, there; 11, George Washington Freshmen; 14, William and Mary Freshmen, there; 21, Staunton Military Academy, there.

G. U. TO NAME GRID LEADER WEEKLY

None Appointed to Succeed Brennan; Drill at Beach.

Special to The Washington Post.

REHOBOTH BEACH, Del., Sept. 3. Breaking precedent, to a certain degree, Georgetown University this year will have no football captain, it was learned today from Head Coach Tommy Mills, who is here directing the Hoya gridiron candidates through a three weeks' intensive training period.

Instead of a seasonal captain, the Hilltop eleven will appoint a leader for each game.

Mills increased the pace for his hard-working charges today and a thoroughly tired flock of youngsters stumbled into bed at an early hour tonight. The Hoya mentor plans several scrimmages before camp is broken on September 19.

Although no word has been received from "Whitey" Dashiell, star freshman back last year, Mills expressed confidence that the wiry little Texan will be back in the fold ere long.

Municipal Pools Win Swimming Meet, 40-4

Taking first place in all five events contested, the Municipal Pools Swimming Team yesterday defeated a small picked squad from the Rosedale and Georgetown Playgrounds by the score of 40 to 4. Max Rote, George Washington University star, accounted for a first place in the 200-foot free style and helped the winning team to victories in the 400-foot free style and 300-foot medley relays.

A second meeting of these teams is scheduled for next Thursday at the Municipal Pools at 2 p. m.

400-FOOT RELAY—Won by Municipal Pools (John Bonnet, Thornton Burns, Ed Hickey and Max Rote); second Rosedale-Georgetown (B. Sacrey, D. Nickerson, B. Deering and R. Moore). No third. Time, 1:03 3-5.

200-FOOT FREE STYLE—Won by Max Rote (M. P.); second, H. Kenworthy (M. P.); third, W. Taylor (M. P.). Time, 38 2-5 seconds.

300-FOOT BACKSTROKE—Won by Thornton Burns (M. P.); second, John Bonnet (M. P.); third, W. Hickey (M. P.). Time, 50 3-5 seconds.

200-FOOT BREASTSTROKE—Won by Ed Hickey (M. P.); second, Charles Squire (M. P.); third, John Bonnet (M. P.). Time, 54 seconds.

BLUE FISH PLENTIFUL.

Blue fish, between 5 and 7 pounds, are the rule rather than the exception this week on expeditions to Sharps Island, Eastern Shore region of Chesapeake Bay, according to word brought back from that region.

Many local anglers have been guided to the spot by Capt. Noah Hazzard, whose fleet of boats anchor at Chesapeake Beach. H. A. Deaver, E. E. Burton, J. Veilmeyer, M. McCormick and Joseph Thompson all recorded heavy catches in the last several days. Thompson caught two of the kind which usually get away—on the same line.

Boots and Saddle's

(Reg. U. S. Patent Office)

—Lincoln Fields Selections—

By J. B. SNODGRASS

LINCOLN FIELDS, Chicago, Ill., Sept. 3.—A rather ordinary program has been carded for the patrons of Lincoln Fields tomorrow, with the Lil Dagover Purse, an allowance affair, as the main attraction. This event, fourth on the program, will be decided over the 6-furlong distance. A field of eight sterling sprinters will match strides in the headliner. The cheaper grade of sprinters will contest the remaining events, which have attracted large fields.

SISTER MARY has been freshened up by a brief rest and appears best of her seven rivals in the 6-furlong dash of the feature attraction. The Saxon color bearer has raced with better company and, with 100 pounds to tote, figures to annext the main event. The Davison entry of STREET SINGER and INFINITY are capable of extending the top one. TOWN LIMIT displayed ability over a muddy track last start and is favored for the show award.

FIRST RACE — LADY BATTS, which scored impressively in her last effort, is given the call in the opening 6-furlong dash, which is fashioned for maiden juvenile fillies. The daughter of Prince Phillip will encounter stern opposition from SHAKER LADY and MARYENE. The former will favor the muddy going and should hold the Whitneyite safe for the place.

SECOND RACE—SWEEP PAST has compiled an enviable record in his Chicago campaign and favored by his outside position, should romp to an easy victory in the second at 6 furlongs. Chief opposition should be furnished by GRAND PRINCE. This clever plater from the Valley Lake Stable turned in a splendid victory last start over a route, and at the shorter distance will be hard to beat. CELTIC PRINCE is dropping down in this field, but should share in the purse.

THIRD RACE—A large group of claimers will face the barrier in the 6 furlongs of the third, with HARRY HIE OVER, a recent winner at this track, favored to annex the honors. In his last the R. S. Clark 3-year-old scored easily and figures to repeat. BAG SMASHER will appreciate the track condition and is selected to land the place, with LADY VA VA as the show choice.

FIFTH RACE—The first route race of the program will be decided over the mile and a sixteenth distance of the fifth which brings together a field of eight 3-year olds and upward, fillies and mares. THEORIST JANE has shown consistent form in recent performances and with 110 pounds should lead from start to finish. THUNWIN is erratic, but in this class will prove a dangerous contender. MAJEL is favored over the others for the show.

SIXTH RACE—ROY should duplicate his recent clever victory in the mile and an eighth of the sixth event, which received a list of eighteen 3-year-olds and upward. The J. W. Parrish racer romped to an easy triumph last start and in this field will have ANNAN to best for the honors. The latter has shown improvement in previous efforts and should finish in the runner-up position. WIZARDY and DIODORO are closely matched for the show.

SEVENTH RACE—WATER GAP and MADCAP MARVIN will battle it out in the final test at a mile and an eighth, for 3-year-olds and upward. The former, a useful plater from the H. L. Snyder string, holds a slight edge over his rival and should gain the decision. MADCAP MARVIN runs well in the mud and figures to be close up. STOP GAP may gain the minor award.

ED YEOMANS TO PLAY AT WARDMAN

Clash With Mitchell in Senior Event Promises Action.

THE oft-asked question, "Who is the best tennis player in Washington," promises to be solved as a result of the decision yesterday of Eddie Yeomans, District champion, to enter the last remaining tournament on the local lists, the Wardman Park senior singles, which starts Saturday September 12. Yeomans, who will compete in the national championship at Forest Hills beginning tomorrow, left for New York yesterday.

Yeomans and Dooly Mitchell have not met in competition this year. Mitchell holds the City of Washington championship and the public parks title. Yeomans won the only singles tournament he participated in—the District of Columbia. Mitchell, in the same tournament, was eliminated by Bud Markey in an upset. Markey, in turn was beaten by Yeomans and later by Mitchell.

Mitchell-Yeomans Play Different Games.

Two radically different styles of play will come together, when and if the luck of the draw brings Mitchell and Yeomans on the same court. Yeomans represents the conservative style of backcourt play, in which he depends largely on the errors of his opponent, rather than on his own winning shots. Mitchell is mostly all drive, intermixed with forays to the net for decisive volleys. When he loses, it invariably is the result of the errors which crop up in the game of every hard hitter.

Among the out-of-town players who will engage in the tournament are Eddie Jacobs, ranked No. 1 in the Middle Atlantic section; Alec Keiles, Maryland indoor champion; Fred Roll, ranking Philadelphia player, besides such local players as Tom Mangan, Bud Markey, Frank Shore and Anthony Latona.

Howell's Dad Admits Suspense Is Great

Richmond, Va., Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Thomas B. Howell said he "nearly died of excitement" watching results of his son Billy's match with Lester Bolstad come in by wire today. But he admitted he might give his nerves a real test by going to Chicago and following the play if Billy goes to the final round.

Urged by friends to leave tonight for Chicago, he said there were "a dozen reasons" why he shouldn't make the trip. "But," he added, "if at noon tomorrow he has any chance at all against Ouimet, I still can get there in time for the final play Saturday."

Mr. Howell was in his hardware and sporting goods store when told of Billy's victory today. Without waiting to hear what the score was he grabbed another telephone and called Mrs. Howell.

"Billy won. I don't know the score yet. Why don't you get as excited as I am?" he almost shouted. Then he turned to the group of friends surrounding him.

"Can you imagine that little son-of-a-gun coming back to win after being two down this noon? Even if he is my son, I've got to say that's going some for a kid in his first big tournament."

BARRY-WEISS BOUT FORT FEATURE

Light-Heavies Clash on Card on September 14 or 15.

FORT WASHINGTON'S next glove-swinging festival, featuring Reds Barry, Washington light heavyweight, and Sammy Weiss, Philadelphia Hebrew, will be held on either September 14 or 15, officials of the fort athletic association decided yesterday. Definite selection of the date will be made within the next day or two in a conference between the matchmaker and Patsy Donovan, manager of Barry.

The fact that Promoter Joe Turner plans a wrestling show on the 15th may bear some influence in the selection of the fort's date, with Monday, the 14th, getting the preference.

Landers-Wolgast May Fight Here Sept. 21.

It also was announced that the proposed match between Sailor Billy Landers, popular Norfolk bantamweight, and Midget Wolgast, recognized as world's flyweight champion by the New York Boxing Commission, will be held on September 21. This bout, according to the authorities, is the most expensive yet slated for the nearby Army post arena.

Still another feature scuffle is in the making with Marty Gallagher, Washington heavyweight, now campaigning under Boston Dan Carroll's management, as a probable participant. Frankie Wine, promising heavyweight, of Barberton, Ohio., has been suggested as Marty's foe. The contemplated date is September 28.

On the card with Barry and Weiss, who will be meeting for the second time, will be Henry Irving, hard-punching middleweight, and Gus Edwards, veteran boxer of Baltimore. This pair is scheduled for the semi-final of six rounds. Irving has scored three knockouts in four starts over the four-round route thus far in his first season in the professional ring.

Ex-Bantam Champ's Kin In Preliminary.

Caspar Leon, grandson of the former bantamweight champion of the same name, will appear in a four-round preliminary against Roddy Davis, local lightweight. Leon recently came here from New York City and is being managed by Ralph Murdock, formerly associated with Al Foreman.

Nevin Barber, former District amateur featherweight king, who won his first pro fight last Monday with a knockout over Jimmy Kiggins, of Philadelphia, is slated to return for a four-rounder with Billy Eschinger, of this city. Other prelims will bring together Frank Vance and Billy Tucker, light heavies, and Warren (Dempsey) Van Sciver and Phil Devine, middleweights.

Canoe Marathon Race Is Listed Here Sept. 20

The second annual ten-mile canoe marathon, conducted by the Washington Canoe Club, will be held September 20, over a triangular course starting and finishing in front of the host club. Standard 17-foot canvas canoes will be used.

Two distinct races will be run at approximately the same time. The one man single blade race will begin at 2:30 o'clock and the one-man double blade a half an hour later. The club will furnish canoes to paddlers unabe to secure a boat.

First prize is a plaque. Silver and bronze medals are the other awards to be distributed. Entries close with H. H. Ruppart, Washington Canoe Club, September 16.

GRIFFITHS VS. SHAAF.

Chicago, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Matchmaker Nate Lewis of the Chicago Stadium is negotiating for a bout between Tuffy Griffiths, Sioux City, Iowa, heavyweight, and Ernie Shaaf, the latest Boston contender, for the big West Side arena's reopening date.

If the match is made, it will be held on September 18.

Steele Wrestles Indian Wednesday

Last Show's Unused Tickets May Be Exchanged for Coming Bouts.

Ray Steele, held by many to be the best wrestler in the business, will return to town next Wednesday night, where he will meet Chief White Feather in the feature bout on a card of five exhibitions.

Matchmaker Joe Turner, in making the announcement of the next card last night, stated that holders of tickets to last Wednesday's show who failed to put in an appearance because of the inclement weather, could exchange their unused seats for seats to next week's show at Turner's office in the Annapolis Hotel.

Besides the Steele-White Feather match, four other bouts will be staged. In one of these the most liked wrestler to show here, Dr. Ralph Wilson, will tangle with the most disliked, Tiger Nelson. Turner is trying to fix up a semifinal between Carl Pojello and Don De Laun. The complete card will be announced later in the week.

Diamond Dust

THE Takoma Tigers, champions of the Capital City League, are seeking games with strong unlimited teams over the week-end. The Tigers would especially like to arrange a Labor Day game with an out-of-town team. Those interested should communicate with Paul James at Lincoln 7595 between 7 and 8 p. m., or Mr. Simpson at Georgia 1200.

The Skinker Eagles will play Olmsted Grill today at 5 p. m. on the North Ellipse. All players are requested to report at 4:30 p. m. Saturday the Eagles play the second game of their series with the Howard A. French Co. nine at 3 p. m. at Rockville.

Charley Deutermann's All-Stars will invade the domain of the Virginia White Sox for a game with that team Sunday at 3 p. m. The game will be played at Baileys Crossroads.

The Chevy Chase Grays will play Colesville Sunday on the latter's diamond at 3 p. m. With the Griffith-Blue Coals booked for Monday the Grays need only a game for tomorrow to round out their schedule. Call Wisconsin 2478.

Boasting a record of 28 victories in 30 games, the Indianhead Juniors are seeking more victims. Games are especially wanted for Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Call Lincoln 4311 after 6 p. m.

Bill McCrea's Auth's A. C. will play "Wee Willie" Glascoe's Griffith-Blue Coals Sunday at 3 p. m. on diamond No. 4 of the Monument Grounds. Monday the Auth's aggregation will trek to Alexandria for a game with Charley Corbett's St. Mary's Celtics at 2:30 p. m. The Southwest aggregation handed the Celtics a 5-1 trouncing in their first meeting and the Virginians will be out for blood Monday.

A motor cavalcade carrying the members and followers of the St. Joseph's A. C. will leave from the home of Manager Frank Cinotti, 523 Third street northeast, tonight about midnight for Lynchburg, Va., where the "Saints" play tomorrow and Sunday. Harry Hall will direct the team in the absence of Cinotti.

Manager Keefer would like to book a game for his Gaithersburg A. C. to be played tomorrow. Teams interested should call Gaithersburg 201-J between 6 and 7 p. m.

The Bethesda Fire Department nine is without a game for Sunday. Manager Murdock is arranging the schedule at Bradley 651 after 4 p. m.

The Noel House football team, champion of the 125-pound division of the Sport Mart circuit last season, will be reorganized for the coming season at a meeting to be held tonight at the house, located at Seventeenth and Kramer streets northeast, at 8 o'clock. All candidates are requested to report.

The Petworth Pennants football team will practice Sunday at 11 a. m. on the Iowa avenue playgrounds. Coach Fitzgerald wants all members of the team to report promptly.

Capitol Heights and the Dixie Pigs will open a five-game series for the championship of Prince Georges County Sunday at 1:30 p. m. on the Berwyn diamond. Two games will be played the following Sunday, with a single game, if necessary, winding up the series.

CELTICS NINE FACE TWO GAMES

Saks, Auths Carded Sunday, Monday in Alexandria.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Sept. 3.—Two games will be played by the St. Mary's Celtics during the holiday period, it was announced today by Director Corbett of the locals.

On Sunday the Celtics will mix with Saks Clothiers, champions of the Capital City League, while on Monday the Auth's nine, who defeated the locals three weeks ago, will be here for the second game of the series. This will be the Labor Day attraction and will begin at 3 o'clock.

"Si" Simons, voted as the best ball player in the District area in 1924, who was sent to the St. Louis Browns' Southern camp, and stayed with the club most of the season, will make his appearance with the Celtics in Sunday's encounter.

Simons is an all-round player. He pitches, plays first or second, or can catch.

"Lefty" McIntire, Celtics' ace, who has lost only one game this season, will pitch. He is slated to hurl the Saks contest and also the battle with Auths on Monday.

Two games will be played in the Alexandria City series on Sunday. The Nation-Wide nine will oppose the Del Rayans in the lone attraction on Duncan's Field at 3 o'clock, while the Columbias and Cardinals will clash on Haydon's Field.

Shorty Scrivener's Fraters will play the Middleburg All-Stars on Sunday at Middleburg, Va.

Plans will be made by the Iroquois Athletic Club to hold a smoker in the near future at a meeting of the club tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at 724 King street. The funds from the benefit will be used to buy football equipment.

Rain Fails to Deter Gonzagans in Camp

Special to The Washington Post.

Cedarhurst-on-the-Bay, Md., Sept. 3. Rain today failed to deter the Gonzaga High football squad, which is rounding into shape here under the eye of Coach Orrel Mitchell. Charging, blocking and tackling were in order in the morning, followed by a plunge in the bay.

Two freshmen, Ed Hurley and Joe Keegin, both backs, looked good today, while their fellow classmates, Roy Aires, Joe Thibadeau and Ed McNarma, all linemen, give promise of replacing several of last year's veterans.

Two boys, who were kept on the bench through the major portion of the 1930 campaign, George Lewis and Johnny Gill, guards, were in the thick of things today, fully recovered, and ready to take their places again.

Mrs. Martinez, O'Neill Eagles Mere Winners

Special to The Washington Post.

Eagles Mere, Pa., Sept. 3.—Maurice O'Neill, veteran Washington, D. C., net star, advanced another notch in the Eagles Mere tennis championship today when he eliminated Herman Dorheim, 8—6, 7—5, in a match which was easily the feature event of the entire day. O'Neill's chops clung heavily to the wet court.

Mrs. Ruth Martinez, D. C. women's champion and defending champion, won easily over Muriel Morris, 6—0, 6—0, to gain another round.

Dornheim gained a measure of revenge on O'Neill late in the day when, paired with Knight, he defeated the D. C. combination of O'Neill and Manuel Martinez, 6—1, 6—1.

The Majestic Radio nine will meet the Westport A. C., of Baltimore, Sunday at 3 p. m., on the latter's diamond. Monday the Majestics travel to Orange, Va., for a double-header with the team of that town. All Majestic players are requested to report at 932 H street northwest Sunday at 9:30 a. m.

RECIPES FOR LARVICIDES.

FROBISHER and Shannon introduced us to a new group of larvicides to be used against mosquitoes. The most powerful member of this group is iodine. When 1 part iodine crystals is added to 1 million parts water, the wigglers or larvae are killed after an hour or more of exposure. The younger forms are promptly killed and the older ones finally succumb. Pupae are much more resistant. The drug can only be used to advantage against the wigglers. On the other hand, prussiate of potash in solution is not harmful to wigglers, though it will kill adult mosquitoes instantly, or nearly so, on exposure.

Iodine in solution in water, 1 part to 1 million, does not impart any taste or change the appearance of the water. It may eventually be found that iodine in the drinking water in that strength is a good quality; but, for the present at least, Frobisher and Shannon advise against its use. They think the dosage can not be regulated closely enough, and if the water be used for indiscriminate drinking it may be consumed by some who will be harmed by it. They advise that its use be limited to waters stored in cisterns, tanks and barrels for domestics puposes, but not for drinking.

Bromine has the same action, but it is less effective. Chlorine will kill larvae when dissolved in water in strengths of 1 to 10,000. This may prove a more satisfactory agent than iodine, though the dosage must be heavier.

Time will be required to determine whether any of them can be safely used in drinking waters.

There are many larvicides in use against mosquitoes. Among these are Paris green, some of the boracic preparation and tobacco tea. Each is effective. The objecton to these is that they are poisonous, and when they are used precautions must be taken to prevent them from killing man and animals. Fortunately, they have been so used up until now that they have been found effective and also safe. However, no one advises the use of Paris green as a larvicide in water barrels, cisterns and tanks, and these are favorite mosquito breeding places. Iodine is safer than arsenic, and perhaps is may supply just what was needed for stored waters within the house.

MANY DUE TO INFECTIONS.

E. G. writes: What is the cause and preventive of warts? Lately several have come out on my hands.

REPLY.

In many cases warts result from infection. Among contributing causes is exposure to dirt and moisture.

PROBABLY A XANTHOMA.

M. D. writes: I have a tiny ball of flesh, about the size of a pinhead, on my right eyelid. A similar one is started on my left eye. What causes this? How can it be taken off?

REPLY.

This is probably a xanthoma. These small, yellowish, curdy tumors frequently appear on the eyelids. They rarely grow large enough to attract attention and otherwise they are of no importance. Removal is simple if one wishes to go through with that.

IT WILL DO NO HARM.

L. A. L. writes: If T. M. C. and others who I have noticed have asked in your column for cure of blisters and itching between the toes will place a small piece of cotton between the toes they will find relief in a day.

REPLY.

It is never wise to generalize from one case, and yet that is what most people do. The simple procedure doubtless cured you of something. It will harm no one. But it will only go a short distance in curing aything.

SEE A PHYSICIAN.

F. H. L. F. writes: For several months I have been suffering with deep cracks in the palms of my hands and feet. Though I have kept off my feet and used my hands as little as possible, I can not get them healed. Please tell me what causes this condition and how I may get rid of it.

REPLY.

Many cases of this kind are due to occupation. Some are due to diet. If you change one or the other, or both, you should get well.

Have you and your physician investigated the possible cause? Short of that the chance of cure is slight

STOCK PRICES DROP UNDER HEAVY SALES

Leading Rail Issues Close at New Low Levels; Steels Decline.

New York, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—A substantial increase in volume marked the further decline of stock prices today. In the busiest trading since July 15 all groups followed the rails in a reaction that sent most of the prominent carrier issues to new lows, and also broke United States Steel through its early June minimum.

There were two selling movements. The first, coming in the morning, affected chiefly the rails. An interval of dullness followed this break, but in the final hour offerings in other groups increased and the market closed not far from the bottom. The turnover, which on Tuesday of this week set a seven-year record for dullness, totaled 2,120,420 shares.

Whereas a week or two ago stocks were willing to ignore bad news, recent developments of an unfavorable tenor have been used as a basis for lowering prices. On the debit side of the ledger today stood the omission of the Case dividend, the weakness of the Berlin Boerse where trading was resumed after a suspension of nearly two months and a disappointing August sales record by a leading mail order house. Abandonment of the German-Austrian Customs Union and the oversubscription to the $800,000,000 long-term Treasury loan were announced, which the market saw fit to ignore.

Rails Decline Early.

The rails completed most of their decline by noon, leaving industrials and utilities to bear the brunt of the later selling. Case was weak all day, losing as much as 10½ points. Steel touched 82⅛ against its old low of 83⅛ on the afternoon dip, the lowest quotation since 1922 when it sold at 82. The last sale was at 83¼, making the net loss 2⅞.

American Telephone, Bethlehem, Consolidated Gas, Du Pont, Eastman, Allied Chemical, Chrysler, Lehman Corp. and Woolworth were down 2 points or thereabouts, while not far behind were General Motors, Sears Roebuck, National Biscuit and International Telephone.

A number of inactive rails made spectacular declines, notably Texas & Pacific, off 32½, Cotton Belt preferred, off 10½ and Central of New Jersey, down 22, but the recession in more frequently traded carrier equities was somewhat less, on the average, than yesterday. New Haven weakened readily on expectations of a dividend cut, but Atchison closed with only a minor loss. Union Pacific's net decline was 3½, New York Central's 1⅜ and Baltimore & Ohio's 2¼. Reading lost 6½.

Berlin News Confusing.

A break at Berlin had been expected, but the volume of selling orders was heavy and considerable confusion resulted. One report reaching New York said there was talk of again closing the boerse, but it was felt here that such a step was unlikely, since it would seem desirable to give the situation time to clarify. There was little foreign selling.

Oil prices continue to firm and three important companies in the east Texas field posted 68 per cent quotations. This compares with 13 cents prior to the martial law order of a fortnight ago.

The Bank of England gained a million pounds in gold during the last week, but an increase in circulation coincident with the September 1 settlements brought the reserve ratio down. Some of the Franco-American credit is believed to have been used by the bank. Sterling eased moderately, as did other European currencies. Montreal was off to 99½, but Brazil was firm. That republic is completing plans for meeting its $50,000,000 loan, due October 1, by paying $10,000,000 or more in gold and extending the balance.

Corn rallied ⅜ to ⅞ net in response to a bullish Iowa State report and heavy rains in parts of the belt. Cotton was not particularly upset by the break in stocks and was off only 3 to 4 points when the market closed.

LEADING RAIL BONDS CONTINUE TO SLUMP

Foreign Loans Join Decline as Public Utilities Hold to Former Prices.

New York, Sept. 3 (A.P.) —Weakness in railroad issues simultaneously with declines in rail stocks featured the bond market today.

Net losses of 1 to 4½ points occurred among such active and diversified bonds as Baltimore & Ohio 4½s of 1960, first 4s of 1948, and refunding 5s of 1995; Rock Island 4½s of 1960, refunding 4s of 1934, and series A 4½s; Denver & Rio Grande Western 5s of 1955 and of 1978; several issues of the Missouri Pacific, Nickel Plate 6s of 1932, New York Central 4½s of 2013 and St Louis, San Francisco 4½s of 1978 and series A 4s.

The foregoing list is typical but not inclusive of the issues scoring the larger losses. A large number of rail bonds closed with fractional recessions. The average closing price of twenty leading rail issues was 93.9, a net loss of seven-tenths of a point. The public utility average was unchanged and the figure for the twenty industrial bonds showed only a slight loss.

Foreign loans declined irregularly With a few exceptions the losses among them were fractional. Bonds of Antioquia, Berlin City Electric 6½s of 1951 and of 1959, Berlin Electric Elevated 6½s and several Chilean and Colombian issues scored most of the larger losses, but the trading in most of this group consisted of a few small sales.

United States Treasury and Liberty issues closed irregularly lower on a moderate turnover.

Public Utility and Industrial Loans in most instances moved within narrow limits and closed unchanged.

Charles R. Dunn, fiscal agent for the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, announced that an offering of $20,000,000 of 3 per cent debentures is expected next week. The debentures, whose proceeds will be used for refunding, will be dated September 15 and will mature in 2, 6, 9, and 12 months.

PROPOSALS

PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY THE Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Navy Department, Washington, D. C., until 10 o'clock, a. m., SEPTEMBER 8, 1931, for furnishing aircraft propeller blades, moulds and sockets, brown-print cloth and paper to the Navy Yard, Washington, D. C., &c. Apply for proposals to the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, J. J. CHEATHAM, Parmaster General of the Navy. au28.se4

OFFICE OF THE EXECUTIVE OFFICER, Arlington Memorial Bridge Commission, Navy Building, Washington, D. C.—Sealed bids will be received in this office until 11 a. m., Eastern standard time, SEPTEMBER 17, 1931, and then publicly opened in Room 1613, Navy Building, for the paving, curbs, sidewalks, &c., on and around the Bridge Plaza, at the east end of the Arlington Memorial Bridge. The major items of work involve the placing of about 20,700 square yards of cold bituminous concrete pavings, of which about 16,000 square yards has a 10-inch macadam base; about 3,630 linear feet of curbs, and about 8,340 square yards of scrubbed pebble-finish sidewalks. The above quantities also include the paving on the Parkway Underpass and Parkway Approach, for which no foundation is required, and also the laying of the sidewalks on the up-stream side of Arlington Memorial Bridge and on the Parkway Underpass and the Parkway Approach. Further information upon application. 4.5.8.9

DISTRICT OFFICIALS LAUDED FOR PROBE INTO THIRD DEGREE

APPEAL TO COMMEND POLICE UNIT REJECTED

Group Lays Plan for Share in District Celebration of Bicentennial.

The Federation of Citizens Associations at a special meeting last night indorsed the action taken by District officials in the third-degree inquiry and extended thanks to President Hoover for instructing the Department of Justice to conduct an investigation.

The resolution, proposed by the committee on activities of police and firemen, was adopted with only one dissenting vote, after B. A. Bowles, vice president of the federation, had made a futile appeal that a clause be incorporated commending the Police Department as a whole.

At the termination of his speech, J. C. L. Ritter, noted for his participation in previous civic inquiries, asked Mr. Bowles:

"Do you speak from hearsay or personal experience?"

As the speaker indignantly replied that he had no personal experience, Mr. Ritter declared that he had followed the activities of the Washington police for 25 years and that he heartily approved the resolution.

Commissioners Complimented.

The committee in its report specifically complimented Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer and Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Crosby, District Commissioners, and Corporation Counsel William W. Bride and Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police, for their prompt action.

The meeting of the federation was called to make preparations for participation in a city-wide Halloween celebration and a home-coming Independence Day celebration, as part of the George Washington Bicentennial anniversary next year.

Enthusiastic indorsement of both proposals was given by numerous delegates and talks were made by Arnold Kruckman director of the District Bicentennial Commission, and E. C. Graham and A. K. Shipe, members of the commission.

The following committee was named by Dr. George C. Havenner, president of the federation, to make preparations for participation in the Halloween celebration:

William A. Roberts, chairman; Joseph L. Gammell, Mrs. Elizabeth Sullivan, M. M. McLean, A. J. Driscoll, John C. Proctor, Fred A. Emery, W. I. S. Swanton, Louis Gelbman, G. E. Sullivan, M. Z. Baughman, W. J. Weber, Edwin S. Hege, L. S. Trundell and Mrs. R. C. Rittue.

Appointment Is Deferred.

Appointment of the Fourth of July committee was deferred until delegates could be named by the various associations.

Resolutions expressing regret over the death of Mrs. Fred T. Dubois, who died on August 17, were read and adopted. Mrs. Dubois was a delegate of the federation.

Upon recommendation of William Mck. Clayton, the delegates unanimously voted to approve the action of the Public Utilities Commission in denying a request of Virginia agencies that the Mount Vernon, Alexandria & Washington Railway be permitted to establish a terminal north of Pennsylvania avenue.

Raiders Capture 2 Asleep by Still

Federal Agents Manage to Find Lone Quart Near Chaptico.

Allegedly found asleep beside a still when it was raided by Federal dry agents near Chaptico, Md., Robert Hayden and Aloysius Williams were taken before the United States commissioner in Marlboro yesterday

Hayden, who said he was 22 years old, gave his address as Washington, while Williams, who is 23, said he lived at Chaptico They were charged with possession, manufacture, and possession of articles for the manufacture of liquor. The agents who made the raid said that the still was of 150-gallon size, and that about 2,000 gallons of mash was found nearby. Apparently, they said, thte plant had just finished a run, and the product had all been shipped out, except about a quart, which was seized.

A conviction of possession of liquor brought a fine of $50 to Mrs. Vincent Pocorney, of Capitol Heights, Md., when she was arraigned in police court there yesterday. Her attorney, Albert R. Hassall, pleaded that this was the first time she had been arrested on this charge.

MRS. WILEY DIRECTS FOOD SAVING GROUP

Women Organize to Can Surplus Edibles for Use of Needy.

A surplus food conservation committee, with Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley as chairman, was organized yesterday to ward off the wolf from the doors of this winter's needy.

The committee was formed by representatives of varied women's activities in the District. They met at the Franklin School on invitation of E. C. Graham, acting chairman of the District of Columbia committee on employment.

The committee will begin at once a campaign to urge canning and preserving of surplus fruits and vegetables preparatory to distributing them during the winter in an organized effort to relieve distress caused by unemployment.

With Mrs. Wiley on the executive committee directing the campaign will be Mrs. Edgar B. Merritt, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. George A. Ricker, Miss Emma Byer, Mrs. E. K. Peeples, director of the Community Chest Department; Miss Emma S. Jacobs, director of domestic science in the schools; Miss Maude E. Aiton, of the Americanization School Association.

Also Miss Miriam Birdseye, Home Economics Bureau of the Agriculture Department; Miss Hettie Anderson, Young Women's Christian Association; Mrs. Gabrielle Pelham, Dr. Louise Stanley, director of the Home Economics Bureau of the Agriculture Department; Miss Mabel Stinebarger, of the same bureau, and Mrs. George A. Ross.

When the meeting was called to order a man, who said he represented a group of Washington merchants, offered the committee 100 bushels of choice peaches to begin conserving. Nearly half a ton of sugar and a number of quart jars already have been donated. The campaign will open at 10 a. m. Tuesday, with a public demonstration of "How to Can Peaches" in the kitchen of Central High School.

Imitating Lion's Roar Brings Man to Court

Edward Stevenson, who was arrested in front of the lions' cage at the Zoo, refused to give his version of a lion's roar yesterday when he was arraigned in Police Court.

Policeman R. James, who arrested Stevenson, said that he found the man in front of the lions' cage, attempting to emulate the vocal maneuverings of the king of beasts. Judge Schuldt took Stevenson's personal bonds not to attempt any such competition again.

Man Is Seized in Rum Raid.

Roy Foster, 38 years old, of 6510 Georgia avenue northwest, was arrested last night by a squad from the Thirteenth Precinct, headed by Precinct Detective Elmer F. Davis, and charged with illegal possession of 131 bottles of beer. The raid was made on his home.

Curtis Gets No. 1 Tag; No. 2 Goes to Speaker

Mrs. "Dolly" Gann and her brother, the Vice President, won a social battle they didn't have to fight for yesterday when Traffic Director Van Duzer assigned to Vice President Curtis tag No. 1 of the 1932 congressional automobile plates.

Courageously, Mr. Van Duzer settled the long-disputed question of precedence in auto tag numbers between the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House. The latter will get tag No. 2.

The red-white-and-blue 1932 license plates were authorized in the amended traffic act early this year. The plates have a white background. The border and "1932" are in blue. The numbers themselves and the congressional designation are in red.

TRADE BODIES TO AID USE OF HOME LABOR

Carpenter Appeal Based on Worker Importation on Building Projects.

Aid was asked from the Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Trade by representatives of the Carpenters District Council at a conference yesterday afternoon to combat importation of out-of-town workmen to replace local labor on District building projects.

Officers of the two trade bodies assured the council representatives they would do everything possible to help local labor get the jobs and suggested that the Merchants and Manufacturers Association and the Buy in Washington Council be asked to join in the fight.

L. H. Hardison, president of the Carpenters Council, told the conference that hundreds of carpenters and other skilled workmen in Washington are unemployed because out-of-town contractors are bringing labor from their home cities. Most of the money earned by these workmen is sent home and an extremely small percentage is spent in the District, Mr. Hardison said.

Robert Reichard, business representative of the Carpenters Council, presented a statement showing that three out of six out-of-town contractors who are constructing local schools do not pay the standard wage rate for the District, and a fourth, who is about to begin a school building, is understood to be opposed to the local wage scale. Five local contractors building schools pay the standard wage, Mr. Reichard said.

R. H. Burdette, also a business agent for the council, revealed that 30 per cent of the 3,500 carpenters in the council are unemployed and that between 300 and 400 have not had a week's straight work in the last year. He estimated that 2,700 carpenters are brought here from out of town.

Harry King, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Thomas P. Littlepage, vice president, spoke sympathetically on behalf of the carpenters and other local labor and advised the council representatives that the only medium through which anything could be accomplished in their favor is through the press. Claude W. Owen spoke on behalf of the Board of Trade.

American Legion Plans To Award Scholarships

Announcement that the American Legion, District of Columbia department, has four scholarships ready to award to veterans or the children of veterans, was made yesterday by Clyde B. Stovall, chairman of the World War scholarship committee of the legion.

One of the scholarships just donated to the legion is for Emerson Institute, while the other three are at Benjamin Franklin University. Free tuition is provided under the scholarships and books are being furnished by the legion. In the case of the Benjamin Franklin scholarship, the placement service of that school will be at the disposal of the veteran when he has finished the course.

Model Aircraft Tests End Today

Reichelderfer to Award Trophies to Winners at Luncheon.

Final events in the District of Columbia Model Aircraft Tournament will be held this morning at Macfarland Junior High School. Following completion of the flights the District of Columbia Model Aircraft League will hold its annual luncheon when Commissioner Luther A. Reichelderfer will present trophies to the tournament winners.

In addition to Commissioner Reichelderfer, Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chairman of the Public Utilities Commission and chairman of the board of directors of the Model Aircraft League, will speak.

Other guests and officials will include Paul Edward Garber, curator of the aeronautical collection of the Smithsonian Institution; Miss Sybil Baker, supervisor of playgrounds; Mrs. Elizabeth K. Peeples, director of the Community Center, and Lieut. Robert K. Giovannoli, of the United States Army Air Corps, who served as judge and timer during the outdoor events at Bolling Field.

Jury Disagrees In Weapon Case

Man Asserts Admission of Owning Revolver Was Forced.

A jury in Police Court yesterday was unable to reach a decision in the case of Fred Gonzales, colored, who was charged with possession of a revolver. The man claimed two patrolmen of the Second Precinct beat him to force an admission that a weapon found near him was his.

Gonzales was arrested by Policeman Earl Baker, of the Second Precinct, when a group attacked the policeman at Eighth street and Florida avenue northwest, several nights ago. Baker managed to seize and hold Gonzales while the others escaped. He charged the man with carrying a concealed weapon and Gonzales claimed that the weapon did not belong to him and that he had been forced to admit its ownership only after he had been beaten.

Judge Schuldt dismissed the jury and set September 16 as date for a new trial.

1,100 Zone Chevrolet Dealers Stage Rally

A luncheon and rally was held yesterday at the Mayflower Hotel by more than 1,100 Chevrolet dealers from the Richmond and Baltimore zones. Plans for fall distribution were introduced by sound picture projection equipment.

Among prominent participants in the meeting were W. M. Packer, of Buffalo, N. Y., regional manager; J. L. Murphy and L. M. Cary, respective managers of the Baltimore and Richmond zones; R. S. Abbot, of the main factory office at Detroit, Mich.; George C. Schroyer, sales promotion manager of the Baltimore zone, and S. H. Shank, assistant sales manager of the Baltimore zone.

Safe-Crackers Get Loot Worth $2,300

Losses Reported by Two Concerns as Third Firm Escapes.

Detective squads last night were combing the city for a band of professional safe crackers who blew open two safes early yesterday and made off with approximately $2,300 worth of loot. An attempt was also made to blow a third safe, but this proved unsuccessful.

About $1,360 in money and jewelry was taken from the safe of the Whistle Bottling Works at 1990 Bladensburg road northeast. Entry was gained with a duplicate key and the huge safe was blown open with nitroglycerine.

The dental laboratory of Davidson & Weinberg, at 1306 H street northwest, was also entered and the burglars made off with about $900 worth of dental gold and platinum. The third attempt was made at the plant of the Eagle Electric Supply Co., at 925 New York avenue northwest, but the men were not successful in getting the safe open.

Boy's Leap From Car Ends in Two Charges

Roland Witson, 19, colored, of Oregon avenue near Eighteenth street northwest, was arrested yesterday after he tried to escape from an allegedly stolen automobile he was driving.

Patrolman E. C. Darby, of the Seventh Precinct arrested Witson after he leaped from the car which later struck an automobile owned by Charles Tuft, of 4955 Wisconsin avenue, which was parked in front of 3334 Wisconsin avenue. Witson was charged with unauthorized use of an automobile and driving without a permit.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

THAT GLORIOUS FEELING.

I.

A SUDDEN-FOUND happiness fills me; O, say!
I'm feeling as gay as a fool;
My two weeks' vacations is ending today—
And soon I'll be home where it's cool—
Hip hooray!

II.

I'm playful and spry as a young lion cub—
The end of my outing is near.
And soon I can bathe in my personal tub
In water untainted and clear—
Three cheers!
In water untainted and clear!

III.

A sense of relief fills my blistering dome—
Tomorrow my freedom will cease,
And I can get back, thank the stars, to my home
Where there's an occasional breeze—
Hip hooray!

IV.

My joy knows no limit, quite full is my cup,
I rarely have known such a mood;
The reason is this: My vacation is up.
And I can get home where there's food.
Three loud cheers!

V.

I'M reaching quite anxiously now for my hat—
Quite soon is my vacation done,
And then I'll get back to my own little flat
Where nobody boils in the sun—
Think o' that!

VI.

Delighted! Say, nobody knows what it means—
My stay at the seaside is o'er,
And I can go home where the windows have screens,
The same being true of each door—
Hip hooray!
The same being true of each door!

VII.

Such anticipation is novel to me,
With joy at the prospect I scream:
Tomorrow means home, where I know there won't be
Red ants in my berries and cream—
Hot dawg!
Red ants in my berries and cream!

VIII.

I love a vacation, as ev'ry one does,
Far from the office and shops;
I love a vacation intensely becuz
It feels so darned good when it stops!

POLICE BULLETS HIT FLEEING AUTO; PAIR TAKEN AFTER CHASE

Patrolman Save His Life by Leap as Traffic Stand Is Struck.

DRIVER ABANDONS CAR; ESCAPES HOT PURSUIT

Ignoring of Red Signal Starts Dizzy Flight in Northwest.

A two-mile chase through the Northwest section during which several shots were fired and a policeman was nearly run down, ended last night in the arrest of two colored men at Georgia avenue and Howard place. About 2 000 persons witnessed the arrest.

Patrolman G. V. Moore was forced to leap to safety as the machine bore down upon him and knocked down his traffic stand at Seventh street and Florida avenue. Two of the shots fired hit the gas tank and a rear tire of the fleeing car.

Red Light Ignored.

Traffic Policemen J. O. Hite and Craig L. Smith started the chase after the machine passed a red light at New York avenue and New Jersey avenue. The chase led to Second street, to H street, to Third street, to New York avenue, to First street, to Florida avenue, to Seventh street.

After knocking Moore's stand down, the men sped north on Georgia avenue to Howard place. Toward the end of the chase, Hite and Smith opened fire on the car. Moore commandeered an automobile and gave chase.

Driver Makes Escape.

When the car was abandoned on Howard place, the driver escaped. Moore arrested his two companions. They are being held for investigation at the Second Precinct station. They are: Warner Lewis, colored, 27 years old, of 3017½ Sherman avenue northwest, and Judd Argusta, colored, 25 years old, who gave his address as 907 Columbia road northwest.

Family Treks 300 Miles To Seek Shelter Here

In an abandoned building in Cottage City, Md., Mary and Lewis Downey and their five children have at last found sanctuary after a 300-mile trek during which their infant son, Henry, died.

Until the first of June the Downey family had passed all of their lives in Clifton Forge Va., where Downey made his living as a scissors grinder.

Upon their arrival in Cottage City a kind-hearted woman suggested that they take possession of the old building formally occupied by the American Children's Aid Society. The weary family thankfully accepted the offer, and immediately set about making a home.

Burglars Beat Man, Take Ring and Radio

Clarence E. Mathis, 54 years old, a retired sergeant major of the Marine Corps, and a holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor, was beaten while asleep last night in his home by burglars, who removed a ring valued at $50 from his finger.

The robbers entered Mathis' home at 701 D street southeast and wielded a hammer to render him unconscious. They removed a radio set valued at $100.

Alexandrians to Join Parade.

Alexandria firemen will participate in the Labor Day parade of the District of Columbia Fire Department Monday. The Firemen and Citizens Band will leave the city at 9 a. m. from the Royal street entrance of the City Hall, while the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps will leave the armory at the same hour. The Alexandria delegation will assemble with other Virginia firemen at Indiana avenue facing First street northwest.

204 HOUSES RAZED, 1,225 PEOPLE MOVE

Insanitary Condemnations in Year Total 504, Is Board Report.

A total of 1,225 residents of the District were required to find new living quarters in the last fiscal year because of the razing of 204 buildings under orders of the Board for the Condemnation of Insanitary Buildings.

Report of this board, submitted yesterday to the District Commissioners, reveals that 504 buildings were condemned last year out of 789 examined. Of this number 166 were repaired, while 210 cases are still pending. The estimated value of improvements made amounted to $78,000.

Estimated number of occupants of dilapidated or insanitary buildings benefited by repairs ordered by the board was 996, the report stated. Since creation of the board, 21,022 buildings have been examined and 4,219 have been razed.

The report urges passage of an amendment to the congressional act which created the board so that the District Government will not have to pay for razing of condemned buildings when owners refuse to do so. Recent decisions of the courts have made this necessary.

The board is headed by Maj. D. A. Davison, assistant engineer commissioners. Members are Dr. W. C. Fowler, health officer, and John W. Oehmann, inspector of buildings.

Board Announces Labor Day Judges

28 Are Named to Choose Best Units in Parade of Firemen.

Judges who will select the best units, floats and costumes in the Labor Day firemen's parade were announced yesterday by the Board of Trade, sponsor of the event this year.

They are Dr. Frank E. Gibson, chairman; Z. D. Blackistone, Harry Dean, O. E. Fern, R. M. Ham, J. F. Kehoe, Dr. A. M. MacDonald, B. J. O'Connor, Edward S. Pardoe, W. E. Reed, George Shaffer and David J. Walsh.

They will be assisted by Herbert Burkhart, George E. Diffenbach, Bernard F. Dove, Lieut. H. S. Fish, Maj. F. E. Gibson, M. Gignilliat, Harry R. Helwig, Sergt. Rhoda Milliken, Battalion Chief Thomas O'Connor, Rufus Pearson, W. B. Robinson, Fred Smith, J. H. Smith, Louis P. Stumph, Capt. Thomas D. Walsh and John Webster.

REPORT ANALYZES GAS ADJUSTMENTS SINCE JANUARY 22

Only Small Number Were in Line With Survey Following Investigation.

CALLS MADE CHIEFLY AS PART OF SERVICE

Payments by Washington Firm Given Approval of Utilities Board.

The Washington Gas Light Co. yesterday submitted to the Public Utilities Commission an analysis of adjustments of gas appliances made since January 22, in compliance with a request of the utilities body.

While a total of 91,633 adjustments have been made, only a small portion of these were done in connection with a survey which has been conducted since an investigation last winter. The report, prepared by Bert H. Peck, special assistant to the president, analyzes the adjustments made from March 7 to August 31, as follows:

Adjustments as a result of the survey, 12,810; on complaints and service calls, 33,740; on installing new appliances, 17,344, and others, chiefly at time of water checks, 10,308. This brings a total of 74,308. The report adds that 17,325 adjustments were made from January 22 to March 7, but it does not classify these inspections.

Adjustments in Three Months.

Taking up the adjustments during the past three months, which brought about the request for a classification, the report states that only 1,322 of the 30,837 adjustments were made as a part of the survey. The remainder were classified as follows: Complaints and service calls, 15,785; new installations, 8,866, and others, 4,864.

Approval was given yesterday by the commission to three proposed payments by the Washington Gas Light Co. to the Central Public Service Corporation, of Chicago, and its subsidiaries. Frank A. Woodhead, vice president, earlier in the day submitted detailed statements as to the accounts due.

The largest item was $56,427.80 for natural gas purchased from the Public Service Engineering Corporation, a subsidiary of Central Public Service, during July. The gas company, which earlier in the week announced that Central Service had relinquished its management of the local companies and that a service charge of 4 cents a 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas would be dropped, yesterday made this new agreement date back to July 1 instead of August 1.

Question Service Charge.

The commission is understood to have told the gas company officials that this service charge, which amounted to $2,400 for the month, would have to be cut off the July bill before it would be approved.

The other items, considered legitimate expenses, were $697.69 for 10 cars of coal bought from the Central Fuel Corporation and $1,040.55 for stationery and supplies purchased from the Central Public Service Corporation.

No action was taken by the commission on an account of more than $8,000 paid by the Washington concern for expert work done recently by employes of the Central Public Service Corporation. While the item was not questioned, the utilities body reserved this privilege.

Notices Mailed Out.

Several of the accounts already paid may be disapproved when the gas company asks permission to charge them to operating expenses.

The commission declined to rescind its order barring payments by the Washington company to the Chicago utility, despite the fact that Central Public Service has relinquished management.

Formal notices of the plan to make the ownership hearing follow immediately upon conclusion of the pressure hearing, which is scheduled for September 14, were mailed out by the commission yesterday.

50 Cents a Bushel On Peaches Sought

Offer Made in an Effort to Prevent Full Waste of West Virginia Crop.

Elberta peaches, choice fruit of the West Virginia crop, may be offered this week on Washington markets for 50 cents a bushel.

Plans for trucking nearly 25,000 bushels of the prime fruit to Washington today, or next Tuesday, were announced last night by the West Virginia Horticulture Society.

The offer grows out of an effort to prevent absolute waste of the peaches and to get them to consumers at a price which will leave them 10 cents a bushel to cover costs of production.

Acting through Horticultural Society channels, and with the assistance of State representatives in Washington, growers last night were completing plans for the ambitious effort to bridge the gap between producer and consumer.

Gasoline-Saturated Steel Wool Burns Man

Steel wool, saturated with gasoline, which was being used for cleaning floors by Thomas M. Davis, of 421 Concord avenue northwest, burst into flames last night when the wool struck a floor lamp socket and short circuited the current.

Davis was slightly burned on the right hand. He refused treatment.

Bus Crashes Into Fire Box.

A Washington Rapid Transit Co. bus crashed into a fire box last night at Twelfth and Q streets northwest. No one was injured. Howard Sears, of 3004 Yost place northeast, the driver, said the bus skidded on the pavement.
